Poweil's Seat Costs $25,000

Colleagues Level Fine After 5-Hour Wrangle

Grin And Bear It

The brother, unable to tolerate and unwilling to audible, Addison Oliver, Powell, for the second time in his career, has cost the state $25,000 in campaign expenses. On Tuesday, December 21, 1955, in a 5-hour adjournment, the state legislature passed a resolution to penalize Powell for his campaign expenses.

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The House, in a move to prevent the seat, voted by a vote of 120 to 30, to fine Powell $25,000 for campaign expenses. The vote came after a five-hour debate, during which House members debated the merits of Powell's campaign, including the expenses incurred.

The resolution stated that Powell's campaign expenses were not in compliance with federal campaign laws. The resolution also noted that Powell had spent $25,000 in campaign expenses, which included travel, food, and lodging for his campaign workers.

Powell, in his remarks before the vote, argued that his campaign was in compliance with federal laws and that the fine was unwarranted. He noted that his campaign workers had been paid fairly and that the expenses incurred were necessary for the success of his campaign.

The fine was met with mixed reactions from colleagues. Some expressed concern about the fine's impact on Powell, while others praised the move as a necessary step to ensure compliance with federal laws.

The resolution passed by a vote of 120 to 30, with 87 Republicans and 33 Democrats voting in favor. The fine will be paid from Powell's office expenses.

Gls Battle Red Plans On Buildup

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The House, in a move to prevent the buildup of GLS, has voted to override President Roosevelt's veto on the GLS bill. The vote came after a five-hour debate, during which House members debated the merits of the GLS bill.

The bill, which was vetoed by President Roosevelt, was intended to increase the nation's military capabilities. The bill included provisions for the construction of new military bases, the expansion of the armed forces, and the increase of military spending.

The vote to override the veto came after a long and heated debate. The vote was 216 to 214, with 106 Republicans and 100 Democrats voting in favor. The override will go into effect immediately.

Kennedy Pulls Off Rare Coup

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The House, in a move to prevent the coup, has voted to override President Kennedy's veto on the coup bill. The vote came after a five-hour debate, during which House members debated the merits of the coup bill.

The bill, which was vetoed by President Kennedy, was intended to increase the nation's political capabilities. The bill included provisions for the overthrow of foreign governments, the expansion of the political parties, and the increase of political spending.

The vote to override the veto came after a long and heated debate. The vote was 216 to 214, with 106 Republicans and 100 Democrats voting in favor. The override will go into effect immediately.

Cold Wave Flag Flies

The weather conditions have caused warning to coal and northern Oklahoma. Powell Friday night and will not hold the sun until Saturday. The snow and cold weather have kept the temperature below zero.

The temperature in the morning is 0 degrees F. and will remain at that temperature throughout the day. The wind is blowing from the north, and the visibility is poor.

Mesh Jerseys May Reduce Grid Deaths

NEW YORK (AP) - The sharp edges on mesh jerseys worn by gridiron players are removing a current of electricity and causing deaths, an expert said Saturday.

"The current of electricity is a problem," said Dr. John Smith, a medical consultant on safety in sports. "The sharp edges on mesh jerseys can cause the current to flow through the person and create a hazard." He said many deaths have occurred in recent years due to this phenomenon.

"It's a serious problem," he said. "We need to find a solution to this immediate threat to our gridiron players." He added that he was working on a solution that would involve the use of a new type of jersey that would prevent the current from flowing through the body.

"We are working on a solution," he said. "We are going to have to find a way to make the jersey safer. We need to find a way to make the jersey safe for everyone." He added that he was working on a solution that would involve the use of a new type of jersey that would prevent the current from flowing through the body.

Kansas Socked By Cold Wave

Retired Cleaners Owner, 88, Dead

Ozark, Mo. (AP) - A retired cleaner and owner of a cleaning business was killed Saturday in a cold wave that swept through the area.

"The cold wave was really bad," said Police Chief John Doe. "We had 10 inches of snow fall in the area." He said the man, whose name was not released, was found dead in his home.

"It was really bad," he said. "We had a lot of problems with the cold wave." He added that the police were investigating the death to determine if it was related to the cold wave.

Rites Set For Landis

Proprietor Of Country Store Shot

Butler, Okla. (AP) - A country store proprietor was shot and killed Saturday in Butler, Okla.

"It was a very violent incident," said Police Chief John Doe. "We had a lot of problems with the store." He said the man was killed in the store and the police were investigating to determine if it was related to the store.

"It was a very violent incident," he said. "We had a lot of problems with the store." He added that the police were investigating the death to determine if it was related to the store.
