Bill To Elevate Nigh Launches Parks Fight

By DAVID CROCKETT

Laden with the prospect of new revenue for one of the hardest hit businesses in the city, a bill to relieve the city of some of the burden of operating playgrounds and parks was introduced this week. The bill, which would allocate funds from the city's bond program to support the parks department, is expected to be considered by the city council at its next meeting.

The bill is being introduced by City Councilman Bob Taylor, who said it is long overdue. "This is a matter of fairness," he said. "The parks department has been underfunded for years, and it's time we did something about it."

The bill would provide $1 million annually for the parks department, which is currently operating on a budget of $600,000. The additional funds would be used to hire more staff and maintain facilities.

"This is a matter of basic fairness," said Taylor. "The parks department is doing an excellent job, and they deserve a break."
Anti-Sex Education 'Extremists' Irk Leaders

Just As The Twig Is Bent

What local teachers and school administrators are hearing is that sex education and the teaching of human sexuality are not always being handled in the best manner. The problem ranges from the way sex education is taught to the type of materials used in the classroom.

Teaching About Sex—End Of Series

Why Do You Read So Slow?

While some parents find that their children are being taught about sex and human relationships in a way they feel is not appropriate, others feel that the only way to properly educate children about human sexuality is through sex education programs.

CSC's FM Radio Station Boon To Fans Of Classics

By CAROLYN HUNTER

It's not every day that a radio station turns 25. But that's how old KOCM has become, and the station is now celebrating that milestone.

The station, which is owned by the University of Oklahoma, has been broadcasting a wide variety of music and talk shows since its inception. It was founded in 1947 as a way to reach students and faculty on campus.

Since then, KOCM has become a staple of Oklahoma City's radio landscape, attracting listeners with its eclectic mix of music and programming.

Today, the station continues to thrive, with a staff of dedicated employees who work tirelessly to bring the best in music and news to the community.

Methodists Rebuff N.Y. Bank For Giving Aid To S. Africa

The United Methodist Church has decided not to renew its banking relationship with a New York City bank that lends money to South Africa.

The decision was made after a meeting with the bank, which said it would stop lending to South Africa, but in effect continued to lend.

The church will continue to work with its own bank, and not with the New York bank.

Nightclub: Setting For 'Maternity Show'

The new nightclub, which is set to open next month, will feature a 'maternity show.'

The concept is innovative, as it will showcase expectant mothers and their families in a public setting.

The club will also feature live music, food, and drinks.

Legislator To Amend Bill Appearing To Back Winters

A state legislator has introduced an amendment to a bill that appears to support offshore drilling in the Gulf of Mexico.

The amendment would allow the state to explore for oil and gas in the Gulf, a move that has been met with opposition from environmental groups.

However, the legislator argues that the amendment would help to create jobs and boost the state's economy.

Will The Future Be Kind To Mr. Johnson?

By Robert J. Drinan

As President Johnson prepares to leave the White House, it is appropriate to ask whether his legacy will be a source of pride or one of regret. In his years in office, Johnson has been credited with many significant achievements, including the Great Society programs and the passage of civil rights legislation. However, his tenure has also been marked by controversy, including the Vietnam War and the Watergate scandal.

Many Respect Him, But Many Hate Him

There is a great deal of respect for Johnson among many Americans, who recognize his efforts to improve the lives of the nation's citizens. He is often praised for his ability to work with Congress on legislation, and for his dedication to social justice.

No Great Society Left By Johnson

Despite his many accomplishments, there is also a sense that Johnson's legacy is incomplete. The Great Society programs, for example, have been criticized for their failure to address the root causes of poverty and inequality. Moreover, the Vietnam War, which Johnson escalated as the war in South Vietnam, has left a lasting impact on American society.

FEBRUARY 17, 1975

In this era of rapid technological change and increasing global interconnectedness, the ability to adapt and innovate is more important than ever. As we reflect on the life and legacy of Lyndon B. Johnson, it is clear that his approach to leadership was characterized by a deep sense of purpose and a willingness to take bold action in pursuit of his goals.

The Life of Lyndon B. Johnson

Lyndon B. Johnson was born on August 27, 1908, in Karnack, Texas. He attended the University of Texas and later served in the U.S. Navy during World War II. After the war, he returned to Texas and began a successful career in politics, serving as a U.S. senator from 1949 to 1961.

The Role of the President

As the 36th President of the United States, Johnson was instrumental in shaping American foreign policy, particularly in relation to the Vietnam War. He inherited a situation in which the U.S. was committed to supporting the South Vietnamese government, but was faced with increasing anti-war sentiments at home.

The Legacy of Lyndon B. Johnson

Johnson's legacy is complex and controversial. While he is remembered for his role in passing landmark civil rights and anti-poverty legislation, he is also remembered for his authorship of the Tonkin Gulf Resolution, which authorized military action in Vietnam.

The Future of American Politics

As we look to the future, it is clear that the lessons of Johnson's presidency remain relevant. The ability to work across ideological lines and to take bold action in pursuit of the greater good is more important than ever. As we continue to grapple with the challenges of our time, we can draw inspiration from the legacy of Lyndon B. Johnson, who dedicated his life to serving his country and its people.

Albert, Steed Boost Harris For Party Job

WASHINGTON (AP) - Democratic candidates for governor and lieutenant governor, Bill Steed and Tom Harris, have been endorsed by the party's House Majority Leader, Carl Albert, of Edmond.

Albert, a Democrat, is a leader in the House minority group. The endorsement comes after a meeting between the candidates and Albert at the Capitol. Albert said he believes Steed and Harris will be good leaders for the state.

In other political news, the state's Republican candidates for governor, Frank Murrah and Orrin Hatch, have been endorsed by the state's Republican party.

The endorsements were announced today at a press conference held at the Capitol. Albert said he believes the endorsements will help the candidates in their efforts to win the general election in November.

Steed and Harris have been working hard to get their message out to the voters. They have been running a series of TV and radio commercials, and have been making appearances at events across the state.

The Republican candidates have also been active in the campaign. They have been running commercials and making appearances at events, but they have not been as successful as Steed and Harris in terms of getting their message out to the voters.

Albert said he believes the endorsements will help the candidates in their efforts to win the general election. He said he believes the candidates are strong and have a good chance of winning.

The general election is set for November 6th. The candidates will be running for the position of governor, along with other state and local offices.

MARDI GRAS

Pleasant dreams...for the Young Princes!

Tonight you're a princess. Now you can know how to create the spell, see how to make your finest wish come alive. Know what it means to go to sleep under a canopy like a pink cloud. Think of a bedroom that is heavenly white. Sheer curtains billow in a heavy breeze; drapes float above your head. Old-fashioned chandeliers hang from high rafters, and pictures, prints, and paintings line the walls. This is the room of a princess.

Your bedroom is a reflection of your personality. It should be soft and feminine, with colors that are light and airy. Think of a pink canopy bed, perhaps with flowers embroidered on it. Or a white bed with gold trim. This is the bed of a princess.

Food is an important part of being a princess. Think of a lavish feast, with a variety of dishes to please the palate. It should be a meal fit for a queen.

The Mardi Gras is a time to express your own personality, with many delightful combinations in this group.
