NINE INCHES were reported as the heaviest rain record for May of Oklahoma  in the Oklahoma County section, the Weather Bureau reported Wednesday. While it was not as heavy as the 10 inches at Ada, it did cause much damage in the area and called for extreme caution when handling flood waters and wind-propped debris.

The heaviest rain was reported at El Reno, where a total of 10 inches fell in a 24-hour period. Indianola and Weatherford also reported heavy rains, with 9 inches reported at each location. Other areas in the county reported 6 to 8 inches of rain, but none exceeded the 10 inches at Ada.

The rain caused flash floods in many areas, including the Oklahoma River near downtown Oklahoma City. The river rose more than 10 feet in one day, causing widespread flooding and closing several roads.

In other parts of the state, the rain caused flooding and mudslides in the eastern part of the state. The weather bureau warned residents in these areas to be prepared for flash floods and to stay alert to changing conditions.

According to the bureau, the heavy rain was caused by a weather system moving across the region. The system is expected to continue into the evening, with more rain expected in some areas.

The bureau also warned residents to be cautious when handling flood waters, as there may be hidden hazards such as downed power lines or gas leaks.

The high waters and mudslides in the eastern part of the state are expected to cause some road closures and closures of schools and businesses.

Rescue operations were ongoing in some areas, with several people reported missing and others trapped in their homes.

The Oklahoma State Emergency Management Agency activated its emergency response plan, and the National Guard was called in to assist with rescue efforts.

The rain is expected to continue into the evening, with some areas expected to receive up to 2 inches of rain.

BY JOE CARTER

The legislatively mandated redrawing of the state's congressional district lines has been completed, and the new maps were released Monday by the state's redistricting commission.

The new maps, which will be used for the 2022 election cycle, were released Monday by the commission. The new maps are expected to be approved by the state's legislature in the next few weeks.

The maps were drawn to comply with the state's redistricting requirements, which include ensuring that each district is compact and contiguous, and that they are drawn in a way that reflects the state's demographics.

The new maps are expected to be implemented in time for the 2022 election cycle. The state's election board has already begun planning for the new maps, including updating voter registration systems and preparing for the November election.

The new maps are expected to provide more competitive districts, with fewer safe seats for either the Republican or Democratic party, and could help ensure fair representation for all residents.

Moon Due To Eclipse

By Captain H. A. WANGST, Editor, Director

Eclipse and other natural phenomena are always interesting, but this one is going to be especially interesting to Oklahomans and others who have never seen one. At 7:28 p.m. Central Standard Time, our state will experience the first total solar eclipse in Oklahoma since 1923. The path of totality will pass through the northeastern part of the state, and the eclipse will last for approximately four minutes. The moon will cover about 97% of the sun's disk, leaving a thin crescent of light visible. This eclipse will be visible to millions of people across the United States, including residents of Oklahoma. The sky will be dark, and the stars and planets will be visible during the eclipse. The eclipse will also be visible from Mexico, Central America, and parts of the Caribbean Sea. The total solar eclipse will provide an opportunity to study the sun's corona, the outer atmosphere, and to observe the effect of the eclipse on the Earth's atmosphere. Oklahoma is one of the best places to view the eclipse, as the path of totality passes through the state. The eclipse will be a unique natural event, and it's a great opportunity to enjoy a celestial phenomenon with family and friends.
