NY Premiers Are Touchy

by Joyce Mancinello

While the complete story of the 9th Annual New York Film Festival was not revealed to the public, there were certain touches that made the press aware of the situation. The opening night screening of "Finnerty's" was marred by a mysterious hitch, the press was informed that the film had been re-shown several times before its final showing. This was said to be due to technical difficulties, but the exact nature of the problem was not disclosed. The atmosphere at the festival was generally tense, with many feeling that the organizers were trying to control the flow of information to the press.

Salute Set For Mothers, Wives Here

By William H. Jernigan

Women set for a day of special attention at the 9th Annual New York Film Festival were honored at a dinner at the Waldorf Astoria. The event was chaired by Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and included a special screening of "Mother," a Turkish film that has been praised for its portrayal of family life. The festival itself has been marred by controversy, with some feeling that the selection of films is biased against certain countries.

David Craighead

OU Exhibit To Feature Indian Toys

A new exhibit at the University of Oklahoma will feature Indian toys and artifacts from the 19th century. The exhibit, which is being organized by David Craighead, will include a variety of objects, including dolls, masks, and musical instruments. Craighead is a well-known scholar of Native American culture, and his work has been widely recognized for its contributions to the field of anthropology.

OU Professor To Make Speech

By William H. Jernigan

Dr. John Smith, an OU professor, will make a speech at the 9th Annual New York Film Festival. The speech, which will be held at the Waldorf Astoria, will focus on the role of film in modern society. Smith is a respected scholar of film studies, and his work has been widely published in leading academic journals.
