Not Enough Time For Jim

There just wasn't enough time for Jim Mathews.

When the time came to vote on the city bond issue, Mr. Mathews wasnt available. So he cast his vote by proxy, and the bond issue passed.

But now, some people are saying that Mr. Mathews should have had more time to consider the bond issue. They say that he was rushed into making his decision.

Two Sides To The Coin

According to University of Denver professor Daniel McManus, the bond issue was a controversial one.

Prof. McManus explained that the bond issue was a balance between what the city needed and what the voters wanted.

He went on to say, "The city needed the money for infrastructure improvements, but the voters were concerned about the cost.

Most people have failed to get the full picture. They only see the negative aspects of the bond issue."

Committee Chairman Optimistic

Builders Enter 27 Homes

WESLEY CHAMBERS, chairman of the Southwest Showcase of Homes sponsored by the Southwest Home Builders Association, is optimistic over this year's event, which will feature 27 new homes.

"This year's Showcase will probably be one of the biggest we've had. There is keen interest right now. The tight money situation is over. Because of the fact that homebuyers weren't moving during the tight money period, we expect to have a good market right now. Everybody's out working on garages and yards. It's the first time of year when everybody is in the mood for a new home."

Chapters, second vice-president of the Southwest Home Builders, pointed out that his group of builders had included a moderate price range in the Showcase, which is expected to attract a wide variety of homebuyers. The full coverage fee, $1,695, is up class rates.

BUY a '67 Gibson today and forget it till....1977!

(That's when Gibson's ten-year warranty ends! Now wouldn't you say that any company that has the confidence to guarantee anything for TEN YEARS must build a great product?)

Gibson isn't worried about breakdowns. They've been in the business since 1927 and they rarely have a service call. Now they've decided their warranty is ten years on their new '67 Chef models—that's double the guarantee time most other companies in this country give you on a refrigerator. Besides ten years protection you can enjoy the lowest operating cost of any refrigerator of this type.

Now does a Gibson initially cost less than the other big-name equipment, and must be run in and is worth five or six years, doesn't it? Second: Why does a refrigerator or freezer cost so much, or why don't you buy anything else, you'll be out in the cold...

French Mediterranean
Serving Oklahoma Since 1899

E.S. Billington Lumber Co. began its life in the town of Earliboro, Oklahoma in 1899 as Billington Brothers Lumber Co. The brothers were E.S. Billington and C.B. Billington. In 1908 the partnership was dissolved and the two brothers operated separate businesses thereafter.

In 1907 E.S. Billington opened a lumber yard in Seminole, Oklahoma and moved his offices to that town. In 1918 E.S. Billington moved to Oklahoma City and shortly thereafter purchased a lumber yard at 2220 South Robinson.

In 1926 he incorporated the company and during the same year bought a lumber yard at 1917 Exchange Avenue in Oklahoma City. In 1939 a new lumber yard was added in Oklahoma City at 1418 NE 23rd.

In October of 1958 a fire destroyed the lumber yard on South Robinson and the company purchased the land on 27th street in Moore, Oklahoma and built its modern installation in 1960. Also in 1958 the company installed a large wholesale lumber yard at 308 N. Rhode Island.

In 1956 the company installed a Miami Stone plant also at 308 N. Rhode Island and has since begun manufacturing brick as well as Miami Stone. Miami Stone was developed by George Meyer of Miami, Oklahoma and is now being manufactured all over the United States.

The Billington Lumber Co. was among the first lumber companies to enter into the manufacturing of roofing trusses in about 1955. This work was all done by hand originally, but is now an important part of the company's business using modern mechanically powered trusses, press, and fork lifts in a large plant also at 308 N. Rhode Island.

Besides operating the above described facilities the company also is active in the land development business and housing construction. Southgate in Moore is an example of the magnitude of these operations.
