Pentagon Verify's POW List
WASHINGTON, D.C. — The Department of Defense announced Tuesday that it has identified a total of 507 personnel who were captured and detained by the Taliban during the 2021 evacuation from Afghanistan. The list includes 101 military personnel and 406 civilians. Of those detained, 230 were American citizens, 217 were Afghan nationals, and 60 were other nationalities. A Department of Defense spokesperson said that the list is ongoing and that there may be additional personnel who were not yet identified. The Department of Defense has not released any further details about the conditions of those detained or any plans to release them. The list was made available to the public through the Department of Defense's official website. The Department of Defense has been under increasing pressure from U.S. lawmakers and organizations to provide more information about the fate of the personnel who were detained during the evacuation.

Morbid Play Keeps Her Daughter Away

The midnight chill of Death’s house is a place where the heart can rest. A morbid play keeps her daughter away. The play is a story of a young woman who, after losing her mother, is forced to leave her hometown and live in a small, isolated community. The community is run by a group of elderly women who have been entrusted with the care of the dead. The young woman soon realizes that the women are not as kind as they seem and that they are hiding a dark secret. The play is a haunting exploration of the power of the dead and the fear it can instill in the living.

Jose Enjoy A Full Life

In the twilight of life, Jose enjoys a full life. Born in 1945, Jose was a child prodigy who quickly rose to fame and became a cultural icon. Despite facing many challenges, Jose never lost his passion for music and continued to perform and record until his death in 2006. His legacy lives on through his music and his dedication to his family and his community. Jose’s story is a testament to the power of perseverance and the importance of following one’s dreams.

In Arkansas They Don’t Get Stars In Their Eyes

The play is set in the small town of Morwood, Arkansas, where the streets are lined with brightly colored flowers and the air is thick with the scent of fresh baked bread. The town is a haven for the morbidly inclined, and it is said that those who dare to step outside of their houses at night will see stars in their eyes. The play follows the story of a young woman who, after losing her mother, is forced to leave her hometown and live in the town. The woman soon realizes that the townspeople are not as kind as they seem and that they are hiding a dark secret. The play is a haunting exploration of the power of the dead and the fear it can instill in the living.

Bogey's 'Double' Analyzes His Appeal

By ROBERT HOFFMANN

NEW YORK—Bogart, who is 58 years old, has never been more popular than he is now. His appeal is not only as a movie star but also as a person. He is a complex man, with a rich personal life and a complex career. His fans, both young and old, adore him for his acting prowess, his wit, and his humanity. His double for this role is more than just a stuntman. He is a respected actor in his own right. The double's job is not only to look like Bogart but also to capture his unique character and style. This double is a master of mimicry, able to reproduce Bogart's voice, mannerisms, and even his subtle facial expressions. The double's performance is seamless, allowing viewers to suspend their disbelief and immerse themselves in the film. The double's dedication to the role is evident in every scene, from the intense conversations with Lovey, to the lighter moments with the other characters. The double's effort is a testament to the power of performance and the magic of cinema. The double's work is a reminder that Bogart's legacy lives on, and that his fans will always cherish his contributions to cinema.

Vincent Price is still a very big name as he moves on into a new project. He is best known for his work in B-movies but has also appeared in some major films. Price has recently signed on to star in a new horror film, which is set to be released next year. His role in the film is said to be a dark and gritty one, unlike his previous roles. Price is excited about the project and has been working hard to prepare for his role.

Geostieve Gilles

The film was a low budget production and every man was conscientious in his work. The film was shot in a small studio in Hollywood, and the crew worked long hours to complete the film. The lead actress, Geostieve Gilles, was praised for her performance, which was said to be captivating and emotional. The film was well-received by critics and is expected to do well at the box office.

Raquel Sold On Hot One

By DICK KLUGER

In 1949, the film industry was in a state of flux. The "Golden Age" of Hollywood was coming to an end, and the transition to "talkies" was in full swing. Despite these changes, Raquel Welch was a sensation. Her performance in the film "Myra" captured the attention of the public and solidified her status as a Hollywood star. Welch's raw talent and beauty made her a force to be reckoned with, and her success paved the way for future generations of actresses.

John Cassavetes Rolls Film Dice Again

By RICHARD BERRIER

Hollywood - Renowned director John Cassavetes recently released his latest film, "A Woman Under the Influence," which received critical acclaim. Cassavetes, known for his unique style and portrayal of complex characters, has once again delivered a thought-provoking film that challenges the viewer to explore uncomfortable truths. This film follows the story of a woman whose life is spiraling out of control and the effects it has on her family. Cassavetes' dedication to his craft is evident in every frame, and his ability to capture the essence of human emotion is unparalleled. With "A Woman Under the Influence," Cassavetes continues to push the boundaries of what is possible in film.

The Brethren Theatre, located in 1939 as one of the present production sites of the university was occasioned in 1981 as the university wanted to redevelop the site for a new auditorium. The new auditorium will be constructed on the site of the old theatre, which will be demolished in the near future.

OU Researchers Eye Vote Pattern

The Oklahoma University researchers are eyeing the vote pattern in the state for the upcoming election. The researchers are conducting a study to determine the factors that influence voter behavior and predict the outcomes of the election. The study will be conducted using a combination of qualitative and quantitative research methods.

DeMolay Sweetheart To Be Crowned Here

The Oklahoma chapter of DeMolay will be awarding its first Sweetheart title this year. The competition will be held at the Oklahoma City Hotel on Friday and Saturday. The event will include a talent competition and the Sweetheart pageant. The current Sweetheart is Miss Olivia Ramer, who污泥 from a week ago. The new Sweetheart will be crowned on Saturday, May 28, at 7:00 p.m. in the hotel's main ballroom. The competition is open to all female students in the Oklahoma City area. The current Sweetheart is Miss Olivia Ramer, who污泥 from a week ago. The new Sweetheart will be crowned on Saturday, May 28, at 7:00 p.m. in the hotel's main ballroom. The competition is open to all female students in the Oklahoma City area.

Four Tinker Employees Rewarded

Four employees of Tinker Air Force Base have been awarded $500 scholarships. The employees, who have been identified as John Smith, Jane Doe, John Doe, and Jane Smith, were selected from a pool of 50 applicants. The scholarships are part of a program sponsored by the base's employee benefits department. The employees were selected based on their performance and contributions to the base. The scholarships will be used to further their education and help them achieve their career goals.

City Senior Wins $500 Scholarship

City High School senior John Smith has won a $500 scholarship from the local chapter of the National Honor Society. John has been a member of the honor society for four years and has maintained a perfect 4.0 GPA throughout his high school career. He has also been involved in a variety of extracurricular activities, including volunteering at the local hospital and participating in the school's debate team. The scholarship will be used to help pay for college tuition and books.

Pre-Enrolment Slated At OCU

Pre-enrolment for Oklahoma City University will be held on Friday, May 28, at 9:00 a.m. in the university's main auditorium. The event is open to all high school seniors and their parents. The enrolment process will include a presentation on the university's programs and facilities, followed by a question-and-answer session. The enrolment fee is $50 per person and must be paid in advance. The deadline for enrolment is Friday, June 4. For more information, contact the university's admissions office at 405-956-6250.

Low Bid Is Accepted For Junior College

The low bid for construction of a new junior college has been accepted by the school's board of trustees. The contractor, who could not be named for legal reasons, submitted a bid of $2.5 million for the project. The new college is expected to open in the fall of 2022 and will serve students from a 50-mile radius. The college will offer associate degrees in a variety of fields, including business, science, and technology.

Save Lives

Louis M. LeBlanc (left) and Spud Webster show off the three-dimensional model of the ‘Doll’ which is designed to help firemen save more and more lives. The Doll is displayed at the Oklahoma City Fire Department headquarters.

The Doll is a three-dimensional model of a human body. When a fireman attempts to save a life, the Doll can be used to show the fireman the correct way to remove the victim from the situation.

Writers Back Banished Pal

A group of writers has backed a banishment order for a man who was recently arrested on charges of murder. The writers, who are members of the Oklahoma City News Writers Association, have asked for the banishment order to be overturned.
