Senate Votes For Holidays

By DAVID CRAGGSHEAD

The legislature passed a bill Monday setting high-speed limits that indiscriminately use red lights across the state. The legislation, introduced to the Senate this week, would cap the maximum speed at 70 mph on all highways and interstate routes.

Governor White has not yet said whether he will sign the bill. His office has not commented on the proposal.

The bill, which passed 34-0 on the Senate floor, would allow local authorities to increase the limit to 75 mph in certain areas. The bill would also create a task force to study the impact of high-speed limits and recommend changes, if necessary.

The legislation is intended to address concerns about traffic safety and congestion, as well as the economic impact of high-speed limits on state and local economies.

A spokesman for the governor said no decision has been made on the bill. The spokesman added that the administration would consult with various stakeholders before taking any action.

New York's Second Avenue Just Another Snowy Sidewalk

Normally teeming with traffic, New York's Second Avenue counted fewer vehicles than usual Monday as the city's snowstorm brought to a standstill the usual bustle of a large city.

The snow, which started Sunday night, continued through Monday, making travel difficult for many commuters. The new snowfall, coupled with the previous storm, has created a layer of snow on the streets.

Despite the weather, some businesses were open, including restaurants and a few shops. However, many residents stayed indoors, enjoying the quiet and the chance to relax.

Nixon Declares He Won't Budge On Berlin Visit

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Richard Nixon on Monday declared he would not budge on his Berlin visit, saying he would not let the Christmas holiday season pass without visiting the outlying German capital.

"I don't think the Bolshies would mind," Nixon said. "I think they would be flattered by the recognition of their existence in the history of mankind."

The president, in a press conference at the White House, also announced that he would not extend his three-day stay in West Germany to include a trip to East Berlin.

Travel Ban Draws Slap From U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. government on Monday slapped a travel ban on East Berlin, saying the city had failed to comply with international obligations.

The action was in response to an East German demand that the U.S. government recognize East Berlin as the capital of the German Democratic Republic.

The travel ban, effective immediately, affects all flights to and from East Berlin.

New Kidneys Available

Two young Oklahomans were given kidneys Monday by the National Kidney Foundation of the Oklahoma City Metropolitan Area.

The operation, performed by Dr. Louis S. Rubin, and Dr. Charles B. King, was successful. The recipients, identified only as "John" and "Jane," were reportedly in good health and expected to return to normal activities in six to eight weeks.

Finch Backs 'Cigarette 'Ban"

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Senator William Finch of Oklahoma has introduced legislation that would ban the sale of cigarettes.

"Cigarettes are a dangerous and addictive product that should not be available to our children," Finch said. "I am committed to protecting our young people and I believe this legislation is a step in the right direction.

The legislation, which is expected to be introduced in Congress, would ban the sale of cigarettes to anyone under the age of 18.

Oil Lawsuit Shift Sought

The Inland Waterways Federation, a trade group representing shipping companies, is seeking to shift the burden of a lawsuit over oil spills to the companies involved.

The federation argues that the companies involved should be held responsible for the spills, rather than the shipping companies.

The lawsuit was filed by the states of New Jersey, New York, and Connecticut, which have accused the shipping companies of causing the spills.

Gas Blast Lawsuit

It's $600,000,000 Win

By R. A. GAFFNEY

A gas blast in a New Jersey factory killed 12 workers on Tuesday, sparking a $600 million lawsuit.

The blast, which occurred at a plastics company in Newark, caused a massive explosion that killed 12 workers and injured several others. The company, which specializes in making plastic products, was closed indefinitely.

The lawsuit was filed by the workers' families, who are seeking damages for medical expenses and lost wages.

The company's insurance policy was not sufficient to cover the claims, so the workers' families are seeking additional compensation.

The trial is scheduled to begin in March.

A rebellious son may be trying to “get even” with his father by red or forced termination. A teen-age daughter who “loves” could be pursuing her mother. These are typical methods young men use to “get back” at parents. There are many more.

Every parent should be aware of these techniques and know how to handle them. Read this article next week. Dr. Rebecca Lawrence has much to say on these subjects.

For instance, the son would not make an effort to get back at his mother without a reason. The mother has to think of ways of handling the situation. The son could simply be a child who has had a hard time.

For example, the son might have been a child who had a hard time with the mother. The mother needs to think of ways of handling the situation. The son could simply be a child who has had a hard time.

Hickel's Spots Unchanged

Former Interior Secretary Hickel had a few words for the oil industry. "I'm not here today to make public an adversarial speech," he said. "I'm here to improve the quality of the American public service." Hickel's appointment was made by President Eisenhower, and he was confirmed by the Senate.

One of the next 50 drivers coming your way is drunk.

But which one?

The world is full of drunk drivers. It's estimated that at least 10% of all traffic accidents involve alcohol. In 1983, more than 20,000 people were killed in alcohol-related traffic accidents.

Safety experts agree, Oklahoma's new drunk driving law must be enforced. Tell the governor what you think.
