Convention Center Is Issue
Change In Renewal Law Could Hit City

By HUGH MORGAN

A drive to expand an assessment in urban renewal law is being mounted in Oklahoma City to make space available to the Oklahoma City Convention Center, Inc. (OCC). By a margin of three to one, a group of city officials and community leaders have endorsed the OCC's proposal to increase the assessment area. The proposal is expected to have a significant impact on the OCC's ability to finance future expansions and renovations.

OCC officials have estimated that an expansion of the assessment area could generate an additional $10 million in annual revenue, which would be used to fund construction of a new convention center. The proposed expansion would include new meeting rooms, a larger hotel, and a new convention hall.

The proposal has received support from local business leaders, who argue that the expansion is necessary to keep up with the rapid growth of the city's tourism industry. However, some residents have expressed concern about the impact of the expansion on local property values.

Probers Demand Pair’s Tax Papers

By BILL DUNCAN

The state investigating agency is asking the Oklahoma State Tax Commission to subpoena the tax records of a pair of Oklahoma City merchants who are accused of tax evasion.

The merchants, Robert and Betty Taylor, are owners of a chain of drugstores in Oklahoma City. The Tax Commission has been investigating the pair for several months, and has alleged that they have been under-reporting their sales and failing to pay taxes on those sales.

The merchants have denied the allegations, and have said that they have been cooperating fully with the Tax Commission. However, the state investigating agency has asked the Tax Commission to turn over the merchants' tax records, in order to conduct a more thorough investigation.

Minor Floods Inundate City

Every rain which may not be serious in itself, when it lengthens, becomes a serious problem. This is the case in Oklahoma City, where a recent storm left many streets flooded. The general rain throughout Oklahoma was brought to a full by the heavy rain which fell on Thursday. (UPI Telegraph)

Testimony Starts In Gaddis Trial

PARKS AND RECREATION

Little was heard in the courtroom Thursday afternoon, when the first witness in the murder trial of John W. Gaddis took the stand. The witness, a former police officer, testified that he had been called to the scene of the crime and had found the victim, a 24-year-old woman, lying dead in a nearby park.

The District Attorney said that the witness was a key figure in the investigation. He had provided critical evidence that led to the arrest of Gaddis. The witness's testimony was expected to be crucial in the trial, as it was the first time the public had heard from a witness who had seen the crime scene.

Surveyor 3

Lands Safely

PARKS AND RECREATION

Surveyor 3, America's first roll-off space satellite, was launched on the morning of September 12th and then destroyed to save its electronic systems that threatened the life of the satellite. The destruction of the satellite was a major event in the history of space exploration, and it was hailed as a success by the space community.

The satellite was launched from the Kennedy Space Center in Florida, and it successfully completed its mission. However, the satellite's electronic systems were threatened by a high-mass electronic component that was causing the satellite to lose control.

The decision to destroy the satellite was made after extensive analysis of the situation, and it was seen as the only option to save the satellite's electronic systems. The destruction of the satellite was a major event in the history of space exploration, and it was hailed as a success by the space community.

Bartlett Mum On Abortion Bill

By JIM CARDELL

Bartlett, Minn. - Governor Daniel J. Bartlett, who is expected to sign the new abortion bill, denied yesterday that he would veto the measure. "I have not made any decision yet," the governor said. "I will wait until I have read the bill carefully." The bill, which was passed by the legislature last week, would allow abortions in cases of rape, incest, or to save the life of the mother. The governor's statement was met with anger by opponents of the bill, who say it is too lenient.

Chisholm Trail Cattle Bill Blankenship Rules Against Land Sale

Senate OKs House Passed Bill

Wednesday, April 26, 1967

We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect Union, establish justice, ensure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.

The Congress shall have the power to lay and collect taxes, duties, imposts, and excises, to pay the debts and provide for the common defense and general welfare of the United States; but all duties, imposts, and excises shall be uniform throughout the United States.

City Life

They say, "The best way to live is to be happy, but the best way to live is to be happy." This quote is a reminder to find joy in life's little moments, and it applies to everyone. Whether it's a sunny day, a good book, or a simple walk in the park, the key is to find happiness in the simple things.
