Notre Dame Better This Year?

BY TOM WRIGHT

It has been predicted in many magazines and newspapers all over the nation that Notre Dame will lose to some of the top teams in the football season. But let's not forget that Notre Dame has a football team that can go out and play their opponents and come out on top.

Others strongly support the idea that Notre Dame will lose because they feel that the team is not well-coached and cannot handle the pressure of playing against strong opponents. However, I believe that Notre Dame has the ability to come out on top and win these games.

I have seen pictures of the team and their coach and I believe that they are determined to win. The team is highly motivated and ready to go out and prove that they are capable of winning.

I believe that Notre Dame will be successful this year and will continue to prove that they are a top team in the nation. Let's support them and wish them the best of luck in their upcoming games.
BUFFS PICKED

BY PHIL FORD

Audy, Senior Editor

It is the lead-up to the season of the year when the Buffs are expected to be the best in the country. The Big Eight is the key to their success. The Buffs have been winners in the Big Eight for the past few years. They have won the conference and the school has produced numerous All-Americans.

But the Big Eight is not just about football. It is about the whole team. The Buffs have a strong defense, a good running game, and a solid passing game. They have a strong offense and a good defense. They have a good team and they have a good coach.

Plainsmen Prospects Looking Up

By STEVE HILL

The Plainsmen's victory over the Oklahoma Sooners was not entirely unexpected as the Sooners were in the midst of a four-game losing streak, but it did highlight some of the Plainsmen's strengths. With a victory over the Sooners, the Plainsmen are looking to continue their winning streak.

The Plainsmen's victory solidified their position at the top of the conference, and they are now looking ahead to their next game against Texas Tech. The Plainsmen are hoping to continue their winning streak and solidify their position as the conference leaders.

High School Rules Undergo Changes

Oklahoma high school football rules are being changed this fall under a new set of rules that went into effect Aug. 1. The changes were made by a special committee that met last summer to discuss possible rule changes.

The new rules include changes to the kickoff, the tackle, and the penalty for roughing the passer.

The kickoff rules were changed to allow the ball to be kicked from anywhere on the field.

The tackle rules were changed to allow the ball to be tackled from anywhere on the field.

The penalty for roughing the passer was changed to a 15-yard penalty.

FUMBLE—Fumbles will be reviewed by the referees, and if a fumble is ruled a fumble, the referees will review the tape to determine whether the fumble was a fumble or an fumble by the opposing team.

The referees will also review any fumble that occurs during a game to determine whether the fumble was a fumble or an fumble by the opposing team.

The rule also states that if a fumble occurs during a game and the ball is not recovered by the team that had possession of the ball at the time of the fumble, the ball will be awarded to the team that had possession of the ball at the time of the fumble.

TACKLING—Tackles will be reviewed by the referees, and if a tackle is ruled a tackle, the referees will review the tape to determine whether the tackle was a tackle or a tackle by the opposing team.

The referees will also review any tackle that occurs during a game to determine whether the tackle was a tackle or a tackle by the opposing team.
