Senate Strips Justice Courts’ Power

By BILL DUNGAN

With one vote to spare, the Senate passed a bill Wednesday that would strip the power of the 31 judges in the powerful state’s district courts.

The measure, authored by Sen. Anthony Manwel of Puebla, is a attempt to limit the judiciary’s autonomy by allowing the governor to appoint judges to the bench.

The bill was approved by a 35-25 vote, with 25 votes needed to pass.

Although not grappling specifically on the measure passed by the Senate, Gov. Don Redmond said it should be reviewed by the Joint Legislative Committee.

The bill would allow for a review of judges’ decisions and could potentially result in the removal of judges deemed unsuitable.

Ancestor Tracing Tips Given

By FIONA DELMONT

Ancestors Revealed:

The family history is a document of the past and, as such, is filled with stories of failures as well as successes. And while we are all familiar with the families who rose to prominence and became household names, it is often the families who face adversity and overcome it that are the most inspiring. These stories can be found in the archives of genealogical societies, local libraries, and even in the memories of your own family members.

The best place to start with researching your family history is by asking questions. Talk to your parents, grandparents, aunts, and uncles about their childhoods and the stories they remember. This can provide valuable insights into your family's past.

In addition to family interviews, there are a variety of resources available online that can help you trace your family tree. Genealogy websites such as Ancestry.com and FamilySearch.org offer access to a vast database of records, including birth, death, and marriage certificates, census records, and military records.

Another helpful tool is the use of DNA testing. DNA testing can help you connect with distant relatives who share your ancestry. Many genealogy websites offer DNA testing services, and there are also independent companies that specialize in this type of testing.

Remember, the goal of family history research is to uncover the stories of your ancestors and use them to inspire you in your own life. It is a journey that can lead to unexpected discoveries and a deeper understanding of your family's history.

Need Seen For Water Pollution Commission

There is no water pollution commission. There is a Water Pollution Control Board, which is an executive agency of the state to develop, maintain, and recommend standards for the state, along with other duties to prevent, control, reduce, and eliminate water pollution. This agency oversees permits, and issues guidelines to prevent contamination. The goal of the agency is to protect and improve water quality for health and human use, and safeguard aquatic life. They coordinate with municipalities, industries, and other entities to achieve their goals.

High Interest ‘Disastrous’ To Farm Income

Rising interest rates can be disastrous to farmers. The high cost can lead to an inability to pay for necessary expenses such as feed, fuel, labor, and equipment. This can cause a decrease in profitability and negatively impact successful farming. Interest rate increases can also affect the ability to obtain loans, and can cause smaller farms to struggle financially. Additionally, it can cause consumers to pay more for food due to increased costs. This can lead to food insecurity and other social and economic issues.
