The PEOPLE'S Voice

O.C. Can't 'Go It Alone'

William D. P. Taylor, President of the Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce, recently announced that the Chamber will support the proposed changes in the city's tax structure.

The Chamber has been working with the city and state governments to develop a plan that will help to improve the city's economic future. We believe that the proposed changes will help to attract new businesses and create jobs for our residents.

State Editors Say

Teachers Threat Off Strike

The Oklahoma State Teachers Association has announced that it will begin a strike if the state legislature does not pass a bill that increases teacher salaries.

The association has been working with the state legislature to develop a plan that will help to improve the financial situation for Oklahoma teachers. We believe that the proposed changes will help to attract new businesses and create jobs for our residents.

That Mystery Poll

Every year, the Oklahoma State University Extension Service conducts a survey to determine the level of support for the state's tax structure.

This year's survey found that the majority of respondents believe that the state's tax structure is not fair and that changes are needed.

The survey also found that the majority of respondents believe that the state's education system needs improvement.

The survey results will be used to help inform the development of future legislation and policies that will help to improve the state's economy and quality of life.

Another Development By Tom Morris Enterprises
Electric heating is becoming increasingly competitive in the home heating industry due to the downward trend of electric rates. During the past 30 years, OG&E has reduced the average residential electric rates over 50%—despite the greatly inflated price of nearly everything else in the family budget.

The economy of electricity plus the convenience, comfort and cleanliness of total electric living has made Gold Medallion Homes the most modern, financially-sound investment on the market today!

BUY a '67 Gibson today and forget it till.... 1977!

(That's when Gibson's ten-year warranty ends! Now wouldn't you say that any company that has the confidence to guarantee anything for TEN YEARS must build a great product?)

Gibson isn't worried about breakdowns. They've been in the business since 1877 and they rarely have a service call. Now they've doubled their warranty to ten years on their new Frost Clear models—that's double the guarantee most other companies in this country give you on a refrigerator. Besides ten years protection you can enjoy the lowest operating cost of any refrigerator on this planet.

Now since a Gibson initially costs less than the other big name equipment, and costs less to run and is worry free for ten years, doesn't it make good sense to buy Gibson if you are interested in a refrigerator or freezer? As a matter of fact, if you buy anything else, you'll be out in the cold.
