In order to exercise our right to vote and to be heard, we must be informed of the issues that affect us. The media plays a crucial role in providing us with the information we need to make informed decisions. But in recent times, the media has been under attack for its role in shaping public opinion. Some argue that the media is biased and controlled by special interests, while others see it as a necessary evil.

The PEOPLE'S Voice

In Vietnam, the situation is critical. The war has dragged on for decades, and there is no end in sight. The Vietnamese people are tired of fighting, and they want peace. But the United States, and other Western powers, continue to support the war effort.

Thoughts

The war in Vietnam is a tragedy. It has claimed countless lives and caused untold suffering. We must find a way to end the conflict and bring peace to the region. But this is not an easy task. It will require a commitment from all parties involved, and a willingness to negotiate in good faith.

The Tradition And The Shame

Frank Monkiewicz and Tom Broden

The tradition of public service is a noble one. It has been the backbone of our country since its inception. But in recent times, this tradition has been eroded by corruption and greed. We must work to restore the integrity of public service and ensure that those who serve the public do so with honor and integrity.
