State Gets World's Largest Plane

Performance Of C5 Defended By Official

By PAUL CARTER

ALCONA - A Lockheed official, speaking at Alcon

Air Force Base near the microlite C5 cargo plane that has completed its first operational flight, officially declared the performance of the plane as "excellent." The occasion was the delivery of the first operational C5 cargo plane to the 309th Strategic Wing at Alcon Air Force Base. He was Col. Robert W. Thompson, commander of the 309th Strategic Wing.

In his speech, Col. Thompson said that the C5's

"excellent" performance had been demonstrated on its first flight and that the plane would be turned over to the military in the near future.

The C5 is a large, four-engine, long-range cargo plane that can carry up to 100 tons of cargo over a distance of 10,000 miles. It is expected to be used for military transport and for the delivery of humanitarian aid to remote areas.

The C5 is also expected to play a key role in the military's global reach, allowing for the rapid deployment of forces in response to emergencies around the world.

Public Not Alerted To Problem

One of the most important pieces of information about a problem is whether or not the public is aware of it. When a problem is not well-known, it is easier for people to ignore it and avoid taking action. This can lead to a lack of resources being allocated to solving the problem, and a lack of public support for any proposed solutions.

A bill that will establish national parks in the United States has been introduced in Congress. The bill would establish new parks in areas that are currently protected under state laws, but not federally. This would give the public more opportunities to enjoy nature and learn about our country's history.

On the state level, we have been focusing on traffic safety. The state government has implemented a new law that requires all drivers to wear seat belts while driving. This is a positive step forward, but we must continue to educate the public about the importance of safety on the roads.

Traffic Scottlaws, Beware

Many drivers are unaware of the consequences of traffic violations. They may think that a small fine is not worth the trouble of going to court. However, if a driver is caught with a single traffic violation, they could be faced with serious penalties, including a license suspension or even imprisonment.

One of the most common traffic violations is speeding. Drivers who exceed the speed limit are more likely to cause accidents and injuries. The state government has implemented a new law that increases the penalties for speeding above the limit.

State Editors Say

We encourage everyone to take traffic safety seriously. The state government has implemented new laws to make our roads safer, but we must all play our part to ensure that these laws are effective.

'Spirit' Is Word At School

By ROBERT R. THOMAS

Southeastern State College

The Southeastern State College campus, as seen from the air, is a picturesque collage of green and gold. The university's 1,400-acre campus is located in the heart of Oklahoma's rich agricultural and oil-producing region. With its rolling hills and acres of farmland, it provides a serene and beautiful setting for its students. The college offers a wide range of undergraduate and graduate programs, including agriculture, business, education, and the liberal arts. Its facilities include a state-of-the-art library, modern classrooms, and a bustling campus life. As the college moves ahead, its students are encouraged to think critically, work hard, and embrace the 'spirit' of the institution. The campus is also known for its strong community involvement and its commitment to providing a quality education to all its students. The college has a dedicated faculty and staff who are committed to helping students achieve their academic and personal goals. As the college continues to grow and evolve, it remains true to its mission of providing an excellent education and a strong spiritual foundation for its students. (continued on next page)

By JIM BOWLES

Oklahoma City Journal

Construction of the new Rose Junior College hospital is expected to begin shortly. The college is seeking approval from the state for the project, which will include a 120-bed care facility and a 20-bed intensive care unit. The hospital will be located on the college's campus in Oklahoma City. The project is estimated to cost $15 million and is expected to take about two years to complete. The college has been working with state and local officials to ensure that the project is completed in a timely and cost-effective manner. The hospital will provide much-needed services to the local community, offering a wide range of medical services and expertise. The college is committed to providing a quality education and healthcare services to its students and the community. (continued on next page)

Support for the Arts in Georgia

Georgia recently received a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts to support the arts in the state. The grant will be used to fund various arts programs and projects, including galleries, museums, and performance venues. The grant is a significant milestone for the arts community in Georgia and will help to further promote and support the arts in the state.

Support for Veterans

The Department of Veterans Affairs has announced a new program to provide support for veterans who are struggling with addiction. The program will provide counseling, medication, and other services to help veterans overcome addiction. The program is expected to be funded through a grant from the Department of Health and Human Services.

Arthur Fiedler 'Makes Music' In Host's Kitchen

Arthur Fiedler, the conductor of the Boston Pops Orchestra, was the guest of honor at a special dinner at the home of Mrs. J. Joseph LaGuardia, the former mayor of New York City. The meal, which was prepared by Mrs. LaGuardia, consisted of an omelette made with a special blend of herbs and spices. The omelette was served with a side of fresh vegetables and a glass of white wine. The guests were also treated to a performance by the Boston Pops Orchestra, which was conducted by Mr. Fiedler. The evening was a huge success, and Mr. Fiedler was赞誉 for his musical talent.
OBU Plans Major Changes In Studies For '70's

The Oklahoma Baptist University in Shawnee is planning a major change in its campus layout to accommodate the needs of the future. The university is in the process of constructing a new dormitory, the Johnson Hall, which will be completed in the fall of 1970. The new dormitory will provide additional housing for the increasing number of students attending the university. The university is also planning to expand its library and improve its facilities for students. The changes are part of the university's long-range plan to provide a modern and well-equipped campus for its students. The university is also planning to expand its academic programs and offer new courses to meet the needs of its students. The changes will be implemented over the next few years, and the university is looking forward to a bright future.

Magnavox asks:

Magnavox — the most magnificent GIFT of all!

The First Christmas Cookie

We were on December 24th, and all Present.

As I sat in my chair quietly, I heard the chiming of the clock. The room was filled with the warmth of the fireplace and the aroma of lavender and spice.

Surely the Christmas cookies would soon be ready as Santa and his elves worked tirelessly to prepare the treats. I realized that the night was perfect for a Christmas cookie.

My family was all dressed up, and the house was decorated with all the usual festivity. The Christmas tree was lit with all its lights, and the beautiful ornaments shone like precious stones.

I walked over to the kitchen, and the aroma of cooking filled the air. My mother was hard at work, baking some of the best Christmas cookies I've ever tasted.

My father sat at the table, sipping his favorite hot chocolate, his face beaming with excitement. He told me about how he used to make cookies as a child and how much he loved them. He told me about the recipe and how it was passed down from generation to generation.

As I watched, I realized how much love and effort went into making these cookies. The dough was rolled out, the icing was mixed, and the cookies were shaped. Each cookie was carefully placed on a tray, eagerly awaiting the chance to be baked.

The kitchen filled with the sweet smell of cookies baking. The dough was perfection, and the icing was just right. The cookies were baked until they were golden brown, and the icing was piped onto them, creating a beautiful design.

I helped my mother take the cookies out of the oven and arrange them on a beautiful plate. We placed it on the table, and the rest of the family gathered around to enjoy the delicious cookies.

As we ate them, my father told me stories about the past and how the family had celebrated Christmas in the past. My mother added her touch of tradition by singing Christmas carols.

Through the night, we enjoyed the delicious cookies, and I realized how much love and effort went into making them. The tradition of making Christmas cookies will always be a special part of our family's Christmas celebrations.

That year, I decided to make Christmas cookies for my family. I followed the recipe, and they turned out just as delicious as the ones we had shared. The tradition of making Christmas cookies will always be a special part of our Christmas celebrations.
