Indian Powwow Sought

A while ago an Arizona powwow was so much fun. The Indians gathered around a big circle and played drums, sang songs, and did traditional dances. It was a wonderful experience. I wish we could have one here in Oklahoma soon.

TWEEDS, TWEEDS, TWEEDS...
Our battle for men's stomachs.

Five world famous chefs are culled in a glorious cause in behalf of Braniff passengers everywhere.

They have declared unlimited War on Sappy Stew.
Also on Oatmeal Milk, and cold hors d'oeuvres. (These are a few of the problems that have plagued airline chefs for years.)

Months ago we put their pots and pans to the ultimate test.
"Prepare airline food," we said, "that will taste as good as the food you serve in your own established restaurants."

Not being airline chefs, they didn't know that it couldn't be done.
So of course, they did.

LaRusso Cooks Cooke's Goose

By BILL DEPAUL

The Oklahoma's sports editor moved to its second state in as many years last week, leaving the Sooners' home with a score and a half.

By the end of the first quarter, the Sooners had already scored a touchdown and a field goal to take a 10-0 lead. Cooke, on the other hand, was held scoreless.

But LaRusso, who had just returned from his brief away trip, was visibly relieved. "It feels good to be back," he said. "I'm ready to get back to work."

CANDIDLY SPEAKING

The new book about the obstacles and triumphs of the women's movement is entitled "The Women's Movement: A Candied History" by Susan B. Anthony.

PUNCH AND PRAISE

Reader Expresses Opinion

Dear Editor:

In reaction to your recent articles on the women's movement, I would like to share my thoughts on the subject.

Supporters of the movement argue that women are being denied equal opportunities due to gender bias.
However, I believe that the movement is simply an attempt to gain power and control over society.

Dear Society:

I have been following the debate on women's rights with great interest. While I support the idea of equality, I also believe that it is important to consider the impact of these changes on men.

BOO'S WHO CONTEST

By REX CULLEN

BOO'S WHO CONTEST is an annual event that takes place on October 31st, where participants must guess the identity of a mysterious character known as the Boo. The contest is usually held in the United States, but participants from around the world can participate. The contest is known for its creativity and humor, with participants submitting clever and imaginative guesses. The winner is announced on November 1st, and the contest is a fun way to celebrate the Halloween holiday.

MODERN PATTERNS

By STEVE ELLIS

SONY'S PHYSICALLY MODIFIED ELECTRONIC PATTERNS is a project that explores the potential of electronically controlled patterns. The project aims to create a new form of art that combines the precision of electronic control with the organic feel of traditional patterns. The project involves the use of microprocessors and other electronic components to generate patterns that can be controlled and altered in real-time. The project is a collaboration between Sony and a group of artists and designers, and it is intended to showcase the potential of technology in the arts.

Spacemen: Accidents/Land vs. Air

By GORDON COOPER

Spacemen: Accidents/Land vs. Air is a book written by Gordon Cooper, a former astronaut and test pilot. The book provides a firsthand account of the events that occurred during the Spacemen mission, which was a test mission for NASA's Manned Orbital Laboratory. The book covers the preparation for the mission, the launch, the events that occurred in space, and the return to Earth. The book is a fascinating read for anyone interested in space exploration and the history of NASA.

Bonus Feature for Young Adults

Mile High News Reporter Walter White interviewed Sen. Richard Peppin in Oklahoma City last week. Below is the transcript and some quirks of legislative politics at the Oklahoma statehouse.

Walter: "Sen. Peppin, we've heard your name is "Richard Peppin." Is this correct?"

Richard: "Yes, sir. But most people call me "Peppin.""

Walter: "Well, Sen. Peppin, what are your views on the current budget crisis?"

Richard: "Well, Walter, let's just say that our state is facing some tough times. But we have to make some hard decisions in order to balance the budget."

Walter: "And what about the recent controversy over the state highway system?"

Richard: "Well, let's just say that our state highways are in dire need of repair. But we need to prioritize our spending and make sure we're getting the most bang for our buck."

Walter: "What about your views on education?"

Richard: "Well, education is key to our future. We need to invest in our schools and make sure our children have the tools they need to succeed."

Walter: "And what about the ongoing debate over the minimum wage?"

Richard: "Well, I believe in the free market and letting businesses decide what they can pay their workers. But at the same time, we need to make sure our workers are being fairly compensated."

Walter: "Finally, what about your views on Congress?"

Richard: "Well, Congress is a mess. But let's just say that we need to work together and compromise to get things done."

Walter: "Thank you, Sen. Peppin. That's all we have time for today."

Richard: "Not at all, Walter. It was my pleasure."

Walter: "Thank you, Sen. Peppin. Good day."

Richard: "Good day, Walter."
