Urban Migration Reverse Sought

Far-Reaching Rural Development Effort Needed

A survey of rural development projects is underway in several states to determine the economic impact of urban migration on rural areas. The projects aim to create jobs and improve living conditions in rural communities affected by urban migration. The survey is expected to provide valuable insights into the effectiveness of existing rural development programs and help in the formulation of new policies. The survey results will be released in the near future.

Modeling Fee 'Well-Earned,' Says Wilhelmina

By JEROME BROWN

New York--The modeling firm of Wilhelmina said it plans to raise its rates for modeling.

A spokesperson said, "Our rates have been too low for too long. We've had to keep them that way to stay competitive." The spokesperson did not specify what the new rates would be.

The spokesperson also said, "We've been in business for 30 years, and we've always been on the cutting edge of fashion. We've always been willing to take risks. We've always been willing to push the boundaries.

But times have changed. The modeling industry has become a billion-dollar industry. We need to reflect that.

We've always been a small, mom-and-pop operation. But we can no longer afford to operate that way.

So we're going to raise our rates. That's it."

Our Other Vietnam

The war in Vietnam has been called a "hot war," yet it appears to be anything but that. The war is, in fact, a political and ideological struggle, not a conventional military conflict. The United States is fighting against the communist insurgency, while North Vietnam is fighting to unite the country under communist rule. The war is not just a battle between two nations, but a struggle for the soul of Vietnam.

Quake Effect Still Studied

The effects of the recent earthquake in Oklahoma City are still being studied. Experts are trying to determine the cause of the earthquake, which was one of the largest in the state's history. The quake caused significant damage to buildings and infrastructure, and there are concerns about the potential for future earthquakes in the area.

State Editors Say

State editors have expressed concern about the state of education in Oklahoma. They have noted that funding for education is declining, and that the state is not doing enough to prepare students for the workforce.

Quotes

Billy Graham: "We believe in the power of prayer. God can move mountains, and He can move the heart of a person."
Home Building Makes Strong City Comeback

BY RICHARD H. WARD

This building boom is making young Oklahoma City look and feel more like Denver, Colorado. The city's new homes have been selling like hotcakes, and the economy is booming as a result. In fact, some say that Oklahoma City is now one of the most desirable places to live in the country.

don't you want the right to choose?

Every year, many Oklahomans ask the same question: "Do you want to work for a union, or do you want to choose your own path?" This is a question that has been asked for decades, and the answer is still the same: the right to work is a basic human right.

RIGHT TO WORK means:

FOR - Voluntary union membership
AGAINST - Compulsory union membership

Who Makes The Loudest Noise Over Vietnam?
Movie Portrays Life Of Hippie

Not that the hippie movement has been promised as being dead, the motion picture industry has finally produced the first authentic, full-length color picture about hippie life in its prestigious West-Adams district.

The film, appropriately titled "Freaks," has been completed and is now being filmed by producer-director Jack G. Cohn, who has been making documentaries for the past ten years. The film is being shot in color and is expected to be released in time for the Christmas season.

James Coburn, Jean Shrimpton, and Georges Guérin provide marquee names for the film, now playing at the Century Theatre.

Sinatra Runs Show At Film's Premiere

By JOHN VOSE

Two major news stories arrived on the newspapers' doorstep this week - Harry Cohn's new film, "Tony Rome," and Frank Sinatra's new album, "Francis."

Cohn's film, the first in the series, is set in the late 1930s and early 1940s, when Sinatra was a young man in Hollywood. The film is based on the true story of how Sinatra became a movie star.

Sinatra's album, "Francis," is his first to feature the singer's own compositions. The album includes songs such as "Love Me or Leave Me," "I've Got You Under My Skin," and "Immigrant."

On November 19, Sinatra ran the show at a private screening of "Tony Rome." The event was attended by stars such as Sophia Loren, Marlon Brando, and Elizabeth Taylor. Sinatra's performance was widely praised, and the audience was on its feet by the end of the screening.

The premiere of "Tony Rome" was held at the Loews指标电影院, and Sinatra attended the event wearing a tuxedo and a gold bow tie. He was accompanied by his wife, Ava Gardner.

Wyeth has been called the greatest painter of our time, and the show will feature works by Wyeth's father, Andrew Wyeth.

Wyeth's retrospective is expected to draw a large crowd, as the show is expected to last for two weeks.

Andrew Wyeth is a famous American artist, known for his paintings of landscapes and cityscapes. His work is often characterized by a sense of isolation and melancholy.

"A Piece of Each of Us Died"

A special gift guide — a unique way to remember JFK

BY DAVID NELSON

Special to The New York Times

SOUTH BEND, Ind. — One of the last times John F. Kennedy was seen publicly in South Bend, Ind., was on Oct. 31, 1960, when he spoke at a campaign rally here. Now, 15 years later, the city is marking the anniversary of the assassination of the 35th president with a special gift guide that commemorates his life and legacy.

The guide, "A Piece of Each of Us Died," is a collection of items that represent different aspects of Kennedy's life and career. It includes everything from books about the president to collectible coins and other memorabilia.

The guide is available for purchase at the South Bend Convention Center, where a special exhibit is also on display. The exhibit features photos and memorabilia from Kennedy's time in office, as well as items from his home in Hyannis Port, Mass.

"A Piece of Each of Us Died" is just one of many special gift guides that have been released in recent years to commemorate the 50th anniversary of Kennedy's assassination. Other guides have featured items such as postcards, t-shirts, and even a commemorative coin.

Kennedy's legacy continues to be celebrated in many ways, from the annual centerpiece for the White House Correspondents' Dinner to the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, which hosts a fall festival each year.

"A Piece of Each of Us Died" is available for purchase at the South Bend Convention Center, located at 1101 East Jefferson Boulevard. The center is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, and Sunday from 12 p.m. to 5 p.m. The exhibit is free and open to the public.

For more information, visit the South Bend Convention Center website at www.sbc.org or call 219-232-4600.

From MuuMuu to Mod

Hawaiian fashions run all the way from the traditional wrap-around to a swinging young look.

It may come as a surprise to a lot of people, but Hawaiian fashion does not consist of nothing but muus and aloha shirts (and gauze skirts). Hawaiians have plenty of mountains, and great cars, but it also has something to say about the format of the national style. While there are many advertisements by the Hawaiian Fashion Guild, and there are some fine designs to see. All of them are designed to be worn in order to wear, not just as fashion but as a way to wear it. All of these trends are mandated by the culture, and the people who are wearing them are very much aware of the world. All of these trends are very much aware of the world. The world is very much aware of the world.

Though Hawaiian designs are very much influenced from all over the world, every culture is still the same. Many of the trends are copied from both and patterns which originate from the world. On the other hand, the national style of dress is influenced by the world. It's by the Fashion of Hawaii.

Popular styles include hula skirts with hula shoes and a hula stick. It's a wrap-around with matching hula shoes underneath.

Wrap-around hula skirts made by Kahala Sportswear in dark blue and white cotton print. Back snap ties.

 Brilliant pink and Justice wool cloth-type pants by Mother of Hawaii, slit in the middle, even more hula pants.

"Juicy" mix colors worn by Boba Kea in hula skirts. Marks for ladies of hula skirts.

By Clementine Puddleford

For the holiday entertaining ahead, we've devised this Pruressa Apple Tart, swerving 14 layers high, crosswise with swathes of whipped cream and surrounded by a saucer of grappa-scented whipped cream. It's surrounded by two, soft and sweet, highlighted with a generous gap of apple sauce through each layer.

Make it a far advanced. The rich melon flavor right upon stirring. Little in dim windows for serving.
