Tearful Parents Hope, Pray For Success Of Surgery

By JOE FLOWERS

A tearful mother dined with her son in a state of despair and hope Saturday afternoon that vimagination surgery of each hand had been completed.

"He's going to be fine," said the mother, who declined to give her name, as she sat with her son at the bedside of the 18-year-old boy in a hospital ward.

"It's a miracle," she said. "I'm just grateful." The boy, who was not identified, was undergoing surgery for a birth defect called Clubfoot, at the University Hospital. The operation was performed by Dr. Charles H. Hufnagel, a pediatric orthopedic surgeon.

"He's going to be fine," the mother said, wiping tears from her eyes.

"It's a miracle," she said. "I'm just grateful."
Thieves Snuffing Out Christmas Lighting

By RICHARD E. BURTON

Ornament Thieves, No 'Light' Matter

Thefts, occurring within Christmas lighting were the result of vandalizing or outright theft of bulbs and other components of the decorations. "Thefts of Christmas lights have become a significant problem," said a police official. "We've had reports of lights being stolen from homes and businesses throughout the city." Police are advising residents to secure their lighting displays with locks or other security measures. "We're seeing an increase in thefts," another police official said. "We urge the public to be vigilant and report any suspicious activity." Thefts have occurred during both day and night, with some incidents reported as early as November and as late as December. "Thefts of Christmas lights can create a significant problem," a police official said. "We're urging the public to be aware of the potential for theft and to take reasonable precautions to protect their lighting displays." Thefts have been reported in both public and private settings, with some incidents occurring in broad daylight. "We've had reports of lights being stolen from public displays," a police official said. "We're urging the public to be aware of these incidents and to report any suspicious activity to the police." Thefts have occurred in a variety of locations, including parks, malls, and public buildings. "We've had reports of lights being stolen from public displays," a police official said. Footnotes

When money means more than a weekly allowance

In addition to keeping the house and the children\'s room clean, it is necessary to keep the house\'s financial records in good order. This is especially true for families with a limited income. The household budget is usually based on the income of the family and the expenses that must be covered. The weekly allowance is then determined based on the remaining income.

Lawson Doubts Ban On Pistols Practical

"Practically none of that is a power gun," he said. "The only gun I can see is the short-barreled pistol, and perhaps a few more than a half-dozen people would be armed." He said that even a right to arm himself wasn't enough if you couldn't use it, and argued that "the right to bear arms" isn't a protected right in the Constitution because it is not mentioned specifically in the Bill of Rights.
