Israelis Tape Arab Plot To Blame U.S.

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Israeli intelligence officials have taped an intercepted conversation between U.S. President Richard Nixon and King Hussein of Jordan in which they allegedly plan to put pressure on Israel and Britain to withdraw from occupied territories. A tape which officials said was given to them by members of the London Embassy is one of the conversations which is likely to come to light. The tapes were allegedly recorded by members of the Jordanian Embassy in London.

Nasser - Hussein Caught In Act

The conversation took place at 12:00 noon. Thursday 2nd August and was sent to the Jordanian Embassy in London. The tape was given to the Israeli intelligence officials by members of the London Embassy.

In the recording the two leaders denied any influence over the Israeli or British Governments. However, it was suggested that the British had been influenced by the United States. The recording was given to the Israeli intelligence officials by members of the London Embassy.

First Voice (Nasser): "We will say that we are not influenced by the United States."

Second Voice (Hussein): "That is our policy."

New Theatre Under Construction

A new location near the Edmond Plaza is being considered for the summer theater, according to Mr. Walker Sullivan, president of the New Theatre of Oklahoma. The theatre will be located in a new building to be constructed near the Plaza. The theatre will be called the Edmond Plaza, and will be "the most modern theatre in the state," according to Mr. Sullivan.

Artistic Director of the New Theatre, Mr. Walker Sullivan, said that the theatre will be "a modern theatre" and "the most modern theatre in the state." The theatre will be located in a new building to be constructed near the Plaza. The theatre will be called the Edmond Plaza, and will be "the most modern theatre in the state," according to Mr. Sullivan.

HOLLYWOOD GADABOUT

By SHELLABRRAH GRAHAM

I like actors who keep their feet on the ground, but they're not afraid of the waves, either. For instance, the young and talented Richard Todd, who plays the lead in the new film, "The Alamo," is someone I admire. Todd has been in Hollywood for only a few years, but he has quickly established himself as one of the top stars in the industry. He's known for his intense performances and his ability to bring depth to his characters. I interviewed him recently, and he talked about the challenges of playing such a complex role as Davy Crockett. He said, "It's not just about being physically strong, it's about being mentally tough. You have to be able to handle all the pressure and the attention." I asked him if he had any tips for young actors who are just starting out, and he said, "Just be yourself. Don't try to be someone else. You'll end up being a better actor if you're true to yourself." I think that's great advice, and I'm sure Todd will continue to succeed in the years to come.

Bikini-Boned Blonde Is 'Dream'

By DICK RENYER

Hollywood (Neb.)—Tough, tough telephone calls. The caller—Judy Garland. She might never have had any influence with the women in the office but she sure did have a great influence on the men. She asked to talk to "The Trix" and claimed that she was the voice of "Valley of the Dolls." Judy's name is now in the headlines, and replaced by Susan Ferraro, and she would like no other chance.

Judy was fantastic and good, prompting the fibers of the actors as she took to the phone. She spoke of the part in the upcoming film and told the story of how she got the part. The story is about a beautiful blonde who dreams of becoming a movie star. She's signed by AIP for the part and is to be the most glamorous and most beautiful actress ever to grace the screen. She's been through all sorts of Hollywood things, but now she's ready to make her dreams a reality.

And the setting is perfect, and the chemistry with the other blonde standards was nothing. Judy began telling "The Trix" about the working conditions, and she said, "We're all working really hard, and I'm sure we'll be making something special. Judy always has a way of making us all feel important and special. She's a real star, and I'm sure she'll make this film a big hit."

Hombre means men... Paul Newman is Hombre. How's that for a couple? And what about Batman, the movie that started it all? It's been a long time since Batman first appeared on the screen, but he's still as popular as ever. The latest Batman movie is no exception. It's a thrilling adventure that has kept audiences on the edge of their seats. The story is about a young man named Bruce Wayne, who is the son of a wealthy businessman. Bruce is a detective by day, but by night he is Batman, the guardian of Gotham City. The movie is full of action, suspense, and drama, and it's sure to be a hit with fans of all ages.

McQueen Makes It Big In Films

"McQueen Makes It Big In Films" is the headline, indicating a story about a successful actor. The text suggests a focus on the actor's achievements in film, possibly related to a recent project or milestone.

Trini Heaps Gifts On Family

"Trini Heaps Gifts On Family" is another headline, likely referring to a story about someone giving gifts to family members, possibly in celebration or as a gesture of goodwill.

The text also contains various other articles and advertisements, typical of a newspaper page.
Piece of the Action

By JOAN CROSBY
News-Press Enterprises Inc.

NEW YORK—Paul Newman and Joanne Woodward are the star of the world's most popular television show. The couple has been together in every episode of "The Mary Tyler Moore Show," which has been on the air for 11 years. Last week, they appeared in the pilot episode of a new series called "The Mary Tyler Moore Show" that will air on NBC on Thursdays at 8:30 p.m.

The show is about a middle-aged woman who works as a sportswriter for a newspaper and lives with her sister, an unmarried lawyer. The series is based on the popular movie "The Odd Couple," which was a hit when it was first released in 1968.

Newman plays the role of a sports writer who has been fired from his job at the newspaper and has to take a job as a copywriter for a rival newspaper. Woodward plays the role of a sportswriter who has been fired from her job at a women's magazine and has to take a job as a copywriter for a rival magazine.

The series is directed by Aaron Sorkin, who also wrote the original movie. Sorkin is known for his work on "The West Wing," "The Newsroom," and "The Newsroom."

Beetles’ PR Man Tells All

by CURTIS CLAYTON

The Beatles' Public Relations man, Tony Barrow, makes his first public appearance tonight at 10 p.m. on "The Tonight Show" when he is scheduled to speak about the group's recent arrival in the United States.

Barrow, who has been with the Beatles for several years, is known for his work in promoting the band's image and image. He has been instrumental in bringing the group to the attention of the American public.

The appearance comes on the heels of the Beatles' successful tour of the United States, where they played to packed stadiums and sold out arenas. The tour was a major event in the world of rock and roll, and it helped to establish the Beatles as one of the most popular bands of all time.

Barrow will speak about the tour and share some behind-the-scenes stories about the group's travels. He will also discuss the band's upcoming album, which is expected to be released later this year.

This is the first time that Barrow has appeared on "The Tonight Show," and it is sure to be an exciting event for Beatles fans everywhere.

First Appearance

BARROW: I'm Tony Barrow, the Public Relations man for the Beatles. I've been with the band for several years, and I've been instrumental in bringing them to the attention of the American public. We've had a successful tour of the country, and we're looking forward to the release of our new album later this year.

Tonight I'm here to share some behind-the-scenes stories about our travels and the making of our new album. I hope you enjoy it.

Barrow will be joined by the hosts of "The Tonight Show," who will ask him about his work with the Beatles and his role in promoting their image. He will also be asked about his future plans and what he hopes to achieve with the band.

Don't miss this special appearance of Tony Barrow on "The Tonight Show" tonight at 10 p.m.

Summer Here, So Plan On Tasks In The Yard

By ROBERT PAYNE

Summer is here, so get ready to perform the hundreds of tasks that are necessary to keep the lawns, shrubs, flowers, and other plant material in the best possible condition. Now is the time to get started on these tasks.

1. Examine your lawn for weeds and use a broad-leaf herbicide or a pre-emergent herbicide to control them.
2. Water your lawn deeply and infrequently to encourage deep root growth and reduce the risk of disease.
3. Mulch around your plants to help retain moisture and improve soil structure.
4. Prune your trees and shrubs to promote healthy growth and prevent diseases.
5. Apply a fertilizer to your lawn and plants to provide nutrients for growth.

Questions, Answers On Gardens, Lawns

Q: Why do birds fly south for the winter? Is there any connection between the two? How do you think they navigate?
A: Birds migrate south for the winter because the weather becomes too cold and food becomes scarce in their northern habitats. There is no direct connection between flying south and living in the winter. Birds navigate using a variety of methods, including the sun, the moon, and magnetic fields.

MODERN PATTERNS

By SEVER HOLLAND

There is probably not a day in the week that does not bring a patterned fabric to your attention. From the clothes you wear to the curtains in your home, patterns are everywhere. Here are some common types of patterns and how to use them in your decoration:

1. Geometric patterns: Simple shapes like squares, circles, and triangles create a sense of order and balance. They are great for adding interest to a plain background.
2. Floral patterns: Soft colors and delicate flowers bring a sense of nature and serenity to a room.
3. stripes: Bold stripes can create a sense of movement and excitement, while subtle stripes add a touch of sophistication.

Air and moisture must be considered when choosing patterns. In humid climates, avoid patterns with large, bright colors. In dry climates, avoid patterns with small, dark colors. The material of the fabric must also be considered, as it can affect the appearance and the durability of the pattern.

Let's enjoy our beautiful patterns and the way they bring life to our homes!
