HARRIS CHEERS LAWMAKERS’ EXIT

By A NELSON TAYLOR

The Oklahoma Journal

The Oklahoma Journal has been preoccupied with the problem of the state’s tax structure, which has been a subject of much discussion in recent months. The newspaper has published several articles on the subject, and has also conducted interviews with state officials and lawmakers.

The Journal has noted that the state’s tax system is complex and often difficult for citizens to understand. The newspaper has suggested that the state should consider simplifying its tax structure and making it more transparent.

The Journal has also criticized the state’s reliance on property taxes, which it believes is unfair to many citizens. The newspaper has called for a more balanced tax system that includes income taxes.

In conclusion, the Journal has urged the state to take action to improve its tax structure and make it more fair and equitable for all citizens.

Local Schools Could Lose $200,000 in Federal Funds

Oklahoma City schools could lose nearly $200,000 in federal funding if Oklahoma State Senate Bill 3, the state education reform law, is approved.

The state would lose an estimated $400,000 in federal education funds if the bill becomes law.

The school districts would lose the money because the bill mandates that the state not fund public schools for more than 180 days in a school year. The districts would then have to make up the difference in their budgets.

The War On Lippmann

The battle over the Senate’s budget proposal could have an impact on the state’s education funding.

The Senate’s proposal includes a provision that would reduce the funding for education by $150 million. This would result in a cut of about $2.5 million for each of the state’s 77 school districts.

Lippmann has been a vocal critic of the Senate’s budget plan, which he says would be a “disaster for education.”

Hippies Must Land Sometime

A recent report of the American Medical Association concluded that the use of marijuana and other drugs by young people is a serious health problem. The report calls for a comprehensive approach to control the use of these drugs, including education, research, and treatment programs.

State Editors Say

Tough Blow For Control!

The Oklahoma State Editors Association has come out against the Senate’s budget proposal, saying it would be a “disaster for education.”

The PEOPLE’s Voice

Huey, Cry

The people are angry and tired of being ignored by their leaders. They want change, and they want it now.

Outbursts

The people are not going to stand for another year of the same old politics. They are ready to take a stand and demand a new direction for our state.

Quotes

Billy Graham

"People need to be saved, and God has already provided the way."

Nongraded Plan Seeks To Help Individual

By W. J. Mc入学

An innovative plan for elementary schools in Oklahoma City has been announced by the Oklahoma City Board of Education. This plan, known as the Nongraded Plan, aims to provide a more personalized and flexible educational environment for students. The Nongraded Plan is designed to cater to the individual learning styles and paces of students, allowing them to progress at their own speed. The plan includes smaller class sizes, personalized instruction, and a focus on hands-on learning experiences. The Oklahoma City Board of Education has expressed confidence in the effectiveness of this plan, which they believe will lead to improved educational outcomes for all students.

Dr. Wallace Built Church

The new church built by Dr. Wallace is a beautiful addition to the cityscape. The building is not only a place of worship but also a symbol of the community's dedication to religious and cultural heritage. The church hosts a variety of events and programs, bringing people together for spiritual growth and social interaction. Under Dr. Wallace's leadership, the church has become a hub of activity, fostering a sense of community and belonging among its members. The church's architecture is both modern and traditional, reflecting the values and aspirations of the community. With its elegant design and welcoming atmosphere, the church has become a landmark in the city, attracting visitors and residents alike.

The Journal's Gallery of Fame

In Appreciation For Recent Service Or Benefaction

The Journal's Gallery of Fame is a tribute to the individuals and organizations that have made significant contributions to the community. This year, several new inductees have been honored for their outstanding achievements. The gallery features a variety of portraits and biographies, showcasing the impact of these individuals on the city and beyond. The inductees come from diverse backgrounds, representing a range of fields such as education, arts, and philanthropy. Their contributions have enriched the community and set an example for future generations. The Gallery of Fame serves as a reminder of the importance of giving back and the enduring legacy of those who have dedicated their lives to public service.

Nongraded Plan Seeks To Help Individual

Elementary Education Today—II

Nongraded Plan Seeks To Help Individual

The nongraded plan seeks to help individual students. This approach allows students to progress at their own pace, rather than being held back by a strict curriculum. It also provides more opportunities for individualized instruction and support. The nongraded plan can be beneficial for students who are advanced or struggling, as it allows them to receive the attention and resources they need to succeed. It can also help to create a more inclusive and supportive learning environment.

More ‘Tree Farms’ Needed, State Forestry Leader Says

Dr. Harry Brown, head of the Indiana University Department of Forestry, said recently that Indiana needs more ‘tree farms’ to help increase the state’s timber output.

Mr. Brown said that a ‘tree farm’ is a tract of land where trees are grown primarily as a crop to be sold for economic purposes.

He added that, in the past, Indiana has had a limited number of tree farms due to the emphasis on recreation and conservation.

Mr. Brown suggested that the state could increase its timber output by encouraging more people to start tree farms.

‘Armed Forces’ Day Scheduled

The Indiana National Guard is planning a special event for ‘Armed Forces’ Day, which is scheduled for May 12th.

The event will include a parade, a ceremony honoring current and former military service members, and a variety of other activities.

Animal Returns To Meet Today

The Indiana Wildlife Department is planning to release a group of animals that were captured last year into the wild today.

The animals, which include deer and elk, were captured for various reasons and are now ready to be returned to their natural habitat.

Airmen Learn Production

The U.S. Air Force Academy is planning a special course for its cadets to learn about production management.

The course will cover topics such as inventory control, quality assurance, and cost accounting.

Prepositioning

Major General John Smith, commander of the Academy, said that the course is necessary to prepare the cadets for their future careers in the military.

Elementary Education Today—II

Nongraded Plan Seeks To Help Individual

By Oscar B. Moseley

The plan is designed to give the child his own background, his own interpretation, his own development. The student is encouraged to show his ability to learn and to act. This is the nongraded plan. The student is guided to develop his own interests and abilities. He is given freedom to explore and to develop his own ideas. He is not restricted by the formalities of grades and classes. He is given the opportunity to develop his own interests and abilities.

Dr. E. Eugene Hafner

While the nongraded plan is not for everyone, it is an effective way of teaching children. It is a plan that allows each child to develop his own abilities and to explore his own interests. It is a plan that allows children to learn at their own pace and to develop their own abilities. It is a plan that allows children to be creative and to explore their own ideas. It is a plan that allows children to learn and to develop their own abilities and interests.

New Pattern Made

The nongraded plan is an effective way of teaching children. It is a plan that allows each child to develop his own abilities and to explore his own interests. It is a plan that allows children to learn at their own pace and to develop their own abilities. It is a plan that allows children to be creative and to explore their own ideas. It is a plan that allows children to learn and to develop their own abilities and interests.

Bowling Also Is 'Career'

The Oklahoma City Bowling Association has announced that bowling will be a "career" for the Oklahoma City Bowl. The plan was announced by the Oklahoma City Bowl, which is managing the new bowling facility.

The Oklahoma Bowl, located at 1401 N. Western, will feature 32 lanes of bowling. The bowling alley will be open from 5:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. every day. The Oklahoma Bowl will offer a variety of bowling options, including league play, open play, and private parties.

The Oklahoma Bowl is owned and operated by the Oklahoma City Bowl. The Oklahoma Bowl is a subsidiary of the Oklahoma City Business Association. The Oklahoma Bowl is a member of the Oklahoma Bowling Association.

Your choice of two Kroehler sofas! Each is discontinued and the savings are fantastic.

Your Choice

$188

These sofas were made by Kroehler, the world's largest furniture manufacturer! Each is made to last for years to come.

Terms are available, even during this sale!
Of course you still get free delivery from Evans. We are open 12 hours each day so you have plenty of time to shop.

Kroehler sofas are world renowned for their quality and style. These two sofas are made to sell by Kroehler for $289.95 apiece. Each has been in their line for 18 months and now they changed the style just a bit. So, they dropped the price for us on these two sofas. Both are traditional but can fit in any home. Both are 93" long and both have a heavy cover that will wear for years. We only have six of each so hurry for the best color selection.
