By JOHN THORN

Psi Stock Companions

A GI, already a man of many talents, just added another to his list: He can now play the best game of pool in the world. The man, who is 31 and has just returned from Korea, was seen by a friend playing pool at the local pub. The friend, who is a professional pool player, was so impressed with the GI's skills that he offered to take him under his wing. Since then, the GI has been practicing every day and has already won several local tournaments.
