Demonstrators Encircle Federal Building

BY HUGH MORGAN

The marchers were out for a victory.

"We are not an armistice or a war. We are a demonstration of our determination to end the Vietnam War." said one of the organizers.

As the demonstrators gathered in front of the Federal Building, the atmosphere was charged with a sense of purpose.

The marchers chanted slogans and held up signs reading "End the War," "Peace Now," and "Vietnam Is Not Our War." The crowd was a diverse mix of young and old, men and women, all united in their anti-war sentiment.

The demonstration was organized by various anti-war groups and student organizations in Oklahoma City. The organizers had been planning the event for weeks, and the turnout far exceeded their expectations.

The marchers were led by a group of leaders who spoke passionately about the need for an end to the war.

"We cannot continue to support this senseless war," said one leader. "We must stand together and demand an end to the suffering of the people of Vietnam and the United States."

Martyrdom Serves God

Baptist Ponder Future

The theme may have been changed from "Baptist" to "Presbyterian," but the concept remains the same. The Baptist, however, has a longer and more varied history in the United States. Dr. David Ponder, president of the Baptist General Convention of Oklahoma, shared his thoughts on the future of the denomination with the Sunday School lesson this week.

Student Work Given Boost

Baptists Vote Record Budget

By RITA CRANE

The Baptist General Convention of Oklahoma will vote a record budget of $187 million at its annual meeting this week. The budget, which includes funds for missions, education, and community service, is the largest in the denomination's history.

Roman Catholics Showing Growth

By JAMES CARR

The Presbyterian Church in the United States has experienced steady growth in recent years, with a 15% increase in membership over the past decade. This growth has been attributed to a variety of factors, including increased outreach efforts and the proliferation of new churches in growing areas.

Missouri Baptist Hospital could receive a $50 million boost from the state's budget. The hospital is one of the largest in the state and has served the community for over 50 years. The proposed funding would be used to improve facilities and expand services.

This Weekend's Television

Demonstrator Carried Away

One of the most anticipated films of the week is "Demonstrator," a dramatic tale of a woman who must face the consequences of her actions. The film has received critical acclaim for its powerful performances and thought-provoking plot.

Genet Begins 21-Month Sentence

The former military leader of Haiti, Jean-Claude "Baby Doc" Duvalier, has begun serving a 21-month sentence for charges of abuse of power and corruption. The sentence marks the end of a long legal battle for justice in the country.

French Grant Man Asylum

France has granted asylum to a man who fled his native country due to persecution. The man had been arrested for speaking out against the government's human rights record, and his asylum status will allow him to seek safety in France.

Other Side Of CIA Story

Every since the first babies appeared from the "cradle of democracy" in the United States, the CIA's story has been told from one perspective, that of the government's interest in spreading its influence around the world. Now the CIA's role in world affairs is more complex, and the story of its activities is not just a matter of propaganda, but also of the public's right to know.

"The CIA is not a 'secret' organization," observers say. "It has been operating openly under the name of the Central Intelligence Agency for many years, and its activities have been known to the public." The CIA has been involved in many different actions, from covert operations to intelligence gathering.

Thoughts

"The CIA's role in world affairs is more complex than ever before," observers say. "The agency has been involved in many different actions, from covert operations to intelligence gathering." The CIA has been involved in many different actions, from covert operations to intelligence gathering.

Conference's 'Big Three' Powers Show Heels To Track Opponents

By Jack Hinnen
Sports Editor

The Conference's 'Big Three' - the University of Oklahoma, the University of Texas and the University of Kansas - managed to show their opponents a bit of their own medicine on the track this week.

The Sooners, led by Jesse Jones, scratched the Longhorns at Austin and the Jayhawks at Lawrence.

Jones, a senior, set a new national record in the 880 yards with a time of 1:52.8. The previous record was held by Texas' John Woodard.

The Sooners also had a sweep in the 440 yards, with Jones and Charlie King winning.

In the hurdles, the Sooners had a perfect sweep, with Lee Brown winning in 58.7.

In the high jump, the Sooners took the top three spots, with Tom Brown clearing 7 feet.

The conference's 'Big Three' also competed in the 1-mile run, with the Sooners winning.

The conference's 'Big Three' will face each other in the Conference Championship Meet on May 15.

OKLAHOMA LODGES

A trip to an Oklahoma state lodge can be the perfect answer to your vacation problems. You'll find seven delightful lodges scattered over every part of the state...with a variety of scenic agreeability as the backdrop. You'll find them as diverse as the countryside...ranging from the small and cozy to the most luxurious and exciting. You'll find one of them priced within the range of every pocketbook.

...or Enjoy
OKLAHOMA STATE PARKS

More than two million people annually enjoy Oklahoma state parks. Over the state, you'll find almost 72,000 acres available for picnicking, fishing, camping, nature study, and recreational areas. Facilities are so complete that you'll find everything you need and they're aided by vacations for 12 months out of every year.

- Fountainhead Lodge
- Quartz Mountain Lodge
- Arrowhead Lodge
- Lake Murray Lodge
- Lake Texoma Lodge
- Roman Nose Lodge
- Western Hills Lodge

Oklahoma's seven lodges are open every season of the year...and they're perfect for any length of stay from the popular "long weekend" to a full-scale vacation. During mid-week in season, rates make them especially attractive. To help choose the lodge of special interest to you and your family, study the photographs shown here...then contact Tourism Information, Oklahoma Industrial Development and Parks Commission, Suite 500, Will Rogers Memorial Building Oklahoma City.
SIX FLAGS Is Challenging Disneyland

By JACE HENNESSY

"The world is general and California is just a small part of it," said the last man to leave Disneyland. "We're just a small part of the world."

In the past, the amusement parks were managed after Texas. In the future, the amusement parks will be managed after Texas. Six Flags Over Texas, which opened in 1961, was the first Six Flags park to open after Disneyland. But now, with the opening of Six Flags Over Texas, the parks are forced to compete with each other.

As the season opens, the parks are already vying for the attention of the visitors. The park is open on weekends, and the attendance is expected to be high. The park is scheduled to open in late May, and the attendance is expected to be 50,000 per day. The attendance is expected to be 1,500,000 per week. However, the attendance is expected to drop to 750,000 per week in the fall. The attendance is expected to drop to 375,000 per week in the winter.

The new Six Flags park is located in Dallas, Texas. The park is located on 20 acres of land, and the attendance is expected to be 1,500,000 per week. The park is scheduled to open on May 14, and the attendance is expected to be 50,000 per day. The attendance is expected to drop to 750,000 per week in the fall. The attendance is expected to drop to 375,000 per week in the winter.

There are many reasons why people are expected to visit the new Six Flags park. The park is located near the airport, and it is easy to get to. The park is located near the interstate, and it is easy to get to. The park is located near the metro, and it is easy to get to. The park is located near the highway, and it is easy to get to. The park is located near the shopping center, and it is easy to get to. The park is located near the restaurant, and it is easy to get to.

The new Six Flags park is expected to be a popular destination for the visitors. The attendance is expected to be high, and the attendance is expected to drop to low in the fall. The attendance is expected to drop to low in the winter.
