President Must Make Choice

An important event in the Paris peace talks involving the North Vietnamese was the February 12 meeting between President Nixon and North Vietnamese President Tran Tho. North Vietnamese officials said Tho had declared the talks as "crucial." The meeting was expected to be the last before Vietnamese officials return to the United States for a "preliminary" high-level conference.

Tho's declaration came on the same day that the U.S. and North Vietnamese agreed to another round of high-level talks. The round began yesterday, with talks to continue for five days. Tho has repeatedly declared that the talks must be "successful" or "crucial" in order to avoid military action against the North Vietnamese. The talks have already been suspended for a week, due to differences in their positions.

The Peru Dispute

Hamilton's offer will probably be a minor irritant to both countries. At the very least, it is possible that the incident will be used to boost the strained relationship. But there is also the possibility of a larger threat to the region. The delicate balance of power in the region can be disrupted if the conflict continues.

Santa Clara Wins, 63-59

Santa Clara won the first-round game of the NCAA Basketball Tournament when it defeated the University of California, 63-59. The game was played at the University of California's home court, and it was a close game throughout. The final score was 63-59, with Santa Clara leading by 14 points at halftime. The game was a tough one for California, as they were unable to keep up with Santa Clara's fast-paced offense. The game was played in front of a packed crowd, and the atmosphere was electric. The next round of the tournament will feature Santa Clara facing off against the University of Kansas. The game is scheduled for March 15th, and it promises to be another exciting game.

Suez Fight Stepped Up

Both sides continued the war in the Suez Canal area today, with both countries trying to gain control of the channel. Britain and France have been involved in a conflict over the use of the canal, leading to international tensions.

The Egyptian government has declared martial law and has begun to tighten security measures around the canal area.

In response, the British and French governments have increased their military presence around the canal, with both countries ordered to prepare for a possible invasion of Egypt.

The United Nations has called for an immediate cease-fire and a diplomatic solution to the crisis.

Erdogan has also warned that his country will not stand idly by and will take action to protect its national interests.

The situation remains volatile, with both sides preparing for further military action.
