Nutrition Beefed Up

Meals 'Engineered'

by Howard Davis

Corporation food planning and "engineered" meals were adopted at a meeting of the Oklahoma City Board of Education yesterday. The board voted to provide maximum nutrition of proteins, vitamins, and minerals, and to encourage and stimulate the participation of businessmen in the administration of the USDA's food and nutrition service.

Clara Ties Minority Hiring To Tax Vote

by Howard English

Clara Leyer, superintendent of schools, said yesterday that the school board would not consider any new tax measure until it had determined whether it would vote to approve or recommend minority hiring. She said this was necessary because of the widespread feeling that the board was not doing its job. The board had already voted to consider a new tax measure, and it was reported that the board would consider it when it met next week.

Book Ban Demanded By Hughes

by Hughes

The book ban demand was made by Mr. Hughes, a member of the Board of Education. He said that the ban was necessary because of the widespread feeling that the board was not doing its job. The board had already voted to consider a new tax measure, and it was reported that the board would consider it when it met next week.

By ELIZABETH LAMBERT

The Victoria and other accessories and evening gowns will be the star attraction of the new misty collection. Being a part of the trend in today's gowns, the misty fabrics will lend a soft touch to any outfit.

The misty collection will include such outfits as the long, floor-length evening gowns, the knee-length evening gowns, and the short, cocktail gowns. These outfits will be tailored to fit the body and accentuate its curves. The misty fabrics will help to hide any imperfections and give the wearer a more confident look.

Privett Hits Changes In Rules

By Paul English

Coach Privett had tried to inoculate the.

Vienna's new football coach, Paul Privett, had tried to put his players on notice early in the season. "This is a new team," Privett had said. "We're going to have to work hard to win games this year."

But after the first two games of the season, Privett's team was sitting at 1-1. They had lost to a powerful rival team, and then had to face another tough opponent. Privett knew that his team was going to have to step up their game if they wanted to turn things around.

"Our players have been working hard," Privett said. "But we need to bring some new strategies to the table."

The changes Privett was planning to implement included a new offensive scheme and a more aggressive defensive approach. Privett also planned to rotate his players more frequently to keep them fresh throughout the game.

"We're going to have to be more flexible on the field," Privett said. "We can't afford to stick to one style of play."

Despite the challenges, Privett was confident that his team could turn things around. "We have a lot of talent on this team," Privett said. "I believe we can make somenoise this season."
