Twisting Rodeo Cuts

Dancing, singing and clowning are not the only entertainment given during the annual rodeo. There is fun and humor in the round-up both before and after the rodeo events.

Top bills on the card for the evening include the Wellington Posse, a group of professional cowboys from Washington who will put on a top bill western entertainment show. The Wellington Posse has put on rodeos all over the country and is well known for their skill and dramatics in the rodeo events.

Saturday's top event will be the barrel racing where the best in the business will be on hand to compete for the title of barrel racing champion.

A special feature of the rodeo will be the women's rodeo. This is a new addition to the rodeo and is sure to be a big hit with the crowd. The women will be competing in events such as rodeo riding and calf roping.

The rodeo will also feature a variety of other events including calf roping, team roping, bull riding and more.

The rodeo will be held at the local fairgrounds and will be open to the public. Gates will open at 7:00 PM and the rodeo will start at 8:00 PM. Tickets are available for purchase at the gate.

The rodeo is sponsored by the local rodeo association and is a major event in the community. It is a great way for locals to come together and enjoy a night of fun and entertainment.

Other Side Of Oil Story

It seems to be the same story for giant oil companies and for the Department of Energy in Washington. The department has a policy of looking at the results of increased competition as a benefit to the consumer. But the oil companies are always ready to point out that increased competition means increased prices, increased costs, and increased taxes.

In 1967, the United States had roughly 100 oil companies. In 1973, there were only about 30. The department's policy has been to allow these companies to merge and concentrate, despite the fact that this would lead to higher prices and taxes. The oil companies have been able to dictate the terms of the merger and acquisition policy, and the board of the department has never interfered.
