New Miss Oklahoma City Happy With Troubles

Future Miss America?

By CLARK MAYER

The new Miss Oklahoma City was happy about her appointment, but she said, "I'm not a future Miss America."

She explained that it's a good experience for her to be selected, but she's not interested in a future career in pageantry. "I'm not a future Miss America, but I am a future Miss Oklahoma City," she said, smiling.

"I'm not the one who's going to be Miss America," she added. "But I'm happy to represent Oklahoma City and I'm grateful for the opportunity to serve in this role."

Doctors Blast House-Approved Abortion Bill

Loren Israelsen, president of the New Mexico pro-life group, and other leaders said the move would not only prevent the passage of a ban on the virtual elimination of a baby's life, but also bring about a repeal of the ban on other anti-abortion measures. The ban was most prominent in the north area of the state, where it is believed to have had the most significant impact.

“This is an amazing revelation to protect and defend the unborn child," Israelsen said. "The ban on all anti-abortion measures was a step in the wrong direction. We want to reverse that decision and abolish all restrictions on the use of abortion measures."
