Governor Going To Houston For Surgery

Lurleen Wallace Has 'Malignancy'

Montgomery, Ala. (UPI)—Lurleen Wallace, the nation's only woman governor, announced Monday night that she has a 'malignancy' and will enter a Houston, Texas, hospital next week for a surgical operation. Governor Wallace, management and oil man, said she had consulted with Dr. Roy V. Anderson, the state's surgeon general, and that her surgery would probably be performed in a Houston hospital in the next few days.

The governor, who underwent radical tracheostomy for a malignant tumor of the voice in 1959, had not announced her illness until now.

Koonce May Get 90-Day Sanitary

Candler—Rural Sanitation has always been a significant issue, as the 1895 county board took the first step in the direction of modern sanitation. The board, under the leadership of C. A. Brown, a member of the county board, and the Rural Sanitation Commission, has continued to support the needs of the rural community. The board has been instrumental in the establishment of rural sanitation programs, which have significantly improved the health and well-being of the rural residents. The board has also been a leader in the development of a comprehensive sanitation plan, which includes the establishment of a rural sanitation program, the development of a rural sanitation network, and the implementation of a rural sanitation infrastructure.
