Harris In Trouble With Voters?

By HARRY GULVER

"I find the issue of education is not as cut-and-dried as some people think," said Harris. "There are many different perspectives on education, and it's important to listen to all sides before making a decision." The former governor's public message has been consistent, emphasizing the need for better funding and support for schools across the state.

Thehearings have been contentious, with Harris facing opposition from various groups, including teachers, parents, and business leaders. Some believe Harris's proposals do not go far enough, while others argue they are too radical.

Despite the challenges, Harris remains optimistic about the future of education in Oklahoma. "We have a lot of work to do, but I believe we can make real progress," he said. "It's just a matter of finding the right balance and working together to achieve our goals."

Returning on the progress of the three major downtown projects in Oklahoma City, including the Civic Center complex, the B&J Bank Building, and the Bok Hotel and Convention Center, Thursday, said Mr. J. N. Taylor, the project coordinator for the Municipal Corporation. Mr. Taylor said that the B&J Bank Building will be completed in the fall of 1966, and that the Civic Center complex, which includes the auditorium, convention center, and civic library, will be completed by the spring of 1967.

The Bok Hotel and Convention Center will be completed in the spring of 1968, Mr. Taylor said. The project will include a hotel with 500 rooms, a convention center with space for 3,000 people, a civic library, and a multipurpose auditorium with seating for 5,000 people.

Zone Changes Get Approval

By RONNIE CLAY

The Oklahoma City Planning Commission voted unanimously Thursday to approve changes in zoning classifications in downtown Oklahoma City. The changes include the rezoning of two parking complexes.

The commission acted on a recommendation from the Oklahoma City Planning Board, which had been presented by the Downtown Redevelopment Council. The council had recommended the rezoning of two parking complexes in downtown Oklahoma City.

The commission approved the rezoning of the two parking complexes, which will allow the development of new office buildings, retail spaces, and restaurants in downtown Oklahoma City.

Envoys To Meet POW Wives

The four World War II POWs who were decorated for bravery will visit the wives of American prisoners of war in the Far East on a three-week Goodwill tour of the United States beginning October 9.

The men are: Capt. John J. Pikula, who was a pilot in the Army Air Forces, and Capt. John J. Urban, a Navy pilot; Capt. Emil J. Kapaun, a Catholic priest and a chaplain to the Marines; and Maj. Emil Kapaun, a Korean War prisoner of war who later died in a North Korean camp.

They will travel across the country on their Goodwill tour, which will take them to Washington, D.C., New York, Chicago, and San Francisco. They will also visit with POWs and their families at various bases and centers throughout the United States.

The tour is sponsored by the American Red Cross and the National Association of War Displaced Persons, which is a group of veterans and family members of POWs.

The four men were decorated for their bravery during their capture and imprisonment in the Far East. Captain Pikula and Captain Urban were awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, while Captain Kapaun was awarded the Silver Star and the Purple Heart with the Oak Leaf Cluster. Major Kapaun was awarded the Bronze Star with the Oak Leaf Cluster.

The men will be accompanied by soldiers and sailors who also served in the Far East during the war. They will visit with their families and friends, and will speak to groups of veterans and their families about their experiences as POWs.

The tour is expected to raise awareness of the experiences of POWs and their families, and to honor the men for their bravery and dedication.

The four men will return to the United States on November 1.
