Care To Join Holiday Death Parade?

M any Oklahoma families are busy planning their holiday activities, but one group is hoping to avoid the usual holiday traditions. The Oklahoma Highway Patrol and several other organizations are trying to make a safe and sober holiday weekend possible for all. They are encouraging people to "say no" to driving under the influence of alcohol or drugs. This message is supported by the fact that alcohol and drugs are the leading causes of death on the roads during the holiday season.

Something New With Symphony

The Oklahoma City Symphony Orchestra, under the leadership of Dr. AlexeiTsukanov, will celebrate a special anniversary this season, the 15th year of its existence. The anniversary will be marked by a series of concerts featuring guest conductors and soloists. The season will begin on October 15th at the Civic Center Music Hall with a performance of Beethoven's Fifth Symphony, conducted by Tsukanov. The orchestra will continue its tradition of presenting a diverse program of classical music, featuring works by composers such as Mozart, Beethoven, and Brahms. The Oklahoma City Symphony Orchestra is committed to providing high-quality concerts, engaging audiences with the orchestra's passion for music.

Death On Two Wheels

A recent accident on a motorcycle in Norman has raised concerns about the need for better safety measures for motorcyclists. The accident occurred in the early morning hours, and both the rider and the motorcycle were seriously injured. The Norman Police Department is investigating the incident, and preliminary reports indicate that the accident was caused by a distracted driver. This incident highlights the importance of educating drivers about the dangers of impulsive driving and the need for better safety regulations for motorcyclists.

They believe that it is crucial to provide a platform for students to express their opinions and ideas. The State Editors have been vocal in their support of the new initiative, calling it a step in the right direction. They believe that it will help to engage students in the political process and promote a more inclusive and participatory democracy.

The PEOPLE’S Voice

Bill Taup

There’s Got To Be A Better Way

I can’t begin to believe that massive numbers of people are still being killed by the war in Iraq. Every day, we hear stories of innocent civilians being targeted. This is unacceptable, and it must stop. We need to find a better way to resolve these conflicts, one that doesn’t involve violence and destruction. We must work towards a peaceful resolution, one that respects the rights of all parties involved. We need leaders who are committed to finding solutions, not just continuing the cycle of violence.

HOLLYWOOD GADABOUT

By SUMNER R. GARDIN

Beverly Hills - Motion pictures are a popular pastime in Beverly Hills, and it's not unusual to see famous faces in the audience at a showing of a new movie. But even when the stars are not present, there is always something to see at the local theaters.

The latest film to attract Hollywoodites is "The Great Gatsby," which has been drawing crowds to the El Capitan Theater for its opening weekend. The film, directed by Baz Luhrmann, tells the story of Jay Gatsby, a wealthy man who seeks to win back his former love, Daisy Buchanan.

On the set of the film, actor Leonardo DiCaprio, who plays Gatsby, was seen chatting with director Luhrmann. "Leo and Baz have a great rapport," said a source. "They're both very focused on the project and are really enjoying themselves.""The Great Gatsby" is expected to be a box office hit, and many celebrities have already been line up for front row seats at the premiere.

In other Hollywood news, actress Julia Roberts, who has been working on a new romantic comedy, was spotted out on the town with her new boyfriend, actor Ryan Gosling. The couple, who met on the set of "Crazy, Stupid, Love," were seen enjoying a dinner at a popular Beverly Hills restaurant.

TV MAIL BAG

I don't get it! Why do they always put the credits to the end? I only want to see the movie, not read the entire list of names.

Answer: TV producers do this to comply with industry standards and because it's customary to put the credits at the end of a program. It's a way to give credit to the many people involved in the production of a TV show or movie.
