ORBIT ESTABLISHED; MOON LANDING 'GO'

Apollo 11 Timetable

Space Center, Houston (UPI) — The Apollo 11 lunar landing mission is rolling into high gear and the team of astronauts — Neil A. Armstrong, Edwin E. "Buzz" Aldrin Jr. and Michael Collins — are scheduled to take off for the moon at 7:30 p.m. Houston time (1130 GMT). The launch window extends to 9:30 p.m. Houston (1330 GMT).

SUNDAY — 7:30 a.m. Houston (1130 GMT) — Apollo 11 astronauts are expected to enter their spacecraft at the Kennedy Space Center in preparation for the launch.

7:50 a.m. Houston (1150 GMT) — The countdown begins for the launch at Kennedy Space Center.

2:23 p.m. — The spacecraft is launched by a Saturn V rocket.

6:39 p.m. Houston (1039 GMT) — The spacecraft enters lunar orbit and is expected to rendezvous with the command module.

MONDAY — 12:01 a.m. Houston (4:01 GMT) — The mission's first crew member, Armstrong, is expected to make the first step on the moon.

1:30 a.m. Houston (5:30 GMT) — The second crew member, Aldrin, is expected to step onto the moon.

3:00 a.m. Houston (7:00 GMT) — The third crew member, Collins, is expected to step onto the moon.

5:30 a.m. Houston (9:30 GMT) — The crew returns to the command module, and the spacecraft begins its journey back to Earth.

TUESDAY — 10:35 p.m. Houston (2:35 GMT) — The spacecraft enters Earth orbit and is expected to land on the eastern shore of the Atlantic Ocean.

WEDNESDAY — 4:30 a.m. Houston (8:30 GMT) — The spacecraft is expected to land safely in the Pacific Ocean.

The crew is expected to remain on the spacecraft for approximately two days before returning to Earth.

The mission is scheduled to conclude with the landing of the command module in the Pacific Ocean on July 24, 1969. The crew will then be transported to the recovery ships and returned to Earth. The spacecraft will be recycled and reused for future missions.

Charges Due In Fatal Crash Of Ted's Auto

United Press International

Ted's Auto was involved in a fatal crash on Wednesday night that killed one person and injured two others.

The driver of the car, identified as Ted, was transported to the hospital with non-life-threatening injuries. The other two victims, a man and a woman, were pronounced dead at the scene.

The accident occurred on State Route 30, just outside of the city limits. The cause of the crash is under investigation by local authorities.

Friday Update

The Oklahoma State Employment Service reported that the unemployment rate in the state for the month of July was 4.5%, down from 4.7% in June.

Lake Litter

![Image of litter in the lake]

Lake litter is a growing environmental concern, as it not only affects the aesthetics of the lake but also poses a threat to wildlife. Litter that enters the lake can deplete oxygen levels, which is harmful to aquatic life such as fish and other aquatic animals. Moreover, some litter items, like plastic bags, can become entangled in the vegetation, causing additional harm.

Mrs. Kennedy Insisted On Living Own Life

 Creedem Farm Tag 1

Mrs. Kennedy was a strong and independent woman who insisted on living her own life. She was known for her resilience and for never backing down from a challenge. In the story, she faced many difficulties, including a protest against the construction of a new highway that would have disrupted the peace and tranquility of the area. Mrs. Kennedy was determined to protect her home and her community, and she fought hard to prevent the highway from being built.

"We have to start thinking about how to improve the class space," she said.

"The UFOs are really getting interesting lately," said Mike Jones. "They've been showing up all over the place.

Mrs. Harris addressed the state teachers about the need for self-image boost. "It's really important to have a positive self-image," she said.

The Oklahoma Crime Council has added two new members to its ranks.

Will the NL pitchers dominate this year? Only time will tell.

The Philadelphia Phillies fired manager Morgan Jones, 66 years old, to tie the game.

The Mets scored against Seaver, 5-4.

Spirits were up in the Jet Camp.

Carlos led the sweep.

Remember The Days Players Stayed Retired?
Shady Will Never Know

By PITY POY

The day finally came. The day he'd been waiting for. The day when he would finally be able to take his revenge. The day when he would show everyone just how much he had been snubbed.

It was a moment of pure rage. The anger he had been holding in for years finally exploded like a bomb. He couldn't contain it anymore. He was going to get his revenge.

But then, just as suddenly as it had started, the rage subsided. He realized that this wasn't the way he wanted to live his life. That this wasn't the way he wanted to be remembered.

He took a deep breath and closed his eyes. The weight of the past was finally lifted off his shoulders. He could finally move forward. He could finally be the person he wanted to be.

As he opened his eyes once more, he knew that he had made the right choice. Shady would never know that he had been snubbed. He would never know that he had been wronged.

And that, in the end, was the best revenge of all.

Delon Won't Talk About Death Probe
By SHIRLAM GRUHAN
FARHAN-Danae—In Danae, the Italo-French film of the month, Delon maintains the image of a man who talks little and whose intakes are curiously precise. The young handsome starlet is his own best model, and he is reported to have turned down a recent offer to play a role in a Hollywood movie.

Alaska: Our Last Adventure Land

BY JOHN CLOYD

The salmon season is open in the western part of Alaska, and the waters are teeming with fish. The boats are out, the nets are in, and the fishermen are busy catching their share of the annual harvest. The salmon run is a sight to behold, with schools of fish swimming in every direction. The sound of the nets being pulled up is a symphony of delight. The fishermen are in their element, and the thrill of the catch is infectious. This is a perfect time to visit Alaska and experience the excitement of the salmon run firsthand.

The salmon are swimming back to their native waters to spawn. They travel thousands of miles to return to the place where they were born. It's a remarkable journey, and watching the salmon make their way back is a true wonder of nature. The fishing boats are out every day, and you can witness the excitement of the catch from the shore. The salmon are a symbol of the rich ecosystem of Alaska, and their presence is a testament to the beauty of the natural world.

As you travel around Alaska, you'll notice the stunning landscapes and the diverse wildlife. From the glaciers to the mountains, the forests to the tundra, Alaska has it all. The wildlife is abundant, and you'll have the chance to see bears, wolves, and moose in their natural habitat. The tundra is home to a variety of birds, and you can see them flying overhead as you drive through the area.

The culture of Alaska is rich and diverse, with a blend of Native American, Russian, and American influences. The Native Alaskans have lived in the region for thousands of years, and their traditions and customs are still very much a part of the culture today. The Russian influence is evident in the architecture and the language, while American influence is seen in the way of life and the economy.

Alaska is a place of contrast, where the beauty of nature meets the toughness of the wilderness. The weather is unpredictable, and the landscapes are constantly changing. But the people of Alaska are resilient, and they make the most of their environment. They are proud of their heritage and their way of life, and they welcome visitors to share in their experience.
Experience teaches best, but there are tips from the consumer’s official friend

Be a Sharper Shopper

By VIRGINIA KNAUER

In my opinion, anyone can be a sharp shopper. Sharp shoppers are like sharpshooters—they aim for the target and they hit it. The bull’s-eye for the sharp shopper is, of course, the best buy for the least money.

Becoming a sharpshooter in the marketplace, no matter what the target, takes a good deal of effort and time, sometimes endless patience and sheer physical stamina. Certainly, it requires practice; who ever guesses if she has never made a wrong purchase? There are no real short cuts in becoming a sharp shopper, but perhaps knowing the possible pitfalls is a considerable help, especially for beginners.

For you, my shopper,

In your shopping list made up by checking your food shelves, and marking the goods—so you can just go to the supermarket and look around? Then whole savings before going to the store. Then you buy for the week—closed to the price.

Have you ever invited friends with a claim that you no longer want to eat? Or, with that giddy feeling that it really did cost too much? Make out a daily budget and plan your purchases.

For you, my shopper,

You pay for looking at the wrong time.

Women who eat and shop at the same time, you can often pick up good quality at reduced prices. All consignment stores usually price better in September than they do in May, and a woman may be sharper in February, but remember that a bargain is only a bargain if it is one you can use. Are you sure the coat you’re buying will still be as good next winter? Never let the other person reach you for a saleswoman is too easy to ask questions. What is it made of? How well is it made? How much is it really worth? Is it in a white store? Isn’t it more likely to be returned than a non-white one? Don’t be afraid of returning.

You pay for following everyone else.

At the dinner: Beware of the salesmen who pressure you with a line of trash which you have never heard of and one white store is a better buy than another white store. He may show you the coat or even a vendor’s license with his name on it, but there is no evidence of a saleswoman. Ask questions. If the deal is good, it may last a few days until you check out the company.

On the telephone: Your phone rings and you are called to see if you have a free trip to Florida. . . . or “You have a free phone number for the next three months, just pay five cents.” Be wary, the free trip to Florida may be on a bus which may come to your door. Or, the free trip to Florida may be for two people, and the offer is limited to the first 100 who call. Or you may have to pay to have it: “Buy your new model every week for five years. Find out what is expected of you and what the car is really worth. If you are still interested, call for a number which you may call and you have thought it over and checked it out with local consumer protection officials.

From the mailbag: The letter does not include the wording of a saleable advertisement. You go out, buy it, and keep it. If you do it, you will be under no obligation to pay for it or return it to the company as long as you do not use it.

Young town planner turns tide in flooded Appalachian town
By MARY FRANCES BOHM

If we can't fix it, Olivier Spraggs, how can we do it in the ghettos," Jim Point asked as he swung his baby frame out of the car. We entered the brick building that serves as town hall half a mile north of town. Mayor J. H. Barney and Town Treasurer Lorain Aimes greeted us with the friendly smile peculiar to Tennesseans.

"Just nine more good in the bell-tower. We couldn't get a good one in the impression without Alex," Mrs. Abraham said.

Joe Potter, 15-year-old son of the University of Tennessee Graduate School of Music and folklore, is the official Troubadour of the Troubadours. He is known as "The Troubadour," and is considered the best of his age in the south. His voice is strong and clear, and his musicianship is faultless.

The Troubadours are a group of young musicians who perform on the streets on Saturday and Sunday evenings. They are sponsored by the lovely town of Tennesseans and are well known throughout the state.

Olive Spraggs, a local musician, who was the first to discover the Troubadours, said: "I don't know what it is about them, they just have a way of getting inside you and making you feel good."

The Troubadours' repertoire includes folk songs, ballads, and original compositions. They play in various locations throughout the county, including the town square, the courthouse, and the local park.

The Troubadours are dedicated to continuing the tradition of folk music and to preserving the rich cultural heritage of Tennesseans.

FROZEN VEGETABLE SALAD

JELLIED SALMON SALAD

Farmers Salad

Super Salads

By MYRA WALDO, Tw. 2nd Edition

A main course salad is a beautiful way to avoid using the same on the roll, but never, and it is just right for an everyday filled with vegetables — salt and as our rich or heavy.

For your next course salad, you might choose one of the cold gelatin salads, such as Jellied Salmon Salad, or your favorite French Beef Salad. To round out a meal, begin with a soup or cold soup, right out of a can or a jar. Finish with a simple dessert, cool milk, ice cream, or a cake. Serve tea or coffee, or your favorite summer refresher.

4 cranberries
1 apple thinly sliced
1 banana
1 tomato
1/2 cup finely chopped onion
1/2 cup finely chopped celery
1/2 cup finely chopped green pepper
1/4 cup finely chopped green onion
1/4 cup finely chopped parsley
2 tablespoons vinegar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon sugar
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon white wine vinegar
1 tablespoon salad oil
2 tablespoons salad oil

Apple, celery, and onion are combined in a 10-minute, gelatin mixture, blended until smooth. Garnish with a hard-boiled egg, fresh melon, and a tomato.

We suggest you use the vegetables you have on hand for this dish. If you don’t have all of them, it won’t matter. You can vary the ingredients to suit your taste.

When

Is

Depression

Dangerous?

By LUCY FREEMAN

A depressed young woman in a psychiatrist's office, plunged in deep despair, who could hardly talk, looked sadly at the doctor.

"When do you want to kill yourself?" he asked her.

"Any day," she said in a low voice. "The cruellest life is better than this life." The bleakness of her statement was reinforced by the fact that she was wearing a hospital gown.

"I know," the doctor said. "I have been there myself."

Today, we are told to "cool it." But new findings about the nature of depression show this may not always be the best advice when we feel angry.

"You feel unhappy, unloved, and incapable of giving love..."
Why don't you become a professional Interior Decorator?

It's a high-income field where a woman is in her glory. The demand for decorating services is at a peak, and opportunities are unlimited—eventually even if you use only part of your time. You can train at home without interrupting your regular duties.

BY JANICE TEMBLE

I DON'T THINK there is another profession today that offers as much pleasure or greater rewards to a woman than that of interior decorating.

It is the ideal place to put your natural love of beauty to practical use. You can prepare for one of the many attractive positions available or decide to go into business for yourself.

Do you enjoy doing your own decorating? Have you ever helped a friend solve a decorating problem? Then you have the exclusive for success as a professional decorator.

Even if you've done no decorating, you may be one of many women with unsupervised talent in this direction—talent just waiting to be discovered.

You can now train for this work at home, in your spare time. No previous skills or experience are required for this training. Why not look into the many opportunities that interior decorating offers you?

A tremendously expanded field

It used to be that only wealthy people employed professional decorators. That's no longer true. Increasingly large numbers of homemakers now rely on the services of decorators. They know that a decorator can provide beauty and individuality—and can often save them money, too.

Your work as a decorator is varied and interesting. It frequently takes you and your clients into beautiful homes and exclusive shops filled with treasures. You move in a world of fashion, creativity and ever-new challenge.

Designing and furnishing even a single room can earn you hundreds of dollars; larger assignments can earn you much more. Many women do extremely well in part-time work; their own homes often serve as showrooms for prospective clients.

But decorators are busy in many areas besides homes. Their talents are employed in decorating hotel rooms, business offices, building lobbies, clubs and institutions. That's why the profession has grown so enormously.

What the LaSalle Course teaches you

The LaSalle Course in Interior Decorating has been prepared by experts to give you complete and up-to-date preparation for this most exciting of modern careers. Lessons come to you by mail; they are as fascinating as the professional work itself. Much of the study material is absolutely unique in a course of this kind. For instance, you get an attractive, simple-to-operate slide projector with color slides that show interiors as big as life on your wall. You also get professional styling equipment, coloring materials, step-bys, and much more.

Step by step, you are shown how to develop your creative ability. You are taught the principles of color and design, and the historic background of today's decoration. You are trained in the selection and use of furniture, fabrics, accessories, lighting. You learn how to achieve beautiful settings that will delight your clients and build your reputation. Even before you have finished the course, you will be able to apply your new knowledge to glorifying your own home.

At each step, you are given practical assignments which are then carefully reviewed by your instructors and returned to you. You are coached with thoroughness for your work as a professional decorator.

The LaSalle Course in Interior Decorating is backed by sixty years of leadership in the field of adult education. More than 5,000,000 people have trained for success through home study with LaSalle.

Mail coupon for free booklet

If you are seriously interested in the new opportunities offered by a career in Interior Decorating—if you are prepared to devote a few hours of your spare time each week to conscientious study in order to achieve your goals—and for the free booklet offered in the coupon below. You may be surprised by the low cost of the course. LaSalle, 417 S. Dearborn Street, Chicago, Illinois 60605.
