Petides House Eyes Milder Bill On Housing

The House did not take up the state's housing bill today, according to House Speaker Charles Aruty, who was present at the session.

The bill would have mandated the establishment of a state housing authority, to be funded by the state and local governments.

However, Mr. Aruty said that he would withdraw the bill from consideration at this time.

The bill was not taken up due to the lack of support from both sides of the aisle.

The 'Fag' Debate Continues To Rage

By RALPH D. GIBLER

A debate about the dangers of smoking "fags" has been ongoing for several years.

Many health organizations have been promoting the idea of not smoking "fags".

However, some individuals argue that smoking "fags" is not as harmful as smoking traditional cigarettes.

The debate continues to rage, with both sides presenting their arguments and evidence.

The American Cancer Society, for example, argues that smoking "fags" is just as harmful as smoking traditional cigarettes.

ROSE COLLEGE FATE W AITS TUESDAY VOTE

6 39

Rose State College has submitted its plans to the Oklahoma State Board of Regents, which will make a recommendation to the Oklahoma Board of Regents for Colleges.

C. C. McFarland, President of the Board of Regents, has announced that the Board's recommendation will be submitted to the State Board of Regents for Colleges.

The Board of Regents will consider the recommendation and make a decision.

The proposal to construct a new campus for Rose State College has been approved by the Board of Regents.

The new campus will be located on 150 acres of land that has been donated to the college by the city of Oklahoma City.

Construction is scheduled to begin immediately, and the new campus is expected to be completed by 1972.

The new campus will include a library, classroom facilities, dormitories, and athletic facilities.

The Board of Regents has allocated $15 million for the construction of the new campus.

The new campus will accommodate an enrollment of 1,500 students.

Lumber Cost Curbs 'Must'

By ANNA KITAY

The United States, where nearly a third of the nation's annual lumber production is consumed, has seen a recent increase in lumber prices. This has led to widespread concern among homeowners and builders alike. The rise in lumber costs is due to various factors, including increased demand, limited supply, and global trade issues. As a result, many homeowners are facing higher costs for new construction and renovations. The lumber industry is urging consumers to consider alternative materials or to plan construction projects with a longer timeframe to mitigate the impact of these price increases.

CARE FOR YOUR CAR

The road to pleasant motoring starts with a smooth-running car.
Here's how to travel in safety, economy, and comfort.
Responsibility Attached To Warranties

While some controversy rages over car owners' warranty rights, there is one area in which there is agreement. The manufacturer bears the responsibility for keeping his car in condition. Actually, even with the more liberal warranties of present parts, routine maintenance is always the responsibility of the owner. The warranty only covers defects in workmanship or materials. If the owner neglects to keep the car in condition, the warranty is void.

The major difference in 1968 car warranties lies in the length of time most parts (excluding tires and brakes) are covered. The warranty usually covers parts for a period of 12 months or 12,000 miles, or whichever comes first. To protect their warranties, dealers must do the following:

1. Change engine oil at intervals of 3,000 miles or exactly 3 months, whichever occurs first.
2. Replace the oil filter every 3,000 miles.
3. Inspect the engine every 6,000 miles.
4. Clean the carburetor and replace it if specified.
5. Check the oil, water, and transmission fluid at intervals of 3,000 miles or exactly 3 months, whichever comes first.
6. Inspect the brakes, steering, and suspension at 6,000 miles or every 6 months.
7. Inspect the fuel system every 6,000 miles or every 6 months.
8. Inspect the exhaust system every 12,000 miles or every 12 months.
9. Inspect the engine cooling system every 12,000 miles or every 12 months.

Initial Test Track Built 54 Years Ago

Proving grounds were established in the mid-1900s. Best production of the first test track built specifically to test and evaluate production vehicles was held by a Desert Bonus of the Public in 1917. A 15-mile paved track was used for tests involving high, wide, and narrow cars. Tests showed that cars were capable of reaching 100 mph on flat roads. Tests were also conducted to how through a road pit and jump around the track at all speeds.

An untuned car is horns in your ears.

Horns in your ears...a mixed appointment...a loud truck ride...a pounding head and a lot of other things to spool your driving. That's what an untuned car is.

Untuned car trouble results from old worn spark plugs in an untuned engine. The cure is quick and effective. It's a Champion Tune-Up—a new set of Champion spark plugs plus other basic tune-up items you may need.

Does your car have the Midwestern City Champion Air Conditioning Tune-Up? Does your car have the Midwestern City Champion Firestone Tires? If not—call now. Champion Tune-Up is a service at no cost to you. Champion Tune-Up gives you a free check of your car's tune-up and an opportunity to inspect the condition of your car. The heart of tune-up.

The heart of tune-up.

Here Comes
The Circus!

It's that time of year again—circus time—when the Big Top and its excitement of tightrope walkers and fierce animals captures the imagination of everyone from Junior to Grandpa. And again this year the Shrine Temple Shrine will be presenting a three-ring circus, excitement on March 27-30 at State Fair Arena. In photo Mayor James Norick, long-time Shrine Temple Shrine, sits astride Junior the elephant, one of the Shrine Circus' top attractions.

Film's Full of Redheads

Elliott Gould lost a wife and gained a producer's love at the same time. While his latest film, "The Long Goodbye," is missing from our reviews, perhaps the most welcome newcomer is Sandy Dennis. This is her first film with Elliott Gould. The duo was wonderful through their fingers. The Burt Reynolds في his role as "The Flying"—we know what's in store and it all works. The 100 punchy players, including William Holden and the late, great Ross Hunter, are all skillfully directing the film.

"When I saw them, I was very impressed," said one industry observer. "They gave me the feeling of a young, fresh, and talented team."

"The chemistry is wonderful," said another. "They bring something new to the screen."
Flood Recalls Costly Bel Air Fire

This was Los Angeles' first major fire disaster in a generation. On July 24, 1937, the city was hit by a severe windstorm, which caused a massive blast of wind that set off a series of explosions in Bel Air. The fire quickly spread out of control, burning through the entire neighborhood.

The fire was caused by a spark from the No. 353 electrical pole, which ignited a dry field near the crest of the ridge. The wind caused the flames to spread rapidly, and within an hour, the fire had taken hold of the entire area. The fire was so intense that it destroyed 400 homes and killed 13 people.

The fire also damaged many other structures, including schools, hospitals, and churches. The total cost of the fire was estimated at $10 million, which was equivalent to about $100 million in today's dollars. The fire also caused a great deal of psychological trauma to the residents of Bel Air, who were left homeless and without hope.

The fire was a wake-up call for the city, and it led to the creation of the Los Angeles Fire Department, which was established in 1938. The department was equipped with modern fire trucks and a fleet of airplanes, which were used to fight fires and prevent them from spreading.

In the years since the Bel Air fire, the city has implemented many safety measures to prevent such disasters from happening again. These include the installation of fire-resistant building codes, the establishment of emergency response plans, and the creation of a comprehensive fire prevention program.

In conclusion, the Bel Air fire was a tragic event that had a profound impact on the city of Los Angeles. It was a reminder of the power of nature and the need for preparedness and safety. Today, the city continues to work towards preventing such disasters from happening again, and its residents are better prepared to deal with the challenges they may face in the future.

Shed No Tears For Estelle Parsons

Until she made "Boys and Girls" Estelle Parsons has been a favorite of a great many off-Broadway talents, but her fame reached a new level when she made her Broadway debut in "Boys and Girls," by Edward Albee. In her new role as the mother in "Boys and Girls," she has developed a new and powerful presence on stage. She has been praised for her dramatic range and her ability to bring depth and intensity to her performances. Parsons has always been a versatile actress, and her latest role is no exception. She has continued to impress audiences with her powerful and emotive acting, and it is evident that she has not lost her touch. Parsons has been a source of inspiration to many aspiring actors, and her latest role is a testament to her talent and dedication. She has proven once again that she is one of the greatest actresses of her generation.

City's Getting Over Evergreen Hang-Up

BY PHILIP MUGLUS

There are times when one can see a performance which is both interesting and entertaining. Such a show is currently playing at the Civic Theatre, and it is called "Evergreen Hang-Up."

In a word, the show is a comedy, and it is about two people who are trying to get over their hangovers. The characters, played by two very talented actors, provide a lot of laughs throughout the performance.

The story is set in a small town where two people, played by the two aforementioned actors, are attempting to get over their hangovers. They have been drinking all night long and are in need of a good night's sleep.

The show's success lies in its ability to make the audience laugh at the situations and the characters. The actors' performances are excellent, and the audience is kept laughing throughout the entire performance.

The set design is simple but effective, with the stage area being a small room where the two characters are staying overnight. The costumes are appropriate for the time period, and the lighting adds to the overall effect of the performance.

In conclusion, "Evergreen Hang-Up" is a fun and entertaining show that is sure to make you laugh. It is a great performance that you won't want to miss. Make sure to see it before it's over!

How to Handle Your Parents

BY REV. CHARLIE W. SHEDD

Parents! They're nothing but trouble. I hate my parents and most of my friends hate theirs...

"Please help me get over my Dad that every boy just can't seem to avoid. He is always coming up with wild ideas and telling me they're the wisest things of all. I can't refer to my parents on my pillow. What is the matter with him? He's some kind of a nut case ..."

"My son and dad make a classics course out of every day. You would think the boy was one of the FBI's 'most wanted' or something."

"My mother is a disaster and she says I can't do till I'm a man. That will be two years. Do you think this is fair?"

"My parents won't do in a noisy night or at home. Even from the quiet city. But when a year goes by I get to college, boy, till I do then ..."

"My skills are a mess in many ways but there isn't much use putting a stethoscope on it. It's getting wider ...

The term "parents" means no to my mail. That's how it is. Between parents and teenagers there are so many non-verbs: money, clothes, clothes, talk, hair, homework, friends, family (often absent), stress, suicide, rust, stamp, or anything you mention — that any of them could be another background. Unfortunately, whatever the cause of the battle — the weapons themselves — too often here to see against their parent.

Your growing up, you're feeling more and more capable of making your own decisions. You're pushing for independence. You're reaching maturity. You're coming to see that your own life, manage your own schedule, pick your own friends, make your own rules.

But, of course, you have to eat. You like to wear size clothes and have a roof over your head. So, you can't declare your independence one instant. There are many ways to say this. But it's hard for you to think about the millions of dollars they expect to earn by their own independent standards they expect them to earn by their own independent standards. Which is exactly what the wife of Robert is hearing. What are the secrets to healthy home relationships? From what I've learned watching teenagers who are getting the job done, plus watching my own young ones and then the letter I received, I've put together the 'Twelve Rules for Handling Your Parents.' Perhaps you'll want to make a copy of these and send them to others. I'm sure you'll agree that we all don't know enough and perhaps you've discovered something that will help other teenagers. But, why don't you think those through:

1. Remember, you're not in love with your parents. You've got a total of only 125 letters and I don't count anything under a dollar. They're worth $1,000. They're worth more than your parents' money. Sexual Adventure in Marriage

A FEW YEARS AGO, in their book Sexual Pleasure in Marriage, Jerome and Julie Rainer pointed the way for all married couples to achieve a healthy, uninhibited enjoyment of physical love. So fresh, so daring was the approach offered by this book that it became an international bestseller.

But there remained much more that needed to be said on the subject of marital love. In recognition of this, the Rainers have written a new book called Sexual Adventure in Marriage, addressed to all couples who are willing to bring to their love the imagination it deserves.

Variety—the Spice of Love

Sexual Adventure in Marriage is filled with specific, practical ideas—covering all aspects of husbands and wives and what they can do to maintain their sexual needs and desires. It helps couples to understand each other's sexual needs and desires. It helps couples to understand each other's sexual needs and desires.

What Two Doctors Have Said About Sexual Adventure in Marriage

Dr. Charles Aring, Chairman, Dept. of Neurology, College of Medicine, University of Cincinnati: "The term 'sexuality' is defined as the ability to experience pleasure, a normal desire to experience sexual satisfaction, and a normal desire to express this satisfaction.

David E. Keene, M.D., Clinical Professor of Psychology, University of Pennsylvania: "Sexual Satisfaction is the ultimate expression of human sexuality. It is a natural desire for physical and emotional fulfillment. It is a normal desire to express this satisfaction.

Sexual reproduction, who really love each other

In a frank, frank discussion, the authors of Sexual Adventure in Marriage guide you through the ongoing obligations that keep so many couples from attaining the fulfillment possible for them.

Sexual Adventure in Marriage is a book for both the young and the older married couple—a book of authoritatively and wise counsel written in the knowledge that love can and should be an adventure lasting as long as life itself.

Pontiac's Firebird gives you something a $6,000 sports car can't.
More than $3,000 in change.

Handling Parents

"When you reach the age of 21, you are entitled to make a decision for yourself. But it's not that simple. You still have a parent who is concerned about your safety and welfare."

And Firebird does it without shortchanging you on the things you buy a sport car for. Compactness, maneuverability, efficiency, quickness. It's all there. The Firebird's a newer-age Overhead Cam Six that runs on regular. You get a fully synchronized 4-speed (with a floor-mounted shifter), and you also get a Hurst shifter. You get a dual-exhaust, performance instrument panel. You get wider, softer bucket seats. And all comes in a compact, beautifully styled, Wide-Track package.

For 1969 Firebird, think of your car and your change at your nearest Pontiac dealer's... That's a Break Away!

The Miller-Treadway Family for S. E. M. A. D.

All of which proves you don't have to spend $2000 on a sport to be one. So buy a Break Away in a 1969 Firebird. Push up your car and your change at your nearest Pontiac dealer's.

Goodbye to the Lavin’ Spoonful — BY CAROL BOWIN

Good-bye Lavin’ Spoonful — another basically unsuccessful pop group has gone to the wall and nothing seems to be same in its place. Why? What is it that makes success so elusive?

According to Joe Butler, lead singer of the current — and late — Lavin’ Spoonful album, Bulletin Board ‘68, it’s because that means done in love that used to be one, dream

Here’s how the ball ends: “It’s hard to create new ideas with the same four people. You’ve heard everyone’s story the third time. You become a linear褪色 and are boring instead of creating.”

Not exactly moving in the right direction, Lavin’ Spoonful started going crazy fast. His attention span — he runs out quickly. Playing the same songs time and time again. It wasn’t the same as when we were starting out in Greenwich Village together. What we used to be, we naturally, we had to start working at. Marriage is easier when you’re just together. It’s something we’re attached to.

(b) He’s been married for two years, and his marriage is working his first role as happy husband.”

This spring he’s on tour, and the responsibilities of marriage make him more from the rock scene. “We’re,” he says, feeling intense and sometimes unfamiliar without the music that he always lived for his role. “But marriage — I lived with her for several years, I didn’t have to marry her. I wanted to. Marriage’s handy, but maybe not, which is about the only good thing that has to say about institutions anyway, succeed or not.

One by one he outlined them all:

Parents: “Too many people have a child and think it is their property. I experimented on animals before. I destroyed our cut and one day, and have plenty more now. I believe in freedom and the ability of the child.

Can't read a note of music?

Fine!

At Conn Organ, we’ve invented many for people just like you—people who want to make music without a lifetime of learning.

It’s a completely automatic, visual programming device called the Conn “Shut-Door.” It shows you how to play basic organ chords without the aid of a book. With “Shut-Door,” a beginner’s simplest melodies enjoy a rich chord accompaniment. You actually create music in miniature, yet “Shut-Door” never restricts or limits your ability. It’s like a built-in teacher that helps you play proficiently faster than you ever imagined.

You’ll find this amazing Conn Organ in Models 432 and 466 home spinet organs. Both offer solid-state circuits, with such dramatic features as a two-speed, built-in Leslie speaker system and repeated percussion. Each come in your choice of popular decorative colors.

Conn models start at $796. Your Conn dealer can arrange convenient terms. And even if you can’t read a note of music, you’ll have your playing familiar tunes in minutes.

“Stop the rioting and join together.”

RICHARD CARLTON CROOKS,Write in Tom Wills, “A Memoir for Robert Kennedy—What Should He Do?”, brought thousands of signatures and comments from readers all over the nation. Here are some of their ideas, which are being jammed by Two Weeks to the Robert F. Kennedy Memorial Committee.

“...I think Richard Carlton Crooks’s idea for a memorial to Robert Kennedy—giving some unemployed, unemployable Negroes the opportunity to learn—may be the best idea anyone could have. It may not do as much with poverty, but it would be a big step forward.”

MAX P. WERCKE,

“I believe the Crooks idea of the national memorial plan can be made into a successful plan. In some cases, opportunities for Negroes can be provided, but it is very important to have a national memorial for all who have died in the struggle.”
