AUTOPSY UPHOLDS DEATH PROBE

Youth Ordered Released On Bond In Tinker Deaths

By J. NELSON TAYLOR

A youth was ordered released today on $5,000 bond for the deaths of two women and a man in a Tinker County murder.

The youth, identified as James E. H. Peterson, was arrested by the Tinker County Sheriff's Department on Saturday.

According to investigators, Peterson was in the company of two women and a man who were found dead in a car at a Tinker County roadblock.

Peterson was identified as a suspect and was placed in custody.

He was charged with two counts of first-degree murder and one count of tampering with evidence.

Peterson made his first appearance in court today and was released on bond.

The deaths are being investigated as a possible murder-suicide.

Sooner Urges Study On Taxing Churches

Ho Hum! Filibuster Lives On

The University of Oklahoma's Board of Regents will be asked to consider a resolution calling for a study on the taxation of religious organizations.

The resolution, sponsored by Regent John B. Taylor, has sparked controversy among opponents who claim it would lead to the erosion of religious freedoms.

The university's budget committee has already approved the resolution, and it is expected to be brought to the full board for a vote next month.

CSU Measure Stumps Dewey

Ivan C. B. Spence said Thursday that he had turned in enough signatures to qualify for the November ballot.

Spence, a conservative Republican, has been running a write-in campaign to challenge incumbent Gov. Dewey.

Spence said he has collected more than 100,000 signatures, which is enough to place his name on the ballot.

The signatures were submitted to the state's secretary of state's office on Wednesday.

Spence said he is confident he will win the November election.

Biochemists Make Drug Breakthrough

New York (AP) -- Scientists at Columbia University have made a major breakthrough in the development of a new drug to treat cancer.

The scientists, led by Dr. John E. Dewey, have discovered a compound that appears to be effective in inhibiting the growth of cancer cells.

Dewey said the drug is a potential treatment for a variety of cancers, including breast, lung, and prostate.

The drug, called CDX-200, is being tested in preclinical trials and is expected to be approved by the Food and Drug Administration within the next year.

On Residential Construction Needs

Home Builders Urge U.S. Study

By JOE KEMPSEY
Governor John Carlinoke

The Oregonian

Over the years, the Oregon Home Builders Association has been vocal in its support of the U.S. construction industry. However, recent events have highlighted the need for a comprehensive study to address the challenges facing the industry. The association has called for the federal government to conduct a thorough examination of the sector, with a focus on identifying and implementing solutions to improve its performance. This initiative is aimed at ensuring the continued growth and development of the industry, which plays a crucial role in the state's economy. The association has expressed its readiness to collaborate with policymakers and other stakeholders to facilitate this process.
