Let Pope Lead All, Episcopalian Says

Bishop Myers Favors World Church

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Episcopal Bishop C. Efrem Maynard Kimball has called out all Christian — Catholic, Church of England, Presbyterians and Episcopalians — to recognize the Pope as the "Supreme Head of Christendom."

"We need a Pope today," the bishop said. "We need a Pope who appeals to the whole of our common heritage, and I mean quite simply, as the presence should go of the Church and not a power of the religious power of the Church."

Mrs. Kimball, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of California, called for the recognition of the Pope as the "Supreme Head of Christendom." The Pope's authority is not derived from a vote of the Church, but from his position as the leader of the Catholic Church.

"But I am unaware of the controversy that will follow this statement," the bishop said. "The modern Church is not interested in the Pope, and the only name Pope is important, will probably be occupied," the bishop said.

While calling for "Christian unity," he also stressed the need for "Christian unity" within the Church. This includes a recognition of the Pope as the Supreme Head of Christendom.

"Despite the ecclesiastical division of our own Church, the Church, the Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of California has called for the recognition of the Pope as the Supreme Head of Christendom. This is a powerful statement, and one that we should all consider.

Early June Brides Choose Contemporary Silhouettes

The use of the word "fashion" is at best a relative term. The concept is a very personal one, depending on the mood and the personality of the wearer. Among brides of the early June group, we find a strong desire to wear contemporary designs, especially for their wedding day. In fact, a striking example is Miss Anna Jackson, of 1915 North 22nd Street, who found just the right wedding outfit to cover her figure. Miss Jackson, 21, who is to marry Mr. James W. Thompson, a salesman, at the Methodist Church at 2:00 P.M., June 5, will wear a custom made gown designed and made by Saks Fifth Avenue. The gown is in a soft white chiffon with a fitted bodice and a wide skirt. Her hair is pulled back in a simple style, and her shoes are of satin. Her veil is trimmed with lace and her bouquet is of white roses. The bridal party will consist of six bridesmaids, all in matching gowns. The bridal party will be led by the bride and her father, Mr. James W. Thompson, Sr., who is a well-known attorney in the city. The reception will be held at the Thompson home, and the couple will leave for their honeymoon immediately after the reception. The couple will visit England and France, and will return to their home in the fall. The couple are very happy and excited about their upcoming wedding and their future together.
