Hawaii Leis Greet Nixon
Midway Talks Crucial, President Says

HILO, Hawaii (AP) — A throng of red-robed and garlanded local churches greeted President Richard Nixon on his arrival yesterday evening at Hilo, Hawaii. Leis of flowers and garlands were carried by many of the people welcoming the President. Nixon greeted them warmly, stopping to shake hands and sign autographs. He was escorted to his plane by an honor guard of the local armed forces.

Nixon in Hawaii
President and Mrs. Nixon made two stops of "thank yous" yesterday night at Hilo and Kailua during their nationwide tour. The President and Mrs. Nixon inscribed a book for each community and signed autographs.

Rocket Scientist Predicts Landing

It's On To Mars In 1972!

In this age of interstellar flight, it is not surprising that the world's leading rocket scientists are predicting that the first manned mission to Mars will take place in 1972. The mission, which is being planned by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), will be a joint effort between the United States and the Soviet Union.

The mission will involve a crew of six astronauts, who will travel to Mars in a specially designed spacecraft. The spacecraft will be launched from Earth in November 1971 and will reach Mars in March 1972. The astronauts will spend approximately five months on the planet, before returning to Earth in August 1972.

The mission will be a major milestone in the history of space exploration, as it will be the first time that humans have landed on another planet. The astronauts will be equipped with a variety of scientific instruments, which will be used to study the planet's geology, atmosphere, and climate.

The mission is expected to cost approximately $2 billion, and will be funded by a combination of government and private sources. The spacecraft will be built by a team of engineers and scientists, who are currently working on the project at NASA's Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville, Alabama.

In addition to the manned mission, NASA is also planning a series of unmanned missions to Mars, which will be used to prepare the planet for human habitation. These missions will involve the deployment of robotic landers, rovers, and other scientific instruments, which will be used to gather data on the planet's surface.

The manned mission to Mars is expected to be a major achievement, and is likely to inspire a new generation of astronauts and scientists. As the world's leading space agency, NASA is committed to pushing the boundaries of human knowledge and exploration, and to making the impossible possible.

Parade Homes Open Daily

The spring tour of the Parade of Homes opens Sunday at 1 p.m. The homes will be open and staffed on a rotating basis for one hour each day through May 15. The tour is sponsored by the Home Builders Association of Greater Oklahoma City, which is the management company for Parade Homes.

Parade homes are located in several areas of the city, and they feature a wide variety of styles and neighborhoods. The homes are open on a rotating basis, so visitors can experience different types of homes throughout the tour.

In Parade Plan Book

"Visitors of the Spring Parade of Homes, which will be open to the public from Sunday, June 5, will be given a plan book," said John B. Hill, president of the Home Builders Association. "The plan book will provide a convenient way for visitors to plan their tour and see the different homes on the tour.

Building Moving People Outside

Oklahoma Citians, have you ever wished you could be outside more? The Parade of Homes is the perfect opportunity to get outside and enjoy the beauty of nature. The homes on the tour are designed to be energy-efficient and eco-friendly, making them ideal for those who are interested in living a green lifestyle.

Home Size Expanded Since '50s

The size of homes in the Parade of Homes has increased significantly since the 1950s. Many of the homes on the tour feature modern amenities like garages, pools, and home theaters, and they are designed to be energy-efficient and eco-friendly.

More Outdoor Areas

The homes on the Parade of Homes feature a variety of outdoor spaces, including patios, decks, and pergolas. These areas provide a perfect place to relax and enjoy the beauty of nature.

Whatever your style of living... single-family, duplex, or townhouse... you can do it better electrically!

Jeane Dixon's Astrological Forecast

The fourth card, the Empress card, is the archetype of the feminine aspect of this cycle. It is a card of new beginnings and growth, often associated with motherhood, nurturing, and fertility. The queen's focus is on nurturing and providing care, and she is often depicted as a source of comfort and stability.

This week, the queen of the house is in Scorpio, which is a sign associated with transformation and hidden truths. Scorpio is a sign of the deep subconscious and the unconscious mind. It is a sign of intense personal growth and transformation.

The queen of the house is in her own sign, which is a powerful position. This suggests that the focus of this week will be on her own personal growth and development. She is likely to be driven by a desire to transform and evolve, and she may be seeking out new experiences and opportunities for growth.

In the tarot, the Empress is often associated with creativity and imagination. This week, the queen of the house is in her own sign, which is a powerful position. This suggests that she is likely to be highly creative and imaginative, and she may be seeking out new ways to express herself.

In general, this week is likely to be a time of transformation and growth. The queen of the house is in her own sign, which is a powerful position. This suggests that she is likely to be highly motivated and driven, and she may be seeking out new experiences and opportunities for growth.

The queen of the house is in Scorpio, which is a sign associated with transformation and hidden truths. This suggests that there may be hidden aspects of her life that are coming to light, and she may be seeking out new ways to express herself.

Overall, this week is likely to be a time of personal growth and transformation. The queen of the house is in her own sign, which is a powerful position. This suggests that she is likely to be highly motivated and driven, and she may be seeking out new experiences and opportunities for growth.

'True Grit' Rescue

Although wounded himself, accused U.S. Marshal "Rooster" Cogburn (John Wayne) is sent to New Mexico to capture mail robber Ed "Kike" Darcy (Robert Ryan) after she has been taken by a ruthless Eagle Scout (Anthony Perkins) (Gary Lockwood). To save her and her child, Ed falls in an attempt to save her. After drawing the pangs, "Rooster's" covers Martin in his arms across the prairie in a bucket of"True Grit," the music from Charles Portis' novel, "True Grit," opens June 18 at the Centre Theatre.

From Delight, Ark., To Stardom
Glen Turns To The Movies

It must be terribly difficult to try to capture Glen Campbell-the singer, the musician, the actor, and the man who knows the movie. If he wanted to, Campbell would be a movie star tomorrow. He is, after all, the most popular singer in America. And he's got the looks and the talent to back up his claims.

But Campbell is not just a singer. He's a musician, too. He can play the guitar, the banjo, the mandolin, and the violin. He's even written some songs himself.

But Campbell is not just a singer or a musician. He's also an actor. He's appeared in several movies, including "The Dirty Dozen," "The Great Escape," and "The Green Berets."

And Campbell is not just an actor or a musician. He's also a man. He's married and has two children.

But Campbell is not just a man. He's also a celebrity. He's been on the cover of every major magazine, and he's made appearances on every major television show.

But Campbell is not just a celebrity. He's also a person. He's got a heart, a soul, and a mind. And he's got a future. He's got a dream.

And Campbell is not just a dream. He's got a future. He's got a dream. He's got a heart, a soul, and a mind. And he's got a future. He's got a dream.

This Talented Lad Crazy About Birds

By VICTORIUS FORRETT

Hollywood, Calif. (June 26, 1989) — The bewitching antics of Ted Dickman, 30, have captivated the hearts of bird-lovers worldwide. Ben Dickman, 70, a former Hollywood perfomer, is the mastermind behind the success of his son's captivating bird shows, which are now performed internationally.

Ted Dickman, the star of the show, is not only a bird lover, but also a skilled performer. He has been described as a "bird whisperer" for his ability to communicate with birds. His shows are known for their educational value, teaching audiences about the importance of conservation and the wonders of the natural world.

Dickman's shows are a blend of science and entertainment, providing audiences with a glimpse into the fascinating world of birds. The shows are performed at various venues, including zoos, parks, and schools, and have won numerous awards for their excellence.

Dickman's passion for birds began when he was a child. He was inspired by his own father, a bird lover, who introduced him to the world of ornithology.

Dickman's shows are not just about entertainment; they are a powerful tool for conservation. Dickman believes that educating people about the importance of protecting birds and their habitats is crucial for the survival of these magnificent creatures.

Dickman's dedication to his craft is evident in the amount of time and effort he spends preparing for each show. He spends hours researching and training the birds to perform their intricate maneuvers.

Dickman's shows are a testament to the power of passion and dedication. His willingness to share his knowledge and love for birds has inspired millions around the world.
NEW MOON RISING’ Deserves Attention

BY SHIRLEY CLAY
This month’s “New Moon Rising” is as close as “Beverly Hills 90210” as you’ll get to a ‘90s high school prom. It’s a story about a girl, Christy, who is facing the challenges of being a teen in today’s world. The story is a great reminder that even though the world may seem harsh and cruel, there is always someone who cares. Christy’s character is a testament to the resilience of the human spirit. If you are a fan of the show, then you’ll love this story. If you aren’t, you should definitely check it out.

Horses In The Snow

Chuck Explores Unusual Theme

Chuck Schlotterback is an artist who has explored themes of isolation and loneliness. His work is often characterized by a sense of melancholy and introspection. In his latest piece, “Horses In The Snow,” he explores the theme of survival. The painting depicts a lone horse standing in the snow, with a sense of determination and resilience. Chuck’s work is a testament to the power of art to convey complex emotions and ideas.

ONE TRANSPLANT Case of the most unusual organ transplant in the past 15 years was performed in the Washington, D.C. Children's Hospital when heart and lung tissue was successfully grafted from the twin of a heart transplant patient. This was the first successful case of heart and lung transplant surgery. The transplant was performed on a boy who had been in a coma for two months. The transplant was performed by Dr. John Rock, a member of the surgical team. The transplant was successful, and the boy is now in recovery. This is the first time that a successful heart and lung transplant has been performed.

Should We Fear Earthquakes?

By BURTON H. WOLFE

As a 15-year-old, a fellow in an airplane over the town of San Francisco, I witnessed an earthquake. The ground shook violently for about two minutes, and buildings toppled. I was afterward told that the San Andreas Fault, the most famous earthquake fault in the world, ran right through San Francisco. The earthquake was caused by the movement of two tectonic plates, which are constantly shifting. The movement of these plates can cause earthquakes, which can be devastating to cities like San Francisco.

The San Andreas Fault is a active fault line that runs through California, and is responsible for some of the most destructive earthquakes in history. The most recent major earthquake along the San Andreas Fault was the 1989 Loma Prieta earthquake, which killed 64 people and caused over $5 billion in damage. The fault is still active, and experts estimate that a major earthquake could occur along the fault at any time.

One of the most important things to remember about earthquakes is that they are natural phenomena that occur as a result of the movement of tectonic plates. Even though they can be devastating, earthquakes are not preventable. However, there are things that can be done to minimize the impact of earthquakes, such as building structures that are more resistant to earthquakes and implementing emergency response plans.

Earthquakes are a fact of life in California, and it is important to be prepared. Be sure to have a plan in place for what you will do during an earthquake, and make sure that you have an emergency kit with you at all times. With proper preparation, you can be ready for anything.

By taking these steps, you can be better prepared for the next major earthquake. While earthquakes are not preventable, by being prepared, you can reduce the impact of these natural disasters on your life and the lives of those around you.

Earthquakes may be expected to occur in the future.

During recent years, there has been a sudden reduction in the number and intensity of great quakes. Some seismologists think that these quakes are building up along faults for the release of great shock waves. Others think that they are due to the natural forces of the Earth, such as the movement of tectonic plates.

A quick snap of the rocks seems to release the stress, and results in less damage than expected. It is possible that these quakes are not as dangerous as previously thought, and may be a sign of a larger quakes to come in the future.

In any case, great quakes do happen, and are inevitable. It is important to be prepared for these events, so you can minimize your risk of injury and property damage. By following these steps, you can be better prepared for the next great quake, and be ready to respond in the best way possible.

When the Entertaining Is Easy

By MYRA WALDO, TIP'S Food Editor

The summer months are, or should be, a time of carefree enjoyment. Many household chores should follow that pattern. So, homemakers, please relax. Nothing is more exhilarating than the sight of your guests in the dining room, pleasantly settling in for a pleasant evening. You may want to follow these tips for relaxation and satisfaction in your home.

THE FOOD

Nothing needs quite so much thought as picnic food. Personally, I think the best picnics are the ones where the food is homemade, but if you are short of time, there are plenty of ready-made choices in the supermarket. A few special tips on picnics and backyards cookouts:

1. Plan ahead. Make sure you have enough food for the number of guests you expect. It's always better to have too much food than too little.
2. Pack your food in insulated containers to keep it cold and fresh. Use coolers with ice packs or frozen rods to keep the food cold.
3. Bring along some background music to create a relaxing atmosphere.
4. Provide a variety of foods, both hot and cold, to suit everyone's taste.

THE COOKOUT

Outdoor cookouts can be as simple as grilling hamburgers and hot dogs or as elaborate as a multicourse formal dinner. As long as you plan ahead and have the right equipment, you can enjoy a successful cookout.

The key to a successful cookout is preparation. Make sure you have enough charcoal or gas for the grill, and have the right tools, such as tongs, a spatula, and a basting brush.

1. Start with a clean grill. This will help prevent food from sticking and ensure even cooking.
2. Preheat the grill to the right temperature.一般 Grill temperatures are: low (175°F), medium (350°F), and high (500°F).
3. Use a timer to keep an eye on the food. This will help you avoid overcooking or undercooking.
4. Have plenty of paper towels and kitchen shears. You'll need them to clean off the grill and to cut the food before serving.

The best cookouts are those where everyone enjoys themselves and the food. So, relax, have fun, and let the good times roll!
Pity the Postman

(He can't bite back)

By LESLIE LIEBER

The Postal Service is planning to use a new, non-lethal device to catch dogs that jump over mailboxes.

The dogs, many of whom are rescued from the streets, are being trained to operate the device, which consists of a small, retractable blade that extends from the mailbox.

The dogs are being taught to bite the blade, which is positioned in such a way that it will cut the dog's tongue.

The dogs are then rewarded with treats and praise for their good behavior.

The device is designed to prevent dogs from jumping over mailboxes and stealing mail, which has become a significant problem in many communities.

The Postal Service hopes that the new device will reduce the number of mail thefts and improve the efficiency of its mail delivery system.

The dogs are being trained by a team of specialists who have years of experience in dealing with aggressive and unruly pets.

The dogs are being housed in a special facility where they can receive proper care and attention.

The Postal Service is also working with local animal control agencies to ensure that the dogs are properly housed and treated.

The new device is expected to be deployed in select areas soon, with the goal of expanding its use nationwide in the near future.

The Postal Service is committed to providing high-quality mail delivery services to all Americans, and this new device is a step in the right direction to achieving that goal.
For every man who considers himself a solid citizen...

You never work in a job you’ve had for quite a while. Sometimes, every night is a bonus you’re paying the mortgage on. You have your wife and the children. And the dog. You try to be a good neighbor, keep your lawn mowed. You vote. Dependable. A solid citizen.

But even so, if you find yourself with a roll of unpaid bills, it’s still up to you to handle. You need extra money—now. You need a company that can handle your concerns. Universal Credit Limit. Not too basic. Not too high. It’s the way it works. It’s a simple financing company that understands that you need a little help sometimes. And that’s where Universal comes in.

At Universal, you may get the money you need to put your mortgage back on track. With a little help, you’ll get back on track. And Universal Credit Limit will be there to help you. It’s a simple, straightforward way to get back on track.

We believe in your ability to handle these things, but we also know that sometimes it’s easier to handle them together. Which is why Universal Credit Limit is here for you. It’s a simple, straightforward way to get back on track.

Universal Credit Limit is a simple way to get back on track. It’s a simple way to handle your finances. And it’s a simple way to show that you’re a solid citizen.
Believe It or Not!

The Town That Saved Three Lives!

The town of Icicle, Wisconsin, decided to save three lives by constructing a 25-foot-high ice sculpture of the town's famous awning. The sculpture was designed to resemble the awning, complete with the town's motto, "Icicle, Where the Cold is Not Too Cold and the Warm is Not Too Warm."

The sculpture was unveiled on January 1, 2023, and attracted thousands of visitors, who marveled at the ingenuity of the town's citizens. The sculpture quickly became a popular tourist attraction, and the town's economy thrived as a result.
