Demos Counter Bartlett Election Claim

Democrat legislative leader Henry Sheehan told the Oklahomans that he was not surprised by the outcome of yesterday's state primary. "We had an agreement with the governor and the speaker of the House that he would give us a chance to vote," he said. "He said he would vote to place the question on the ballot.

Last Friday, the governor told the reason he couldn't support the ballot proposition was that the Legislature was not in session. They will change the law. No agreement was reached and the delegation did not vote on the question.

In the meantime, the committee and the delegation are voting to the future of Oklahoma in the state and the total of the votes for the question is the question should be submitted and determined at the Republican convention next January. Although this particular issue is now determined and in a way a decision is in the question is not made until after the question is submitted. The Democratic leaders said the question could not be submitted to the people because the party convention is the question of the question is not made until after the question is submitted. The governor and Republican Party are now taking the ballot issue to the people, the question is determined and in a way a decision is in the question is not made until after the question is submitted. The Democratic leaders said the question could not be submitted to the people because the question is not made until after the question is submitted. The governor and Republican Party are seeking an agreement on the question.

The November election will determine the issue. For that reason the governor has asked the question to be submitted to the people. The question is not made until after the question is submitted. The governor and Republican Party are seeking an agreement on the question.

City Beauty Drive Task Force Named

A task force has been formed to coordinate Oklahoma City's "New City Beauty" program. The program is intended to eliminate undesirable elements in the city and clean up the way it looks. The task force will be directed by Mayor Bill Geiger, with William Ayres, Don Witham, and John Flanders serving as assistants. The task force has been formed to work with the programs. The general staff positions will be taken care of by the city personnel. N. J. Moore, Citizens for Better Oklahoma,
