Legislators Favor Direct Presidential Vote

BY RALPH OLIVER

The Oklahoma legislature, if it can be called, will probably pull together this week and hold a special session to end its second regular session on Saturday.

The legislature has ended its second session, with the law-makers now a full day behind schedule. The session has been characterized by a lively debate over the issue of whether or not to have a direct presidential election in Oklahoma.

The proposal would eliminate the need for a presidential primary and would have the presidential slate carried on the same ballot as state and local candidates.

While the U.S. Senate has voted against this proposal, the Oklahoma House has voted in favor of a direct presidential election. The Senate has not acted on the issue, but the House has passed a resolution calling for a special session to consider the proposal.

The two Republican leaders, Sen. Danell Corbett and John Gage, have said they are open to the idea of a direct presidential election, but they are not yet convinced that it is the best option for Oklahoma.

The proposal would eliminate the need for a presidential primary and would have the presidential slate carried on the same ballot as state and local candidates. The state would then have the power to decide which candidate to support, and the winner of the presidential election would be the candidate who wins the most votes in the state.

This plan is opposed by Sen. Mike Stark, D-Spirit. He said, "I don't think it's a good idea. It's not fair to the voters. They have a right to vote for the candidate they want, and they should be able to do that."

What Leisure Time?

There are only a few who really know what leisure time really means. It means the opportunity for the enjoyment of the good things of life. But it also means the opportunity to use that leisure time for the benefit of our community.

The people who have leisure time are the people who have the opportunity to do things that are good for themselves and for others. They have the opportunity to engage in activities that are beneficial to the community. They have the opportunity to contribute to the betterment of their community.

The people who do not have leisure time are the people who do not have the opportunity to do things that are good for themselves and for others. They do not have the opportunity to engage in activities that are beneficial to the community. They do not have the opportunity to contribute to the betterment of their community.

The people who have leisure time are the people who are fortunate. They have the opportunity to do things that are good for themselves and for others. They have the opportunity to engage in activities that are beneficial to the community. They have the opportunity to contribute to the betterment of their community.

The people who do not have leisure time are the people who are not fortunate. They do not have the opportunity to do things that are good for themselves and for others. They do not have the opportunity to engage in activities that are beneficial to the community. They do not have the opportunity to contribute to the betterment of their community.

The people who have leisure time are the people who are happy. They have the opportunity to do things that are good for themselves and for others. They have the opportunity to engage in activities that are beneficial to the community. They have the opportunity to contribute to the betterment of their community.

The people who do not have leisure time are the people who are not happy. They do not have the opportunity to do things that are good for themselves and for others. They do not have the opportunity to engage in activities that are beneficial to the community. They do not have the opportunity to contribute to the betterment of their community.

The people who have leisure time are the people who are healthy. They have the opportunity to do things that are good for themselves and for others. They have the opportunity to engage in activities that are beneficial to the community. They have the opportunity to contribute to the betterment of their community.

OSU RALLY STUNS TECH, 17-10

Defense Keys 2nd Surprise

In a rally deep into the second half, the counter was of the two teams. Texas Tech's defense had been the key in the first half, but in the second half, OSU's defense took over. The defense of OSU's defense against Tech's offense was the key to the game. The defense of OSU was able to hold Tech's offense to just 17 points, while OSU's offense was able to score 17 points in the second half.

"Now, back—there are a few points in this.

"First thing, I would like to say that I am not会使反owledged. The Miami Dolphins tied the Oakland Raiders, 17-17, at the Orange Bowl.

"Both teams had opportunities to score, but could not capitalize. The Dolphins had a 10-0 lead at the half, but the Raiders came back to tie in the second half. The game went into overtime, but neither team was able to score. The final score was 17-17, a tie."

Welcome to the Total Electric Family

We are honored to present the national All-Electric Building Award to Charles and Maurice Parks for excellence in commercial building construction. They have made a significant contribution to the entertainment field with this modern, attractive Total Electric facility.

Year-round comfort is assured with electric air conditioning and electric heating. It is installed to meet recommendations of the American Society of Heating, Refrigeration, and Air Conditioning Engineers. All other operations utilize clean and efficient electricity.

Architect for this fine structure was Michael McKeon, Engineer was C. B. Carroll, General Contractor was Larron, Ltd., and Electric Contractor was Strohwer Electric Co. Congratulations to all who had a part in this project.

OG&E is pleased to welcome the Apollo Twin Theatre to the growing family of businesses served exclusively by economical, dependable electricity.
Western Pits Good Against Bad

The Good Guys and the Bad Guys, a novel by Dashiell Hammett, is the subject of a production at the Oklahoma City Opera on Wednesday. The play, directed by J. Michael Sullivan, is being performed at the Longacre Theatre.

This is the first time the Good Guys have appeared on stage since the original run of the show. The cast includes Tom Hanks as the lead role.

New Wrinkle For Western

In "The Good Guys and the Bad Guys," the 26th-century setting is a far cry from the Westerns of yesteryear. The picture, opening Wednesday at the Longacre Theatre, was directed by J. Michael Sullivan, one of the cast members.

Maxi or Mini

This picture appears in a series of seven, each with a different twist on the Western theme. The series, "Maxi or Mini," is being shown at the Longacre Theatre.

Production Resume

Monte Carlo, California - Brandt Productions has announced the production of "The Good Guys and the Bad Guys," directed by J. Michael Sullivan. The play, written by John Guare, is being performed at the Longacre Theatre. The cast includes Tom Hanks, Tom Selleck, and Bruce Willis.

New Orleans-based brass quintet is making rare tour stop in Oklahoma City on Tuesday and joining the Civic Ballet to mark 1988 as Year of the Arts, according to the Oklahoma City Civic Ballet.

The quintet will perform at 8 p.m., Tuesday, Feb. 8, in the Civic Center Music Hall. It is one of the highlights of the annual Civic Ballet Gala, which will be held at 5:30 p.m. on Feb. 9 in the Civic Center Ballroom.

The quintet, which describes itself as the world's only professional brass quintet, was formed in 1960. It has performed throughout the United States and Europe and has recorded a number of albums, including "On the Road Again," which was released in 1968.

The quintet, which consists of six musicians, performs a variety of music, including classical, jazz, and contemporary works. It is known for its dynamic performances and its ability to adapt to a wide range of musical styles.

The performance will feature the Oklahoma City Civic Ballet's annual performance of "The Nutcracker," and will be followed by a cocktail reception.

The Civic Ballet Gala is a fundraiser for the Oklahoma City Civic Ballet, which is supported by the Oklahoma City Arts Council and the City of Oklahoma City. The gala is the organization's largest fundraising event of the year, and it provides essential funding for the organization's programming and educational initiatives.

The quintet is performing in conjunction with the Oklahoma City Civic Ballet's annual "The Nutcracker" performance, which is one of the organization's most popular events. The performance features a cast of local dancers, musicians, and artists, and it is widely regarded as a highlight of the Oklahoma City cultural calendar.

The quintet's performance, which is being held as part of the Civic Ballet Gala, is a unique opportunity for music lovers and fans of the Oklahoma City Civic Ballet to experience this exceptional ensemble in a unique setting.

In addition to performing at the Civic Ballet Gala, the quintet will also perform at a series of concerts throughout the Oklahoma City metropolitan area. The schedule includes performances at the Oklahoma City Civic Cultural Center, the Oklahoma City Civic Center Ballroom, and the Oklahoma City Civic Center Music Hall.

The quintet's visit to Oklahoma City is the result of a collaborative effort between the Oklahoma City Civic Ballet and the Oklahoma City Arts Council. The organization is thrilled to have the quintet perform in Oklahoma City, and it is committed to bringing exceptional musical performances to the region.

Taylor Dancers Announce Numbers They'll Perform

By LILLY PRICE

The Oklahoma State University Taylor Dancers have announced that they will perform for the first time in Oklahoma City, the weekend of September 17th. The group, under the direction of Dr. J. Paul Taylor, will perform at the Center Theatre, located at 12th and Broadway. The performance is scheduled for September 18 and 19, at 8 p.m. each night.

The Taylor Dancers, who are known for their dynamic and expressive performances, will be joined by guest performers from other Oklahoma City dance companies. The program will include a variety of dance styles, from classical to modern, and will showcase the talent and skill of the dancers.

Tickets for the performance are available at the Center Theatre box office, or by calling 1-800-TICKETS. Doors open at 7:30 p.m., and the performance starts at 8 p.m. A limited number of tickets are available for each performance, so audiences are encouraged to purchase their tickets early.

The Oklahoma City Ballet will also perform at the Center Theatre on September 19th, at 7:30 p.m. The Oklahoma City Ballet is a professional dance company that has been in existence since 1942. The company's performers will present a variety of classical and contemporary works, including a world premiere by local choreographer, Mark Messmer.

In addition to the Oklahoma City Ballet, the Center Theatre will also host a variety of other dance companies, including the Wichita Ballet, the Oklahoma City University Dance Ensemble, and the Oklahoma City Metropolitan Opera. The Center Theatre is located at 12th and Broadway, and is a popular venue for dance performances in Oklahoma City.

Foretold Slayings?

HOLLYWOOD AREA — It was just a creepy story when Tate was telling it three years ago. But now, she’s been arrested for murdering six people. No one is certain what made her do it.

She was a little girl who would tell scary stories to her friends. They used to think of her as just a little girl who liked to scare people. But then, one day, she started telling stories that were much more terrifying.

She told them about a little girl who would kill her family and then herself. The next day, they found her family dead in their home. She was arrested for the murders.

The police think she has a talent for writing scary stories. She could be the next Stephen King.

NET Coming On Strong This Fall

B. B. ROBERTY, SHERIDAN, WIDEN

The policy of the three commercial television networks to expand the business of their television stations to cover the nation area and provide a wider choice of programming for the public has been a success, according to B. B. Roberty, vice president for sales and marketing for the National Broadcasting Co., Inc.

Roberty said the nation-wide network television market is expected to grow from the present 300 million to 425 million viewers by 1963. He noted that the average American now has two or three television sets in the home. He observed that this is a major factor in the increasing popularity of national networks.

Roberty added that the networks are providing a wide variety of programming to meet the needs of different audiences. He said that the networks are also increasing the amount of time devoted to news and public affairs programs.

NETKIDS, which is sponsored by the National Broadcasting Co., Inc., is a children's program that features music, dancing, and story telling. The program airs on the NBC network on Sunday evenings.

Roberty said that the networks are also expanding their programming into other areas such as sports, news, and public affairs. He noted that the networks are also increasing their efforts to reach a wider audience through local programming.

Roberty concluded that the networks are committed to providing good programming for the public and are working to improve the quality of their programming.

It's not a trip to the moon and back, but taking a cross-country vacation can be a hassle. Many Americans are discovering the pleasures of the road, and with them comes a need for comfortable, portable furniture.

The key to successful road tripping is choosing the right furniture. Here are some tips to help you make the most of your journey:

1. Lightweight and Portable: Look for furniture that is lightweight and easy to carry. This will make it easier to load into your car and transport throughout your trip.

2. Compact Design: Opt for furniture with a compact design. This will save you space and make it easier to store when not in use.

3. Multi-Functional: Choose furniture that serves multiple purposes. For example, a sofa bed that can be converted into a bed is ideal for overnight stays.

4. Sturdy Construction: Make sure the furniture you choose is sturdy and well-constructed. This will ensure it lasts throughout your journey.

5. Comfortable: Choose furniture that is comfortable to sit on, even for long periods of time. Look for cushions and other supports that can be added to enhance comfort.

By following these tips, you can create a comfortable and enjoyable road trip experience. So pack your bags, grab your luggage, and hit the open road!

"You can't get in the room and take along Italian Provincial furniture," a New York decorator recently remarked. An obvious contradiction. As the more than 30 million Americans who owned last year, it's difficult enough to get them, to wire, to move in Toronto with Italian Provincial, or French Provincial, English, Midcentury, Mexican, Spanish, or any other type of furniture.

Besides the actual moving headaches—the high cost of having a car, waiting for your delivery—there are the actual items to be delivered—yes, the furniture itself. You have to remember that if you purchased your furniture in Topeka, it's going to cost you at the same price as on your second-hand headboard. And if you purchased with your own money, it can't be expected to fit as well as another, in two or three.

Also, if you're going to buy the same furniture you'll buy throughout the country, the amount of money you'll spend for the same furniture can be expected to fit as well as another, in two or three.

The oblong table is another hit at the top of the list, of course. But what about those who care to stay in the room at night? Well, the best values in bedroom furniture are in the bedroom itself. And if you're going to buy the same furniture you'll buy throughout the country, the amount of money you'll spend for the same furniture can be expected to fit as well as another, in two or three.

Brooklyn isn't the best place to find a problem of Italian Provincial, either. You can buy the best of them but they have to be on your own, in the bedroom itself. A new idea in toddler feeding!

Dear Katie,

The ‘Boss’ Wife is a Pain

In every office there are everyday problems. "The Boss" is inability in answering questions by the mail. Letters or questions should be addressed to: 261 E. 55th St., New York, N.Y. 10022. Your name and address remain confidential.

DEAR KATHY:

My boss's wife makes me so mad! I'm trying to quit my job now. She really shows up in the office, but she does it in an own way. I really need advice on what to do. I have a new job, but it's not going to be easy. Do you think I should go back to my old job? I really need help.

DEAR KATHY:

I can't give you specific advice, but I can offer general suggestions. First, try not to take her advice personally. She's likely trying to assert her authority. Second, be prepared to assert your own boundaries. If she continues to undermine you, consider talking to your employer about the situation. Remember, it's important to maintain your sanity and mental health.

DEAR KATHY:

I'm not sure I understand your question. Are you asking if I think you should go back to your old job? Or are you asking for advice on how to handle the new job? Either way, I recommend seeking support from a mentor or a professional counselor who can provide more specific guidance.

DEAR KATHY:

I don't think it's appropriate to discuss your personal situation publicly. However, I can offer some general advice. If you're feeling overwhelmed, consider seeking professional help or speaking to a trusted colleague. It's important to maintain your mental health and well-being.

Dear Katie,

The Conn Prelude, 219 years too late for Bach. Just in time for you.

We decided to play the music of the year of Bach's birth. The result was Bach's "Prelude in G Major," which was composed in 1721. We chose this piece because of its simplicity and accessibility, and we believed it would appeal to both young and old. We hope you enjoy it.

Shopping tips:

1. Look for sales and discounts. Retail stores often offer deals to attract customers. Check out their websites and social media pages for special offers.
2. Compare prices. Many websites allow you to compare prices from different retailers. Use this feature to find the best deal.
3. Be patient. If you see something you like but it's not in your budget, wait for a sale. You might save money in the long run.

You see, these are the kind of people we really built our '70 Pontiacs for.

Like the Bonneville. With all the performance of a new 455 V-8. Yet so much luxury our upper-crust competitors have started a poultice.

The opposition won't find much loveable in our '70 GTO, either. Up to 370 horses available. And a new performance exhaust for you to order.

This GTO comes on so strong we dubbed it "The Humbler".

Now if all this sounds like your sort of thing, see your friendly Pontiac dealer. He knows what's happening.
A Shortage of Doctors

By Dr. John H. Knowles

The United States is suffering from a severe shortage of doctors, and the problem is growing worse. In many parts of the country, certain specialties are especially scarce — such as obstetricians, pediatricians, and general practitioners. The problem is acute in rural areas and in certain urban centers where the demand for medical services is high.

One of the reasons for the shortage is the declining number of students entering medical school. A recent report indicated that the number of new medical graduates has decreased by about 20% over the past decade. This is primarily due to the high cost of medical education and the competitive nature of the field.

Another factor contributing to the shortage is the growing demand for health care. As the population ages and becomes more health conscious, the need for medical services increases. This has led to a higher demand for doctors, particularly in areas such as geriatrics and cardiology.

The shortage of doctors has several implications. On one hand, it can lead to delayed treatment for patients, especially those with chronic conditions. On the other hand, it can also result in increased costs for medical care as doctors are forced to increase their workloads to meet the demand.

In conclusion, the shortage of doctors is a serious problem that requires immediate attention. Policies should be developed to increase the number of medical students entering the field and to reduce the costs of medical education. This will help ensure that the demand for medical services is met and that patients receive timely and effective care.

COCKNEY CAINE

By CAROL BOTWIN

"For Michael Caine," he said in a voice that was not a question. "For me, it was an extraordinary experience."

The air was thick with humidity, the heat was oppressive, and the noise of the city beneath them was overwhelming. But in the distance, a faint sound could be heard. It was the music of the city, a symphony of life and death.

"I was..." he began, before being interrupted by a voice from behind him.

"Yes, Michael Caine," the voice said, "You're pregnant."

DIARY OF A FILM FESTIVAL

By KAY HURLEY

SUNDAY MIDNIGHT: Off to a bad start, but that probably means things will improve. Tough's music, The Big Sleep, is as a young woman's voice, played by Shirley Knight. Her musical career, from operas, concerts, and in folk troupes. Given counselors, everybody woman's path, that makes one wonder if she is painting a portrait or a mirror.

MONDAY MIDNIGHT: At the regular annual conference this coming season. I'm interested in the sequence! (I don't know in which film) Knight jumped over the line into her birthday, but without subtracting a day. Perhaps she has been living in a bubble.

Nana Knight: my principal role in the movie. As she's being asked to sing a song a few times.

She is a most impressive actress. I was most impressed by her singing voice, her beauty, her charm. She is so talented, so charming. She is a great actress. She is a great actress. She is a great actress.

MIDNIGHT THURSDAY: We had a wonderful time at the cinema. The movie was so good, so well made. I had never seen such a fine picture. The acting was superb. The direction was excellent. The story was so well told. I would recommend it to anyone. I loved it. I loved it. I loved it.

FRIDAY AFTERNOON: The picture was excellent. I enjoyed every minute of it. The acting was excellent. The direction was excellent. The story was so well told. I would recommend it to anyone. I loved it. I loved it. I loved it.

Is your career stalled because of an educational gap?

Here's the way to train for job advancement... without going back to school.

Once your job looks promising—with rosy prospects for fast promotion and higher pay—what's happened to it? If you're not getting ahead the way you should, very likely you need specialized training. Few people reach the top without it.

Today there's an easy way to get this training without enrolling in class. You can take the course you need in the privacy of your own home, on your own schedule.

You may select a program that will bring you quick advancement when you are free, or one that will qualify you for a new field offering exciting opportunities for growth. You devote your own hours of study, because you are really a class of one. There is an interference with your present work, no need to travel to school.

Your instructor sees you by mail, and is supervised by LaSalle's districted faculty. Test assignments receive individual attention. When you have satisfactorily completed your course, you receive the LaSalle diploma, a widely respected credential.

The direct practical results of LaSalle home study—in terms of higher earnings and widened opportunity—are truly remarkable. Many LaSalle graduates report doubling and tripling their former salaries. Frequently students earn substantial incomes before they even finish their studies.

In more than 60 years of leadership, LaSalle has enrolled over 2,000,000 people in its many courses. Enrollment is reaching new levels every year.

Why not reap the advantages of LaSalle home study as you would a diploma? Your own time to study? Simply check the field in which you are interested, and LaSalle will send you a free booklet describing the opportunities in that field. There is no obligation. Mail the coupon to LaSalle, 417 S. Dearborn Street, Chicago, Illinois 60605.

Doctor Shortage

(continued) staggering and potentially disastrous. Their problems are not limited to isolated individuals but instead, they have a serious, widespread effect on all medical areas, including public health. In order to prevent the current trend from becoming a major problem which will severely affect the future, the medical profession must act immediately to address it.

In addition to the physical challenges, the shortage of physicians also has a significant impact on the economic and social well-being of the country. The shortage of doctors leads to increased costs for medical care, as patients have to wait longer for appointments and treatments. This delays the recovery process, leading to increased economic burdens.

Furthermore, the shortage of doctors is also a human rights issue. Access to healthcare is a basic human right, and the shortage of doctors in many countries is preventing people from accessing the care they need. This leads to a decrease in quality of life and overall well-being.

In conclusion, the shortage of doctors is a serious and pressing issue that requires immediate attention. The medical profession must work together with policymakers and other stakeholders to address this problem and ensure that people have access to the care they need, without compromising the quality of care.
