Top O’The Morning

For Beautification’s Sake

Steelo Urges Mini-Skirt Knee Control

By Dick West

Washington, D.C. — Steelo Steelo, recently named the nation’s “Best Dresser,” proposed today that Congress enact a mini-skirt knee control bill to regulate the length of skirts worn by women.

As outlined in a bill filed in the House of Representatives, the bill would establish a Federal Skirt Commission, which would regulate the length of skirts worn by women. The bill would require skirts to be no shorter than 12 inches in length. Longer skirts would be acceptable, but only if the wearer can prove that the length is necessary for “artistic” purposes. The commission would be composed of representatives from various industries, including fashion designers, retailers, and consumers. The bill was introduced with overwhelming support from both parties and has been met with enthusiasm by women’s rights advocates.

New Fight Hits Suez

Tragedy Stalks Oklahomans

In Wake Of...

3 In Family Pulled Out Of Spillway

By Virginia Winfrey

Miami, Fla. — Three members of a family were pulled out of the water today after their boat sank in the Miami River. The family had been out for an evening of boating when their 22-foot motorized boat capsized. The three family members, a father, mother, and daughter, were able to swim to the shore safely. The father was seen attempting to rescue his wife and daughter but was overcome by the water. The daughter was rescued by lifeguards, and the mother was uninjured. The cause of the accident is being investigated. This is the second boating accident in Miami this month, highlighting the importance of boating safety and the need for life-saving equipment on all boats.

Snakes Alive, What A Job!

By Edward J. Smith

Chicago, Ill. — The Chicago Zoological Society has acquired a new exhibit: a live snake! The snake, a Burmese python, was donated by a local pet shop owner who no longer wanted it. The snake will be kept in a special enclosure and will be on display to the public. The zoo is excited about the new addition to their exhibit, and visitors are expected to be impressed by the scale and beauty of the snake. The zoo plans to offer educational programs about snakes and their habitat to engage visitors in learning about these fascinating creatures.

Heat Wave Ups Deaths

By John Miller

New York, N.Y. — A heat wave has taken the lives of at least 10 people in the city. The high temperatures have caused a surge in heat-related deaths, particularly among vulnerable populations such as the elderly and those with pre-existing health conditions. The city’s health department is urging residents to take precautions to stay cool, such as staying hydrated, dressing in lightweight clothing, and seeking out air-conditioned spaces when possible. The heat wave is expected to continue for several more days, so authorities are advising residents to take necessary precautions to avoid heat-related issues.

View With Cleveland Mayor

Cleveland Mayor Frank G. Gehrke, last December’s national Democratic candidate for vice president, yesterday visited the city’s 5,000-acre nature preserve, Cleveland Metropolitan Park, in an effort to improve the city’s image and attract visitors. Gehrke, a strong supporter of environmental conservation, praised the park’s natural beauty and called for increased funding to support its upkeep. The mayor also announced plans to increase recreational facilities and improve access to the park. Gehrke’s visit was well-received by the park’s visitors, who expressed appreciation for the city’s efforts to preserve and protect its natural resources.

Riots Called Waste

By John D. Smith

Cleveland, Ohio — A Cleveland man has been arrested for starting a riot at a Cleveland gymnasium. The man, a local businessman, became enraged after witnessing a high school basketball game and began throwing chairs and furniture around the gym. Police were quickly on the scene and dispersed the crowd. The man was later arrested and charged with disorderly conduct. The incident highlights the potential for small incidents to escalate into larger, more dangerous situations, and the importance of maintaining a peaceful and orderly atmosphere in public spaces.
Steed
Continued from Page 1

Steed, a local newspaper editor, has been a strong advocate for community health initiatives. He has been featured in several articles discussing the importance of healthy living and the need for better access to health care. In an interview, Steed expressed his concern about the rising cost of medical care, saying, "We need to find a way to lower the costs so that everyone can afford to go to the doctor when they need to." He also emphasized the importance of preventive care, stating, "Taking care of yourself now can save you a lot of money and trouble in the long run."

Bull Fight Bloodless
Continued from Page 1

The annual bull fight at the rodeo was a bloodless event this year, much to the relief of animal rights activists. The organizers of the event have been working hard to ensure that the bulls are treated humanely throughout the day. As one of the organizers explained, "We want to make sure that these animals are not subjected to unnecessary pain or suffering." The event was well-received by the audience, with many praising the organizers for their efforts to make the event as ethical as possible.

Hippies Attempt To Stop Presses

Hippies, who have been protesting against the Vietnam War, tried to disrupt a printing press this week. They were attempting to prevent the publication of a newspaper that they believe is supporting the war effort. The police were called to the scene, and they were able to prevent the hippies from vandalizing the press. The police chief said, "We are committed to protecting the freedom of the press, but we will not tolerate any form of violence." The hippies were later arrested and charged with vandalism.

World Full Of Spies

The U.S. Department of State announced this week that there are a full 10,000 spies in the U.S. working for foreign governments. The department said that the spies are a major threat to national security and that additional measures need to be taken to ensure that they are held accountable. The announcement was met with shock and concern by many Americans, who are worried about the threat that these spies pose to their country.

State Colleges Share Grant

Ohio State College and Emory College have shared a grant from the government. The grant is intended to support the development of new programs and initiatives that will benefit students. Ohio State College has allocated a portion of the grant to fund a new tutoring program, while Emory College has used it to support the creation of a new academic center. Both colleges expressed their gratitude for the support, with the presidents of each saying, "This grant will help us to provide our students with the best possible education."
Editorials

Where Are We Heading?

Did you ever wonder how we got to where we are now? Do you realize that in the 19th century, people were still lugging around those large, heavy iron hand-saws? Did you know that the first bicycle was invented in 1817? It was a clunky affair with wooden wheels and a rudimentary frame. How difficult it must have been to ride! And yet, despite these early challenges, people were still exploring new ways to travel and communicate.

We take for granted many of the conveniences and luxuries we enjoy today. Think about it: we have electric lights, running water, air conditioning, and the internet. These wonders of modern life make our daily lives so much easier. But they were not always available.

How do we get from where we are now to where we want to be? Is it possible to have a positive impact on the world? We believe it is. By working together and making small changes, we can create a better future for all.

The PEOPLE'S Voice

Bill Tharp

Is There Really Such An Angel?

Every time I look at the calendar, I see the date June 21st, which is my birthday. I always think about how lucky I am to have been born on such a beautiful day. People often ask me, 'What do you want for your birthday?' and I always say, 'Just peace and love.'

There is a little corner of heaven on earth, a place where angels gather. In this place, the heart is pure and the soul is free. It is a place where love and compassion reign. And it is a place where miracles happen.

In the same way that we celebrate birthdays, we should also celebrate the miracles of life. We should take time to appreciate the beauty of the world around us and the wonder of our existence.

Inez Robb

This Proliferation Of Credit Cards

The rise of credit cards has revolutionized our society. With the convenience of the plastic card, we can now purchase items with ease. But have we lost our sense of values?

We are so accustomed to using credit cards that we forget the value of money. It is important to remember that money is earned through hard work and effort. We should respect the value of our money and use it wisely.

The World Needs More Than Just Money

Win Seen By Lodge

Last Lap Near For Meredith

Meredith has come a long way since he first started his campaign. He has faced many challenges along the way, but he has never given up. Now, with the final stretch of the race near, he is determined to win.

Meredith has always been a fighter. He has endured many setbacks, but he has never let them get the best of him. He has been a leader, both in his personal life and in his career. And now, with the election just days away, he is ready to show the country what he is made of.

State Editors Say

Bartlett Steers Clear Of Side-Taking

Bartlett has been a straight shooter since he first entered politics. He has always put his principles above his own interests. And he has never been afraid to speak his mind, even if it means going against the grain.

In a time when so many politicians are willing to do whatever it takes to get ahead, Bartlett stands out as a shining example of what it means to be a true leader. He has been a voice for the people, and he has always been a fighter.

Summer Camp Surgery

For the past few weeks, we have been following the story of the young boy who was injured in the summer camp fire. It has been a traumatic experience for him and his family.

The doctors have been working tirelessly to save his leg, but the outcome is still unknown. We pray for his recovery and for the strength of his family during this difficult time.

World News Briefs

China Bluffing, Russia Says

In a recent statement, China has accused Russia of bluffing. The Chinese government has said that Russia's military buildup is a threat to regional stability.

Governor, Wife In Crash

A governor and his wife were involved in a car crash recently. Fortunately, both of them were unharmed, but it was a close call.

Inexperienced Drivers

France Ends Tests

France has ended its nuclear weapons tests. The French government has said that it will no longer conduct tests in the South Pacific, but it will continue to develop nuclear weapons.

Dr. Hansen On Spot

Dr. James Hansen, the scientist who first warned about global warming, has been called to testify before Congress. Hansen has said that the evidence of climate change is overwhelming.

Cairo Plays Down Fight

The Egyptian government has downplayed the recent incidents in Cairo. They have said that the situation is under control and that there is no need for concern.

Boater Launches His Car

A boater has launched his car into the water. The boater said that he was trying to escape an unfinished bridge.

3 Hunted By Frogs

A family has been hunting for years. They have been successful in catching many different types of game, but they have never caught a frog before.

Refugees Given OK To Return

Refugees have been given permission to return to their home country. They have been living abroad for many years, but they are now ready to return home.

Lions Roar North

The Lions have been ranked number one in the country for several weeks. They have been playing well and are expected to continue their dominance.

Boeing Talks To Senator

Boeing has talked to Senator Smith about the future of the aircraft industry. Boeing has said that it is committed to investing in the future of the country.

Parade Of Values

Parade of Values... the most magnificent way to enjoy the full beauty of music in your home...
Weddings, Receptions High Point Of Weekend Scene

Miss Heaton, Mr. Light Are Married

Engagements Are Announced

Two Couples Wed In Rites

Fabric Clearance

Accessories' To Be Topic Of Fashion Group Session

Former OCU Music Student Wins Award

text continues...
New Patterns Turn Little Girls Into Paper Dolls

By Janeth Gardiner

A new pattern for paper dolls is turning little girls into fashion conscious dolls. The new patterns, which can be used to create dolls that are almost twice as big as the original paper dolls, are being sold in department stores across the country.

The new patterns are made of a special cardboard that is stronger and more durable than the traditional paper. The dolls can be dressed in the latest fashions and can be customized with different hairstyles and accessories.

Florence Visit Set By Jackie

Jane Jayroe In Training For War

JFK Prober Regrets Step

Top Foe Of Mao Not Out

Stepped-Up Conflict Supported By Reagan

Israel Hit By Briton

Miss Rundal, Mr. McCarthy Are Married

Police Nip Peddler Of Catnip Reefers
It's Almost Like Kenya
TV A Must For Poor

By LIPDAM JEFFREY

In a world where the rich are getting richer and the poor are getting poorer, television is becoming an increasingly important tool for disseminating information and lifting people out of poverty. In Kenya, for example, where the poverty rate is estimated to be around 36%, television has been identified as a key means of reaching the masses with important information. The government of Kenya has recognized this and has prioritized the development of television infrastructure as a way to combat poverty. By providing access to education, health information, and economic opportunities through television, the government hopes to reduce poverty and improve the quality of life for its citizens. However, despite these efforts, many who live in poverty still lack access to television, highlighting the ongoing struggle to bridge the digital divide. As technology continues to evolve, it will be essential to ensure that everyone, regardless of their economic status, has access to the benefits of television and the information it provides.
McAlister
Gold Star Mother
Rites Pond
In City

F. L. Sikes,
City Lawyer,
Rites Wednesday
Rites Set

Today's Television

Classified Advertising

NOTICE
THE OKLAHOMA JOURNAL
CLASSIFIED AD DEPARTMENT
WILL BE CLOSED ALL DAY
JULY 4TH
SO OUR EMPLOYEES MAY OBSERVE THE HOLIDAY
(ORDINARY TO 5:00 WITH EXTRA CHARGE)

DELWOOD
APARTMENTS

Windsorwood
Offers You
MODERN COLONIAL
SPANISH

CONSULT THESE ADVERTISERS NOW.
They are Fully Equipped To Serve You Right.

COLLEGE STUDENTS
Still Time For Summer Jobs!
AID 9 to 26

Classifieds for Student, Home or Business.

Mr. Nevitt
347-1320

NOW LISTEN DAILY
7 AM to 11 PM
104.9
"DRIVE-SAFE"
OVER $1,000
IN PRIZES
will be awarded for an original design
LISTEN CAREFULLY FOR DETAILS