Mills Home Marked By Majestic Simplicity

No House In Town Excels It

The majestic simplicity of the Mills home sitting on its hilltop overlooking the English countryside is the result of a $20,000 expenditure the owners made in remodeling the house. The house was remodeled by a local contractor, Mr. John Smith, who has completed many similar projects in the area.

From NW 15 Street

The house itself is a two-story, three-bedroom home with a large living room and a separate family room. The living room features a fireplace and a large picture window overlooking the countryside. The family room has a built-in bookcase and a wet bar.

The Living Room

The living room is furnished with a large sofa and a set of matching chairs. The walls are painted a soft green color and the ceiling is vaulted. The room is lit by several large windows that allow natural light to flood the space.

High Court Shakes Draft Law

In 1963, the U.S. Supreme Court, in the case of BUCKEY v. RILEY, threw out a draft law that was designed to prevent desertion. This was a major victory for those who opposed the war in Vietnam.
