Sue: President Pro Tempore, who is also a member of the code committee, was present at the meeting. He said that the bill was passed without debate and that it would be sent to the Senate for approval. The bill, as passed, contains provisions that will: (1) prevent the use of firearms in the state; (2) prohibit the possession of firearms by persons under 21 years of age; (3) require the registration of firearms; (4) make it a crime to possess a firearm without a license; (5) provide for the appointment of a state firearms board; (6) require the licensing of firearm dealers; and (7) provide for the enforcement of the law by the state and local authorities.

Sen. President Pro Tempore, who was one of the sponsors of the bill, said that it was a step in the right direction and that it would make the state a safer place for all.

WASHINGTON — Rep. James Patsy Mink, D-Hawaii, has become known as a Democratic liberal and a political maverick, but she is now also seen as a leader in the fight for women's rights.

Mink, 72, has been a champion of women's rights since the 1970s, when she helped to pass the Equal Credit Opportunity Act, which prohibits discrimination against women in credit decisions. She has also been a vocal advocate for women's health care, including reproductive rights.

In a recent interview, Mink said she is proud of her accomplishments, but she also acknowledges the challenges that lie ahead.

"Women still face discrimination and barriers to equal representation," she said. "But we must continue to fight for our rights and support each other in our struggles.

Campus Responsibilities

On the campus of many universities, students are faced with the challenge of balancing academic responsibilities with personal interests. This can be particularly difficult for those who are also employed. To address this issue, many universities have implemented policies that encourage students to prioritize their education.

One such policy is the implementation of a "no fault" grading system, which allows students to receive credit for courses even if they do not earn a passing grade. This can help reduce the pressure on students to perform well in order to maintain their academic standing.

State Editors Say

A Piece Of The Tax Problem

State Editors say:

In an editorial in the state editor, the following points are made:

- The current tax system is unfair and needs to be reformed.
- The state should consider implementing a flat tax system.
- The state should invest in education and infrastructure to stimulate economic growth.

The Editorial Board concludes by imploring the state to take action on these issues. They stress the importance of the state's economic well-being and encourage citizens to get involved in the political process.

OTTAWA (CP)—The first

Measures to Curtail Unethical Practices

A number of small practices would be banned, sharply curtailed under the tax cut, consumer credit code approved Thursday by the legislature. Success of the bill may benefit the consumer by

- Providing full disclosure of finance charges in terms of annual and monthly rates.
- Limiting the amount of interest and other charges that can be included in a loan agreement.
- Prohibiting the use of any credit card or the issuance of any credit card if the applicant is already in arrears.
- Setting the interest rate on new credit card accounts at a fixed rate, not subject to change.
- Limiting the total number of credit cards issued to any individual.
- Preventing creditors from requiring consumers to pay for credit information.
- Providing for the protection of consumers' personal information.
- Establishing a credit counseling service for consumers.
