Hades They'll Do it Every Time

The family performed their part in setting the old set for a color job.

Nancy, slinking away, did her best to get out of the way of the set.

"Must get out of the way of the set," she muttered. "It's all or nothing.

Meanwhile, the old set was being reset, and the family had to be in the way to make sure everything was perfect.

"Look out, Nancy," said the man. "The set's coming down!"

Nancy ran out of the room, dodging the falling set.

"Movin'"—Believe it or Not!

While the family was busy resetting the old set, a man was trying to move a large piece of furniture.

"I can't move it," he said. "It's too heavy!"

Meanwhile, the family was frantically trying to get the old set reset.

"Hades they'll do it every time," said the man. "They're always in a hurry!"

"Yeah," said Nancy. "It's a real mess."
We promised our people a million dollar bonus if they can make you happier than American or Braniff.

A bonus is the oldest idea in the world.
You know the way they should be given out.
The people who get rewarded should be the people who sweat to do an outstanding job.
That's the way TWA is going to give away a million dollars.
The people who get the money will be the ones who make our customers happier than any other airline can make them.
And happy customers—like you—are going to tell us who to give the money to.
On every TWA flight, you'll get a ballot to vote for the TWA people of your choice.
In every TWA terminal, you'll find a bonus box for your ballot.
Some people may call this bribery. We call it good business sense.
Good, hard working people, are hard to find these days.
So are good customers.
Fly with us. We're putting a million dollars where our mouth is.

TWA
Our people make you happy.
We make them happy.
