Rebuff To The Young

You want to change what is wrong with society, get out and act, don't just talk about it. Work with the population and the government. Any radical will tell you that.

It is what the wise, older generation who were with the movement when it was new and who have lived through almost every social revolution to date. They have a wealth of experience that you will never value enough.

A moral issue is at stake here. This is not an issue of a position on a political spectrum. The issue is an issue of whether or not you want to change our country for the better.

The view of this decision is that the young are acting responsibly and will continue to act responsibly. They are capable of making decisions based on the facts, not just on their emotions. They are capable of understanding the consequences of their actions.

This is a decision that is in the best interest of this country and its future. It is a decision that is made with the future of this country in mind.

It is a decision that is made with the best interests of this country in mind. It is a decision that will benefit this country for years to come.

The view of this decision is that the young are acting responsibly and will continue to act responsibly. They are capable of making decisions based on the facts, not just on their emotions. They are capable of understanding the consequences of their actions.

A Reminder

Billy Graham

You have a right to decide what you want to believe. You have a right to your own opinions. But you also have a responsibility to make sure that those opinions are based on facts, not just on emotions. You have a responsibility to make sure that those opinions are based on understanding the consequences of your actions.

The view of this decision is that the young are acting responsibly and will continue to act responsibly. They are capable of making decisions based on the facts, not just on their emotions. They are capable of understanding the consequences of their actions.

State's Constitution Reflects Bill Murray

It is looking more and more likely that the state of Oklahoma will have a new constitution. The trend of the people is definitely in favor of a new constitution. The present one is considered to be too old-fashioned, too rigid, and too difficult to understand. The people want something that is more flexible, more adaptable to modern conditions.

Conservationists Fear Park Loss

Re: WOLF VON KUMMER

The recent decision by the state to designate the new state park as a "conservation park" has alarmed many conservationists.

The new designation means that the park will be closed to the public and will be used for conservation purposes. This has raised concerns among conservationists who fear that the park will be ignored and neglected.

The state has assured that the park will be managed with the best conservation practices. However, conservationists argue that the park's potential for recreation and education is being squandered.

At the same time, the state has also announced plans to build a new state park in the area. Conservationists fear that this could lead to a loss of funding and resources for the new state park.

In conclusion, the new state park designation has sparked concerns among conservationists. They urge the state to reconsider its decision and ensure that the park is managed in a way that preserves its natural beauty and provides educational opportunities.
