Ted Asked Cousin To Take Blame

Pearson Says Kennedy, Girl Really Going For Swim

WASHINGTON - The truth is beginning to be known as to what really happened to the man who was found dead in the Potomac River, July 8, who told Ted Kennedy and Mary Jo Kopechne that he was a writer for Life magazine, and Kennedy emerged from the water. The man's parents have sought to prevent the truth from being known, and Kennedy himself has tried to keep the story quiet. The man was named as John F. Kennedy, and his parents have since said they will not reveal his name.

Some of the same girls who attended the concert yesterday evening have been found dead in the river. They offered for their stories, and Kennedy, a friend of theirs, was found dead in the river yesterday morning. One of them has been identified as Mary Jo Kopechne. The other girls have not yet been identified.

The large crowd of spectators who were present at the concert yesterday evening have also been found dead in the river. They had been swimming in the river, and were seen by many people who were present.

Harris Pal To Run?

By Harry Clevenger

McComb, Miss.

In a move that could have implications for the future of the Democratic Party, Mrs. Harris Pal has announced her intention to challenge Senator Robert F. Kennedy for the seat in the U.S. Senate. Mrs. Pal is a veteran of the Kennedy administration and has been involved in numerous political campaigns.

Mrs. Pal stated, "I am running because I believe that the Democratic Party has lost its way. We need new leadership and new ideas. It is time for us to take a bold step and challenge the status quo." Mrs. Pal's announcement comes as a surprise to many political observers, who had expected Senator Kennedy to run for a third term.

Harris Pal is a well-respected member of the Democratic Party and has a strong base of support in the state. She is expected to face a tough challenge from Senator Kennedy, who has held the seat for many years.

100 To Leave Garbage Jobs

By Philip Page

Aurora, Ill.

A group of 100 workers was forced to leave their jobs at a garbage collection plant in Aurora, Ill., yesterday. The workers, who had been employed for several years, were told by management that they were no longer needed.

The workers, who were primarily African-American, had been employed at the plant for several years. They were told that their jobs were being eliminated due to a decrease in the amount of garbage being collected.

The workers were given a few days to clean up the plant before they were forced to leave. They said that they were not given any notice and that they were not given any assistance in finding new jobs.

Mars Life Hinted

PASTEDEN, Calif. (UPI) - Some form of life may exist on Mars, a scientist said Thursday. He presented a theory that suggests that life might be possible on the planet.

The scientist, Dr. Francis Pimentel, said that his research has shown that Mars has the necessary conditions for life to exist. He said that the planet's surface is warm enough to support liquid water, which is essential for life.

Dr. Pimentel's theory is based on geological evidence. He said that the planet's surface is covered with water ice, which suggests that there may be liquid water underground. He also said that the planet's atmosphere is similar to that of the Earth, which suggests that life may be possible.

Dr. Pimentel's theory is controversial. Some scientists have said that the planet's surface is not warm enough to support life. Others have said that the planet's atmosphere is not similar enough to the Earth's atmosphere.

Dr. Pimentel said that his research is still ongoing, and that he is hoping to find more evidence that life may exist on the planet.
