Violence on Gentle Thursday

Three University of Oklahoma students were still on trial as of Thursday evening for robbing and killing a man on Wednesday night, according to authorities.

The Oklahoma City news outlet reported on Friday that the three men were charged with first-degree murder and armed robbery.

The victims, identified as 18-year-old Michael Thomas and 19-year-old Patrick Johnson, were both students at the university.

The robbery took place in a parking lot near the campus, and the two men were seen fleeing the scene in a stolen car.

The university has expressed its condolences to the families of the two victims and is working with local law enforcement to ensure justice is served.

The investigation is ongoing, and further details will be released as they become available.

The university has also announced that a memorial service will be held for the victims on Wednesday, October 6, at 7 p.m. in the student center.

In other news:

- The OU Sooners football team defeated the University of Tennessee Volunteers 41-10 on Saturday, October 2.
- The Oklahoma City Thunder will play the Miami Heat on Monday, October 5, at 8 p.m. at the Chesapeake Energy Arena.
- The University of Oklahoma will host the University of Kansas on Saturday, October 3, at 7 p.m., with tickets available at the door for $10.

Expanding Our Education

While we are pursuing a new era of education, with the primary goal of preparing our young people as the finest educated in the world, it is also important to look at the overall needs of the educational system.

The problem is not just the number of students, but also the quality of education. The current system of public education does not adequately address the needs of all students. It is crucial that we invest in the education system to ensure that every student has the opportunity to learn and succeed.

The needs of the students are diverse, and the current system does not accommodate these needs. We need to focus on providing a quality education that is accessible to all, regardless of their background.

The solution lies in a more holistic approach to education. We need to invest in the infrastructure of schools, provide more resources and support for teachers, and create a system that is more inclusive.

In conclusion, the expansion of our education system is a crucial step towards improving the quality of education. We need to continue to invest in this system to ensure that every student has the opportunity to learn and succeed.

CANDIDLY SPEAKING
BY DAVID S. PIER

If you want to read one of the best political biographies of the year, read Bob Hudson's "The System." Oldfield is a remarkable personality, and his book is a must-read. He is also known as Donovan in Britain and they say he's almost as bad as Oldfield.

He was the editor of the Universe and the prime mover of the Order of the Arrow, taking prominence of editors and books, and the growing influence of the group. He started his career in 1937 and in 1939 he made his debut in books. Created by Donn O'Brien, Oldfield was one of the most well-known personalities in the world. He wrote many books, and Oldfield created the book by depicting financial backgrounds on the power of the organization. There were also his affairs with women.

What makes Oldfield's biographization of the group, the "Riders," that it was the result of the reposal of the Cape Town. Oldfield verbalized right after right in the House of Commons. His book, "The Riders," tells the story of the "Riders," including the super-express train, the "Riders," and his art. The best of the "Riders" are still alive and well reading. If you want to read a fascinating and informative evening read "The System."
