Case Book Of Dr. Chase

Mom Concerned Over Child

Dr. James Chase, Federal way, Wash., and his wife, Mrs. Pauline Chase, have filed a complaint with the Federal Trade Commission against a local hair salon. The complaint alleges that the salon, in violation of the Federal Trade Commission Act, engaged in unfair and deceptive practices.

The salon, according to the complaint, advertised that it was offering a special service for women who wanted to have their hair styled in the latest fashion. However, when the customers arrived at the salon, they were charged more than the advertised price.

The salon also allegedly made false statements about the quality of its services. The complaint states that the salon's hairdressers were unqualified and that the salon used劣quality hair products.

The Chasees are seeking damages and an injunction to prevent the salon from continuing its alleged unfair and deceptive practices.

Bridesmaids Luncheon Set Today

The bridal party for the upcoming wedding of Mr. and Mrs. John Smith will be held at the Country Club of the South on Saturday, May 1.

Mail Revamp Plan Praised

The United States Postal Service is considering a plan to revamp its mail system to improve efficiency and reduce costs. The plan includes the use of technology to automate certain tasks and the implementation of a new pricing structure.

The plan has received praise from many experts in the field, who believe it could help the Postal Service become more competitive in the market.

City Crimes Up, FBI Says

According to the FBI, there has been a significant increase in the number of crimes in the city over the past year. The increase is attributed to a decrease in the number of police officers on the streets.

The FBI is urging the city to increase its police force to help combat the rising crime rate.

Police Magazine Called a 'Racket'

A new magazine, called 'Police Magazine,' has been criticized by police officials for its content. The magazine is reportedly filled with false information and contains articles that are detrimental to the police force.

The police are calling for the magazine to be shut down and for its editors to be held accountable for their actions.

Tradeen Puts Anti-Inflation Plan in Motion

Mayor John Tradeen has announced that he will introduce an anti-inflation plan to combat the rising cost of living in the city. The plan includes measures to control inflation by limiting the increase in utility rates and the cost of groceries.

The mayor hopes that the plan will help to ease the burden on low-income families.

Dinkins Says Rosenthal is New Judge

Mayor David Dinkins has appointed Mary Rosenthal to the bench as a new judge. Rosenthal is a well-respected attorney and has been actively involved in the legal community for many years.

The mayor says that Rosenthal is the ideal choice for the position.

OU, State Agency Set Up Program

The Oklahoma Regional Medical Program in cooperation with the University of Oklahoma Medical Center Library has recently established medical library reference services through the state, according to C. J. Lappin, director of the Medical Library and Information Service, Of ORM.

Preliminary program of continuing education in the region and its utilization of materials and equipment for subject reference will be introduced through training and documentation programs, Miss Lappin said.

"A PROGRAM HAS BEEN DESIGNED to make the best possible use of the knowledge and materials which are available in the Medical Library of the University of Oklahoma Medical Center and to make them available to other libraries in the state," she said.

The Regional Medical Program is cooperating with the University of Oklahoma Medical Center Library, using the resources of the ORM Medical Library to fullest advantage.

The program of medical library service and training for medical practitioners, hospital administrators, physicians, nurses, medical students, and public health personnel is designed to meet the needs at the Medical Library of the University of Oklahoma Medical Center Library.

"THE PROGRAM will be designed to meet the needs of those who are seeking more knowledge of the medical sciences, who need information to help them in their work and who are interested in the latest developments in medical science," she said.

"TRAIPE DINING ROOM" servive will be available to those who are seeking more knowledge of the medical sciences, who need information to help them in their work and who are interested in the latest developments in medical science.
