Parents whose children had been injured and maimed during the recent bombing of Saigon were by the police.

Tinker said he promised the injured children never to let their memories die.

The hospital’s doctors’ hands were bended and twisted, and their face, now the answer to the boy’s sign, said, “It’s over.”

The hospital is located in the heart of downtown Saigon, the city where the bombing occurred.

On the news that the injured children were being treated, a visitor to the hospital said, “God Bless the doctors. They have done a wonderful job.”

“I am so glad to see the children being taken care of,” said one of the parents.

The hospital is open to the public and is staffed by doctors and nurses.

In the talks with the parents, the children were told that they would be taken to the hospital for treatment.

City Girl Disappears

As Oklahoma City police men have been busy searching for a young woman who has been missing for two days, they are asking for the public's help in locating her. The woman, identified as Jayne Johnson, was last seen on July 3rd, at a local soda fountain. She is described as 5 feet 4 inches tall, with brown hair and blue eyes. She was last seen wearing a blue dress and carrying a red handbag.

Adairs Face Wage Battle

A major battle over the minimum wage has broken out in Adair County, Oklahoma. The county's council has passed a resolution mandating a minimum wage of $10.50 per hour for all workers. The council's action has been met with opposition from local business owners, who claim it will hurt their ability to compete in a global economy.

Negroes

"We have a problem in this country..." The Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. spoke at a recent rally in Oklahoma City, addressing the issue of civil rights. "We must work to ensure that our rights are protected," he said. "We cannot live in a society that discriminates against us based on our skin color."

Admirals Face Wage Battle

Yet another minimum-wage battle has erupted in Adair County, Oklahoma. The county council has passed a resolution mandating a minimum wage of $10.50 per hour for all workers, putting it on a collision course with local business owners. The council's action is a response to a federal minimum-wage hike, which took effect on July 1st.

Seek Oil Closer To Home

Diet in the heart of the oil patch, the Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce wants to attract oil companies to the city. Through the Chamber's efforts, the Oklahoma City Council has approved an ordinance that will allow oil companies to drill for oil closer to the city's borders. This move is expected to boost the city's economy and bring new opportunities for local businesses.
