By WES PENDLE
The special agent in charge of the Oklahoma City FBI was arrested Thursday night.

The official charges, which were announced by the FBI, were not disclosed. However, it was reported that the agent was arrested on suspicion of embezzlement.

The arrest came after an investigation by the FBI and the Oklahoma County Sheriff's Office.

The agent was identified as Richard D. Thompson, 40, of Oklahoma City. He was taken into custody at his home in the Oklahoma City area.

Thompson is a 15-year veteran of the FBI, having joined the agency in 1991. He served as an agent in several high-profile cases, including the Oklahoma City bombing.

The FBI said that the charges against Thompson were based on allegations of misappropriation of funds.

Thompson has been placed on administrative leave pending the outcome of the investigation.

The FBI declined to comment further, citing ongoing litigation.

The arrest of Thompson is the latest in a series of high-profile cases involving FBI agents.

The FBI has been under scrutiny in recent years for alleged misconduct among its agents, including interference with criminal investigations, corruption, and misuse of government resources.

The FBI has denied all allegations of wrongdoing and said that it is vigorously investigating each case.

The FBI has also faced criticism for its handling of the investigation into the death of black man George Floyd.

Floyd, a 46-year-old black man, was killed by police officers in Minneapolis on May 25, 2020.

The officers were charged with second-degree murder, third-degree murder, and manslaughter in the death of Floyd.

The FBI was asked to investigate the officers, but it has not released any findings.

The FBI has also been criticized for its handling of the investigation into the Jan. 6, 2021, attack on the U.S. Capitol.

The FBI has since released a report on the investigation, but it has not answered questions about what was found.

The FBI has also been criticized for its handling of the investigation into the death of black man Breonna Taylor.

Taylor, a 26-year-old black woman, was killed by police officers in her apartment in March 2020.

The officers were charged with murder and lesser crimes.

The FBI has been criticized for its handling of the investigation into the death of black man Trayvon Martin.

Martin, a 17-year-old black man, was killed by George Zimmerman, a neighborhood watch captain in Sanford, Florida, in 2012.

The FBI was asked to investigate the shooting, but it has not released any findings.

The FBI has also been criticized for its handling of the investigation into the death of black man Michael Brown.

Brown, an 18-year-old black man, was killed by police officers in Ferguson, Missouri, in 2014.

The officers were charged with murder and lesser crimes.

The FBI has been criticized for its handling of the investigation into the death of black man George Floyd.
