Dowell Rejoins School Controversy

Action Slated On New Integration Plan

By SUE NELSON

Dowell, who served as superintendent of the Oklahoma City Consolidated School System for 12 years, plans to return to active duty in the fall, the Oklahoma City Board of Education announced last week.

Dowell, 62, retired from the school system in 1966 because of ill health.

Several members of the school board, including Vice-President Jack Anderson, said they were pleased with the decision.

"We are looking forward to having Dowell back," Anderson said. "He was a great leader for the school system and we are glad to see him return to active duty.

The school board has scheduled a meeting for next week to discuss the new integration plan. Dowell will be present at the meeting.

Life Fights For Its Life

By ROBERT B. DUNLOP

NEW YORK, N.Y. (AP) - The American Medical Association (AMA) has called for a halt to the practice of life insurance sales by physicians.

The AMA said that the practice was unethical and should be stopped.

The association pointed out that physicians were in a position to influence the decision of their patients on life insurance policies.

The AMA's action came after a series of reports by various organizations, including the National Association of Insurance Commissioners, revealed that many physicians were selling life insurance policies to their patients.

The AMA's position was supported by a number of organizations, including the American College of Physicians and the National Medical Association.

Mississippi Swallows 'Santa Maria' — Replica Shaken Loose In Storm

By TIMOTHY J. HOFFMAN — Transportation

Just in time to warn the coast about another possible thunderstorm, the late 16th century Spanish galleon SS Santa Maria was shaken loose in a strong gust of wind off the coast of Mississippi.

The stormy seas caused the replica galleon to break loose from its moorings and sail out to sea. The galleon, which is now a popular tourist attraction, lost sight of land and was adrift for several hours before being spotted by a nearby fishing boat.

The Santa Maria replica was built in the 1960s and is a faithful replica of the original ship that沉船了 during the first voyage of Christopher Columbus.

In the storm, the galleon's mast and rigging were damaged, but the ship was able to return to its home port without further incident.
