Traffic Death Rate Reaches New Low

The Oklahoma Journal

VIII 8.4.11

Traffic death rate of persons killed per vehicle mile traveled reached all-time low in 1940, according to preliminary figures released by the U.S. Department of Commerce. The rate of 0.084 deaths per million vehicle miles traveled was the lowest since 1925, and well below the 1939 rate of 0.112. The drop in the death rate is attributed to several factors, including better road design and increased use of seat belts.

More Hope Than Despair

The pendulum swings at two-month intervals, but a new cycle has started, and the mood is more positive. The United States and Pakistan have agreed to a cease-fire in their border war, and there is hope that a permanent solution can be found. The United States has offered to mediate the conflict, and the United Nations has pledged to support a peacekeeping mission. This is a significant step towards peace and stability in the region.

The PEOPLE'S Voice

United Nations

The United Nations has been instrumental in bringing the parties together for peace talks. The United Nations Secretary-General has urged both sides to make every effort to achieve a lasting peace. The Secretary-General has also called for an immediate ceasefire and the withdrawal of all troops from the border area.

Oklahomans Numerous

NORMAN, Okla. - Several Oklahomans have come forward to speak out about the recent political events in their state.

"I am sick and tired of hearing about the political corruption," said John Smith, a resident of Oklahoma City. "We need real change, and we need it now."

Another resident, Sarah Johnson, echoed Smith's sentiment, saying, "The system is broken, and we need to fix it."

Mother Wipes Out Family

OVID CHRISTI, too (left) The quiet mother of 2 Pennsylvania military seniors, who shot her children and husband and four friends in as many family and social events last week, said she felt "deprived" by the court's decision to bar her from seeing her 2-year-old son.

Police said she has no plans to rejoin the 2-year-old son, who was left by the deputy American military police, according to the family's lawyer, who called the youngsters "beautiful.

"It's a terrible thing," the lawyer said.

Another neighbor who knew the family, who were named in the court's decision, said about 1:30 Friday that it was a "very sad day" for the family.
