"Oh, you're bad, you're bad," says Elsie Kaine, 21, of West Long Branch, N.J. "You've been acting like the cutest mop of the New York Jets and the cute way you express yourself on TV...I want to see him dance..."

"It's not true!" says Mike Hanford, the Jets' publicist. "Elsie is just a friend."

Big Eight Games May Drop Hockey

Big Eight coaches are meeting in Denver today to vote on the fate of the hockey tournament. If the conference decides to scrap the event it will be the first time the Big Eight has dropped hockey in 25 years. Coach Hal Ray, former University of Denver hockey coach, is scheduled to meet with the coaches this week to discuss the possibility of the hockey tournament continuing.

Blazers Eye Revenge At Omaha

Detroit coach Al Aron, a former assistant to Bob Knight at Indiana, has taken the concept of the "Battle of the Plains" to a new level this season. Aron has given the team a more aggressive attitude for the game against Nebraska at Omaha, and the results have been noticeable. Detroit won by a score of 55-52.

Basketball Tournament Changes

The Southwest Conference has made some changes in the tournament format. The University of Texas will host the tournament in Dallas, and the winner will be decided by the best of three games. However, the tournament will still be held in Dallas.

18 Cityans Ulcer Forced Sid Gillman Set For Elk Hunts

Two Sooner Doubtful; Bell Returns

JIM MURRAY

Two players for the University of Oklahoma are questionable for the game against Missouri. The players are Larry Wall, a guard, and Richard Smith, a forward. If they are unable to play, it will be a big blow for the Sooners. However, coach Pepper Rodgers has announced that Steve Bell, who missed the last two games due to a knee injury, will return to the team.

Spending inflates inflation.

When prices go up, people tend to buy less. When people buy less, prices go up. And so on. This is a vicious cycle. To break it, we need to control the supply of money. This can be done by placing a ceiling on interest rates, which will reduce the amount of money people can lent and saved.
