Cigit Oil Lease Center Of Furoor

- Governor's Office Steps Into Dispute

Dr. Harry Custer

For alleged failure to pay a $200 bond imposed on him, Cigit Service Oil Co. may have a Carter County oil lease vacated by a federal judge. A check of Seattle Times (Seattle, Wash.) revealed that a hearing will be held at 10 a.m. Monday at federal court in Oklahoma City.

The bond was required to secure the attendance of defendant David Custer, a former oil company executive, before a federal grand jury in connection with an investigation of possible violations of the Federal Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act. The grand jury was convened in 1984 to/investigate the activities of the Cigit Oil Company, a subsidiary of the Oklahoma City-based Service Oil Co.

The hearing is scheduled for Monday morning at 10 a.m. in the courtroom of U.S. District Judge line, who will hear arguments and make a ruling on the motion to vacate the lease.

The case involves a lease held by Cigit Service Oil Co. on federal land in Carter County, Oklahoma. The company was charged with violations of the RICO Act, which prohibits acts of racketeering and conspiracy to commit racketeering.

In a statement released by the company, Cigit Service Oil Co. denied any wrongdoing and asserted its innocence. The company said it was cooperating fully with the federal authorities and had no indication of any wrongdoing by its employees.

The company said it was seeking to resolve the matter through the legal process and hoped for a prompt and fair resolution.

The United States Department of Justice has been involved in the investigation and has taken steps to ensure that justice is served.

In a separate development, a federal judge has ordered the seizure of assets held by Cigit Service Oil Co. as part of the ongoing investigation.

The company has been ordered to turn over all assets held in its name, including cash, property, and other assets.

The judge has also ordered the company to provide full disclosure of all assets held in its name, including bank accounts, investments, and other assets.

The judge’s order is intended to ensure that all assets are frozen until the conclusion of the investigation.

The company has been given until the end of the week to comply with the order.

The seizure of assets is a common tactic in such investigations and is intended to prevent the company from transferring or dissipating assets that may be subject to forfeiture.

The case is being handled by the United States Attorney’s Office for the Western District of Oklahoma.

Agent Unveil Tale Of Holt's Arrest

By PEGGY KIRKLAND

David Service was gunned down in front of his home in Oklahoma City, on March 13, 1985. He was shot by police who said he had shot a woman earlier in the day.

The trial of the police officers who killed Service began this week in Oklahoma City. The officers were charged with first-degree murder.

The case has been closely watched by the public and the press, and has generated considerable interest.

The trial has been described as a test case for the operation of the Oklahoma City Police Department.

The police officer who shot Service, Officer John Doe, was found guilty of first-degree murder.

Wintry Storm Bewitches Cityans: Brews Accidents

By PHILIP MORRIS

The snow and wind that swept through Oklahoma City on Sunday night were much more severe than expected.

The National Weather Service reported that winds gusting to 50 mph were recorded in some areas of the city.

The storm caused several accidents, including a car crash on the city’s south side.

In addition, there were reports of power outages and tree damage.

The snow also caused difficulties for some city residents, who were without power for several hours.

Weather Play Spook

The wintry weather in Oklahoma City is expected to continue through the week, with more snow and wind expected.

5,000 Flee Brush Fires
In California

LIE N. LINDSTROM

Major L.L. Madsen fled brush fires in California, where he was working as a military police officer. Madsen was said to be in the thick of the fire, using his military training to save lives and property.

Madsen had been on active duty with the U.S. Army at the time of the fire, and had been deployed to California to assist with wildfire efforts.

Madsen was reported missing by his family on July 31, 1986, after the fire in California had burned for several days.

In a statement released by the U.S. Department of Defense, Madsen’s family said they were heartbroken by his disappearance and were working with the military to locate him.

In addition, Madsen’s family said they were thankful for the support they had received from the military and the community.

85 Chastized For ‘Panty Raid’

The Oklahoman

In a recent incident, 85 residents of a small town in Oklahoma were charged with trespassing and vandalism.

The residents were said to have broken into a police station and extensively damaged property.

A local police chief said the incident was a result of frustration with the county sheriff’s department, which had previously failed to take action on similar incidents.

The residents were said to have broken into the police station and damaged several vehicles, including a police cruiser.

The incident has sparked outrage in the community, and many residents are calling for the resignation of the county sheriff.

The sheriff has denied the residents’ claims and said the incident was a result of an isolated act.

The incident has also sparked concern among local law enforcement agencies, who are working to address the issue.

Film Setting Trend For 'Clean Pictures'

The trend toward 'clean pictures' has gained momentum as a result of public concern over the depiction of violence and other inappropriate content in films. Many studios are now working with directors to ensure that their films meet the standards set by the ratings board, which has implemented new guidelines to prevent the release of films that are deemed too violent or inappropriate for certain age groups.

Thieu Wants Talks With N. Vietnam

In an effort to diplomatic relations, the government of South Vietnam has expressed interest in initiating talks with the government of North Vietnam. This move is seen as a sign of the growing political tension in the region, as both countries continue to engage in conflicts over territorial disputes and other regional issues.

Search For Cure Pushed

The search for a cure for arthritis is gaining momentum as researchers work to develop new treatments for this painful and disabling condition. Many organizations are now focusing on funding research into the causes of arthritis and the development of new medications that can help alleviate the symptoms of the disease.

Appeal Aids Arthritis Group

The arthritis group has launched a new campaign to raise awareness about the disease and to encourage people to donate to their cause. They are hoping to raise enough funds to support further research into the disease and to provide support to those who are suffering from arthritis.

Draft Rockefeller Movement Starts

A new movement has emerged to draft Senator Rockefeller for the presidency. The movement is gaining momentum as more and more people are drawn to his ideas and his vision for the country.

Bank Suspects Arraigned

Three men have been arrested and charged with bank robbery. They are believed to have carried out the robbery at a local bank, stealing a large amount of cash.

The jury hears DA's Prober

The trial of the bank robbery suspects is set to begin this week. The district attorney's office has been working closely with the police to build a strong case against the defendants.
