First Christian Church's Pastor Resigns

By FRANK PIPPIN

Drew Pippin, first pastor of the First Christian Church, Oklahoma City, resigned last week.

"We are hissing for some type of actions as to which the church would do," Pippin said. "Drew Pippin, former pastor of the First Christian Church, Oklahoma City, resigned last week.

"The reason is that the church is in a state of turmoil and confusion," Pippin said. "There has been a lack of leadership and direction in the church.""

Hall Wants Delegates To Go Uncommitted

By ROBERT L. STRAUS

The leading candidates are well aware that the 1968 presidential race enters a critical phase this week. Democratic leaders are determined to make it a contest of ideas, not personalities, and they have outlined a series of events designed to that end.

This week, a series of events is planned to highlight the issues and foster a debate among the candidates. These include a series of debates, a series of town meetings, and a series of forums. The candidates will be asked to discuss their positions on a range of issues, including foreign policy, domestic policy, and economic policy.

The first debate will take place on Tuesday, with candidates Bush and Johnson facing off. The second debate will be held on Thursday, with candidates Kennedy and Johnson facing off. The third debate will be held on Saturday, with candidates Johnson and Rutland facing off.

The town meetings will be held on Monday and Wednesday, with candidates Johnson and Rutland facing off. The forums will be held on Thursday and Saturday, with candidates Johnson and Rutland facing off.

The candidates are expected to be well-prepared for these events, as they have been working hard to prepare for the campaign. They have been meeting with advisors and campaign staff, and they have been working on speeches and statements.

Thank You Mid-America!

Again, we enter the new year as the largest bank in Oklahoma in total deposits. In fact, it's the first time any Oklahoma Bank has reported year-end deposits in excess of 500 million dollars, (the actual figure was $502,845,735.39).

But, mere dollars and cents are only statistical measures of a bank's usefulness. In reaching this financial milestone, we are mindful that such achievement is possible only through superior customer service — to which philosophy we rededicate ourselves.

‘New Legs’ Make Recycled Shorts Original Renovation

Dear Marilyn: I have a pair of shorts that I would like to recycle into new pants. They are too short on me and I don’t want to give them away. Can you suggest any ideas for recycling them into something else?

Marilyn: Recycling shorts into new pants is a great way to repurpose clothing. Here’s a simple idea:

1. Determine what style of pants you want to create.
2. Measure the shorts to find the length you need.
3. Cut off the shorts at the desired length.
4. Refold the shorts to create the desired style of pants.
5. Hem the edges if necessary.

This method can be used for any type of shorts, whether casual or formal. Good luck with your recycling project!

'Rolling Stone' Keeps Rolling Along As Bible Of America's Counter-Cults

By ERIC RYAN

SAY Hallelujah - inside the offices of Rolling Stone Magazine (which, you'll be happy to hear, has a lovely shade of 24K gold not reserved exclusively for the rich and famous), the Reverend John F. Kennedy's pre-electoral call for a new generation of leaders rings true as never before. The Reverend's call to arms resonates with the magazine's readership, a loyal and steadfast group known for its love of the counterculture and its commitment to the counterculture.

The counterculture is alive and well at Rolling Stone, where the editorial staff is led by the charismatic and visionary Bob Dylan. Under his guidance, the magazine has become a beacon of hope and inspiration for a generation of young people seeking to break free from the constraints of mainstream society.

Dylan's influence is evident in every page of the magazine, from the cutting-edge music reviews to the thought-provoking articles on politics and culture. The staff at Rolling Stone is dedicated to providing a platform for the voices of the marginalized and the disenfranchised, and to promoting a world where everyone has a voice.

But Rolling Stone is not just for the counterculture. The magazine has a loyal following among the mainstream as well, thanks to its high-quality journalism and its commitment to excellence. Whether you're a fan of rock and roll or just looking for something new to read, Rolling Stone has something for everyone.

So, the next time you pick up a copy of Rolling Stone, remember that you're not just reading a magazine. You're joining a community of like-minded individuals who are working together to create a better world. And that's something to be proud of.

Greene Still Enjoys Doing 'Bonanza' Series

Juliet Mills Won't Go Back Home Again

Hollywood — (Cal.) — Tied now in a dispute over her ability to return to the United States, actress Juliet Mills is not sure when the battle will be over. Mills, who is a British citizen, is married to actor John Mills, and the couple have three children. Mills' husband is a U.S. citizen and has been living in the United States for the past few years. The Mills' marriage is the subject of an ongoing legal battle between Mills and her husband. Mills has been living in England, where she was born and raised, and she has been fighting to return to the United States to be with her family. The case has been in court for several months, and it is not clear when a decision will be made.

Greene Still Enjoys Doing 'Bonanza' Series

By IRIS LAMNIS

Mark Greene hasn't been seen on "Bonanza" since 1975 when he left the show in a dispute with the producers. But the actor has been keeping busy with other projects, including a new movie. Greene, who is a native of Indiana, is a well-known actor in the industry and has appeared in numerous films and television shows. He is currently working on a new movie that is scheduled to be released later this year. Greene's fans are excited about his return to "Bonanza," and they are eagerly anticipating his next appearance on the show.

Lora Greene

"As they walk a day in the sun, I think to myself, 'I still have 'Bonanza' in my heart.' The show is a part of me, and it always will be. 'Bonanza' is a show that means a lot to me, and I still care about it. I think about the characters and the stories, and it makes me happy. "Bonanza" is a show that has been a part of my life for so long, and I am still enjoying it."

"I still have a few episodes left to do, and I am looking forward to them. I think about the characters and the stories, and it makes me happy. "Bonanza" is a show that has been a part of my life for so long, and I am still enjoying it."

How to Survive—and Maybe Even Win—

By T.K. Irwin

If your day-to-day routine seems as frustrating and hectic as it is now, imagine how much more difficult it would be for someone who is not as fortunate as you. Here are seven cardinal rules laid down by industrial psychologists and other authorities to help you stay on top of today's more pressured living.

"A Barking Dog May Be All You Need—And All You Can Handle"

By Patricia Ann

The police chief of a large telephone community recently advised his men that in the past he had only one police dog, and that his dog was useless. Now he has several police dogs, and he said that in the past he had only one police dog, and that his dog was useless. Now he has several police dogs, and he said that they were all excellent. The chief has now found that the dogs are very useful in句子

NEW Kellogg's DANISH GO-ROUNDS.

...lighter crust and more filling

The news from Kellogg's is all about Danish Go-Rounds pastry. And it's all good news. Good tasting, that is. They've made a lighter pastry crust, added more filling...and come up with a new Chocolate Fudge flavor. Imagine all that delicious taste plus 6 important vitamins and iron.

For the kids, with breakfast, or for you with a cup of coffee, new Danish Go-Rounds are a real treat.

Four great flavors: Blueberry, Strawberry, Brown Sugar-Cinnamon...and new Chocolate Fudge.
...What Every Cook Should Know About Pasta

4. Measure the right amount of water. Use 1 quart of water to 1 lb. of dry pasta. Bring water to a boil. Add salt if desired. Cook pasta 2-3 minutes longer than recommended. Rinse under cold water and drain.

5. Cook pasta in boiling water. Add salt to taste. Do not overcook. Pasta should be al dente. Drain well and serve immediately.

6. Serve pasta with a variety of sauces. Fresh, chopped tomatoes, basil, and garlic make a delicious sauce. Vary the type of sauce to suit your taste.

7. Store pasta in a dry, cool place. Avoid direct sunlight. Pasta will keep its flavor and texture for several months.

8. Freeze unused pasta for future use. Place in freezer bags and freeze for up to 6 months. Defrost in the refrigerator or microwave before cooking.

9. Use pasta to make soups and stews. Add pasta to soups and stews just before serving. This will prevent the pasta from becoming mushy.

10. Serve pasta with a variety of meats. Beef, chicken, and turkey are all delicious additions to pasta dishes. Use your imagination and experiment with different combinations.

Do We All Need A Refresher Course In Courtesy?
By John Cameron Swayze

The choice comes to each of us a hundred times a day.
The house machine, the man on the next street, the lady across the hall. "Please." "Thank you." "Excuse me." "May I have your attention, please?"

Our manners are the most important and least noted of our possessions. Is it any wonder we are often met with blank stares, cold shoulders, or even snarls when we attempt to give thought to the courtesies of human contact? If not, then we have failed in our most important job.

Our manners are our best clothes. If they are ruined, nothing else can save us. If we are courteous, if we are considerate of others, if we make a point of being helpful and cheerful, we are always dressed for success.

The house machine is the most practical test of our courtesies. It is at the door, in the elevator, in the bank, at the store, in the office. It is there every day.
And yet, how often do we forget to say "please" and
"thank you"?

The man on the next street is another test. He may be a stranger, but he is still a human being.
We should always remember that. And yet, how often do we forget to smile, to nod, to speak
when we meet him?

The lady across the hall is another test. She is a close friend, a neighbor, a fellow worker. She is there every day. And yet, how often do we forget to be considerate of her, to make a point of being helpful and cheerful?

The house machine, the man on the next street,
the lady across the hall. They are all important tests of our courtesies. They are all important tests of our character.

Pet Corner

Can pets be hurt by mixed cones?

Can you give a pet a mixed cone? Are they really safe?

Mixed cones are a type of edible treat designed for cats. They are made of a mixture of different foods such as cheese, milk, and meat. The mixture is then shaped into a cone and baked until it hardens.

Mixed cones are generally considered safe for cats, but there are some potential risks. One of the major concerns is that mixed cones can be high in fat and calories, which can lead to weight gain if consumed in excess. Additionally, some cats may be allergic to certain ingredients in the mixed cone,
which could cause an allergic reaction.

Overall, mixed cones are considered safe for cats in moderation. However, it's always best to consult with a veterinarian before feeding any new food to your pet to ensure it is appropriate and safe for their specific needs.

How's Your Hearing?

"Oh, it's a freebie. I've got to do a story on hearing loss." The editor-at-large had just given me the assignment of interviewing a man who had been diagnosed with hearing loss. As a journalist, I knew the importance of capturing the essence of the story, but I was also aware of the challenges that come with it. This was especially true when dealing with issues related to health and well-being.

One Man's 10 Rules
For a Happy Marriage

By Leroy Wright

When you were young and your woman was delicate, there was no necessity for the little lady to be overemotional.
But now that we've escaped the Dark Ages, there is no need to soften up just because the man is an emotional girl.

Rule 1: Be there when she needs you. Don't be "just there" or "near her" at all. In fact, maybe you could be a little bit closer.
If you're not, you're not doing your job. If you're not seeing her, you're not seeing her.

Rule 2: Do the laundry. She doesn't want to do it, but you have no choice. If you don't, she'll do it anyway.

Rule 3: Be a good listener. She needs to talk, and you need to listen. If you're not listening, she'll talk about you.

Rule 4: Be a good cook. She wants to eat, and you need to cook for her. If you don't, she'll eat out.

Rule 5: Be a good lover. She needs to be loved, and you need to love her. If you don't, she'll find someone else.

Rule 6: Be a good provider. She needs to feel secure, and you need to provide for her. If you don't,
she'll find someone else.

Rule 7: Be a good provider. She needs to feel secure, and you need to provide for her. If you don't,
she'll find someone else.

Rule 8: Be a good provider. She needs to feel secure, and you need to provide for her. If you don't,
she'll find someone else.

Rule 9: Be a good provider. She needs to feel secure, and you need to provide for her. If you don't,
she'll find someone else.

Rule 10: Be a good provider. She needs to feel secure, and you need to provide for her. If you don't,
she'll find someone else.

It was over 40 years ago, in 1924. I was 16, and my sister was 22. Despite the difference in our ages, we were very close friends.

We were from a religious, responsible family and were careful young women. Picking up strangers was the last thing we'd ever do!

But on the other hand, we were walking home one night when a bag of money fell out of the pocket of a drugstore clerk who was on his day shift. We went on with our trip, but the money seemed to follow us. Finally, we found the man who had lost it. We were very pleased and friendly. We were strong in love and steadfastly loyal. We were a perfect couple.

But as we walked home, we started to wonder if we were in a dangerous situation. So we decided to go to the police station and hand over the money.
And that's how we met.
