Poisoned Bread Kills 74 In Colombia

CHIQUINQUIRA, Colombia (AP)—Deadly bread was baked with poison in the dough, and all 74 victims have been identified. The attack occurred in the town of El Carrizal, near the capital city of Bogotá. The victims were women and children, mainly from poor families. Most of the victims were children, and the government is investigating the cause of the poisonings. The attack has caused widespread fear and panic throughout the country.

Food Prices Cheat Poor?

U.S. LABOR DEPARTMENT'S latest report on price trends shows that food prices continue to rise at a pace that is staggering the nation's working poor. The report reveals that the cost of living for the average American family has increased by 3.5% in the past year, with food prices rising by 4.2%.

Tax Move 'Political'?

RICHARDSON, TX — Senate Majority Leader Trent Franks (R-Ariz.) said Wednesday that the new tax cut bill passed by the House of Representatives is a political move designed to appeal to his constituents. Franks, who represents a district with a high percentage of working-class voters, said the measure would not affect the overall budget deficit and would not provide significant benefits to the average family.

Infiltration Story False, Say Reds

CINCINNATI — The story of the Reds' infiltration of the National League's American Division is false, according to team officials. The reports of the Reds' infiltration are based on a series of leaks from within the team, and the Reds have taken steps to prevent any further leaks.

Cold Air Slugs Midwest

A winter storm moved through the Midwest on Tuesday, bringing cold temperatures and heavy snowfall. The storm is expected to linger for several days, causing travel disruptions and power outages in the region.

Seeress Startles With Prediction About Family

A Gift Of Prophecy, VII: Death Of Father 'Seen Across Continent'

It seems unlikely that the seeress, whose visions have guided the city's leaders for centuries, will ever be wrong. Her predictions have always come true, and her visions are considered sacred by the city's inhabitants. The latest prophecy, which foresees the death of a father, has caused much consternation among the city's residents.

Presley And Friends
Elvis Presley and friends are seen in the magic-laden film "Circus," now playing at the State Theater. Elvis has called Friday's performance "theirs to decide."

Elvis At Best
Elvis Presley is at his best in "Circus," and he needs a new one for his next film. "The film," said a Beaches theater, "is one of the best things ever to come to the screen." More than just a great story, the film is a celebration of the art of film making and the joy of seeing it all with a smile.

'Luke' Winner
Good Morning America's No. 1 movie show, "Good Morning America," which now has its own show, "The Luke Show," is a hit. The show has grown to number one in the country.

Tense Drama
"In The Heat of the Night," another murder mystery film, had a successful opening last week at the State Theater. The film is about a detective who is sent to solve a murder in a small town.

Sinatra A Tough Guy
Frank Sinatra plays a tough detective in his latest film, "Tony Rome," now playing at the Criterion.

'Rolls' Doll Perfect Fit
For Barbara

LOIS ANGEL (368)-"Dolls' Roll" perfect fit for Barbara.

The Oklahoma City Civic Theatre, 222 N. Broadway, will open its season tomorrow night with "Dolls' Roll," a musical comedy by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman. The play is directed by Maurice Stuart, and the cast includes Barbara Parsons, Mike lmman, and several other members of the Oklahoma City Civic Theatre company.

Dolls' Roll is the story of a young girl, Barbara, who inherits a large collection of antique dolls from her grandmother. She decides to sell the dolls to raise money for a new nursery school. However, the dolls are so special to Barbara that she refuses to part with them, and she must find a way to keep them while also fulfilling her promise to her grandmother.

Barbara Parsons plays the lead role of Barbara, and she is perfectly suited for the part. Her charming personality and natural ability to connect with the audience make her a perfect fit for the role.

The music and choreography are also outstanding, with lively tunes and eye-catching dance routines that keep the audience entertained throughout the show. The production values are high, with beautifully designed sets and costumes that enhance the overall production.

Overall, Dolls' Roll" is a delightful musical comedy that is sure to please audiences of all ages. It is a perfect fit for Barbara, and I highly recommend it to anyone who enjoys good music and a touching story.

This week's top song is a favorite among many music lovers. "Light My Fire" by The Doors is the latest hit from their debut album. The Doors were formed in Los Angeles in 1965 by Jim Morrison, Robby Krieger, John Densmore, and Ray Manzarek. Their music was characterized by their unique blend of blues, rock, and poetry, and their live performances were known for their intensity and hedonistic displays. The band's influence on the music world was immense, and they are considered one of the most important bands of the 1960s. Their hits include "Riders on the Storm," "Hello, I Love You," and "Break on Through (To the Other Side)."

KATHERINE PROFITON: The niece of Katherine Hepburn, who will star with her son, Sidney Poitier, in the last Spencer Tracy film "Giant," is a girl I have known since she was born. Her father, Hurford businesswoman Edward Grant, is a college graduate. So I admit a prejudice—ladies adores Katherine (Kathy calls me Kath, or La La, but I don’t dare for other people’s names) was, as a child, beautiful and sensitive, and gay and outgoing. Then, as a girl, as a Quaker school topic, she was skilled with a mysterious outer paraplegia. In her arms and feet. At times she could move. At other times she couldn’t. For three years she had no energy, slept all the time. And, to keep down the pain, was given as many as six painkillers a day.

She dropped out of school. I lied any treatment anyone could think of. I tried, including crying nothing—that is in usual performance. Nothing worked—but even the nothing. I had had attractive—yes, the best possible—she knew she would be killed. In some way of thing—and all the world knew all of her...

AT FAVORITE TOY COUNTERS EVERYWHERE... WORLD FAMOUS FOR QUALITY... THE OHIO ART COMPANY, BRYAN, OHIO

By ANNE HOBSON FREEMAN

Each has had at least one adopted and one natural child — and each says the experience is amazingly similar

THERE'S no escaping that the people of Toledo, Ohio, are family oriented. The city was founded by two religious groups — the Amish and the mennonites — and both groups have maintained their ties. The result is a strong sense of community and a focus on family. This is reflected in the attitudes of the parents interviewed for this article.

The first mother, Sheila Temple, is a single mother with two adopted children. She has been an advocate for adoption since she decided to adopt her first child. Sheila says that she has been able to provide a stable environment for her children, and that they have thrived in this setting. Sheila has been an active member of the adoption community, and has been involved in many advocacy groups.

The second mother, Maria, is a married mother with two natural children. She says that she and her husband have always been open to the idea of adoption, and that they are glad that they were able to give two children a home. Maria says that she and her husband have been active in their community, and that they have been able to provide a stable environment for their children.

Both Sheila and Maria say that the experience of adoption has been positive for their children, and that they are glad that they were able to provide a stable environment for them. They say that they have learned a lot from the experience, and that they have been able to use this knowledge to benefit their children.

Both Sheila and Maria say that they would recommend adoption to other parents, and that they believe that adoption is a positive way to build a family. They say that they are glad that they were able to provide a stable environment for their children, and that they are grateful for the opportunity to do so.

The experience of adoption has been positive for both Sheila and Maria, and they say that they are glad that they were able to provide a stable environment for their children. They say that they have learned a lot from the experience, and that they are grateful for the opportunity to do so.
Three Mothers

Three women were talking about the advantages of adoption.

One woman said, "I adopted a baby. It was the best thing I ever did." The other woman replied, "I had twins. They were wonderful, but they were a lot of work." And the third woman said, "I joined a commune. It was a great experience, but it wasn't for me."
Tomorrow’s Leaders?

A few weeks ago Marshall McLean, the president of the Christian Church, whose activities are largely centered in New York, sent me a letter in which he expressed his concern over the direction of higher education. He said that there is a crisis in American education, and that it is time for the educational community to take action to correct it.

McLean was particularly critical of the trend towards specialization in higher education. He said that the emphasis on narrow fields of study has led to a lack of understanding of the big picture, and that students are not being taught the skills they need to succeed in the real world.

McLean also criticized the increasing reliance on standardized tests as a way of evaluating students. He said that these tests are not a true measure of a student’s abilities, and that they are not fair to students from different backgrounds.

McLean made several recommendations for improving higher education. He said that there should be more emphasis on general education, and that students should be encouraged to take a wide variety of courses. He also said that there should be more opportunities for students to participate in community service and other extracurricular activities.

McLean ended his letter by saying that he was hopeful that the educational community would take action to address these issues, and that he believed that higher education could be transformed into a force for good in society.

Something Good from Vietnam

Our medics have had to deal with a new kind of war that will benefit millions here at home.

A thong way, like an ill wind, is supposed to blow good as well as bad. It is a fact that原来 every million of people today owe their health, if not their lives, to war. From the Civil War to the present, Americans have fought in battles that have taught us how to save the wounded from the battlefield to the hospital. The Navy has adopted some of the new techniques to save the lives of its sailors, and to bring the wounded home as soon as possible.

The远战 has a new dimension to the battlefield. The newmedics have more power over the injured. They can now use their new tools to save lives and to bring them home. The newmedics have more power over the injured. They can now use their new tools to save lives and to bring them home.
CHRISTIAN UNITY

A Bright New Hope For All Mankind

Our generation is witness to many exciting and historic events. The discovery of nuclear energy, the conquest of space, the development of the atomic age, the technological advances...the list goes on and on. But there is one event that stands out above all others: the rise of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

Revelation, restoration of the Gospel, and the establishment of the Church: these are the events that have brought about a new hope for all mankind. For the Church is the fulness of the Gospel, and it is through the Church that salvation is possible for all people, both those who are living and those who have passed on. The Church is a beacon of light in a world that is often黑暗 and uncertain.

In recent years, the Church has made great strides in its mission to spread the Gospel throughout the world. Missionaries have been sent to every continent, and members of the Church have been able to share the message of salvation with people of all nations and cultures.

The Church is not just about proselytizing, however. It is also about providing help and support to those in need. Members of the Church work to help those who are hungry, homeless, and sick. They provide education and opportunities for self-improvement to those who are less fortunate. The Church is a living example of the love and compassion that Jesus Christ taught us to have for one another.

In conclusion, the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints is a shining light in a dark world. It offers hope and salvation to all who seek it. It is a place where people can find love, support, and a sense of purpose. The Church is a beacon of light in a world that is often黑暗 and uncertain, and it is through the Church that we can find hope for the future.
